While engaged in the lumber business, about fourteen years ago, I was on top of a pile of lumber about 20 feet leight, when it was upset and I was precipitated up on the ground. Some of the lumber fell on my a nkle and sprained it so badly it was worse than a break. It has troubled me more or leas ever since. When getting in and out of my baggy I had to use my well foot entirely. I got a bottle of Doyle's Liniment and have only used two-thirds of a bottle. My ankle is now as strong as ever it was. Furthermore, my hor se can away. Being hitched too short he axietre hit her heels, the skin was all torn off them. I used the Liniment and in a few day a they were all healed up. COAL PRICES GO UP. The city dealers have advanced the price of coal from $6 to $650 a ton, the increase to go into effect today. The advance, the dealers say, is rendered necessary owing to another raise by the mine owners—the second in two months—the lack of transportation facilities and the increase in the wages of the miners. Some of the merchants have not enough coal in their yards to carry them over a month. It is not expected that the price will advance further.

There is always a pretty good chance to recover an article that has been lost, if you advertise it. But where to advertise it is the serious thought. In every city you will always find one paper ahead of its competitors in these announcements. Take any city ni Ontario, and it is easy to pick out the most prominent paper of this class. In London The Advertiser has a recognized reputation for its classified advertisements. Its continual announcements of the satisfactory results prove its superiority. With the business advertisements there are the results of tests which are continually being made, and in every case The Advertiser is in the front ranks. On Friday Mrs. Durand lost a feather boa, and it was returned to this office by Mrs. McLeod, 726 Colborne street, in answer to an advertisement.

HARRY PHIPPS COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Squire Smyth committed Harry Phipps, a Westminster farmer, for trial yesterday, on a charge of assaulting F. J. Spettigue, of lot 22, con. 1, of the same township. Spettigue was driving three cows, the property of Phipps, to the pound, as they had been trespassing on his property, when the latter met him, and it is alleged threatened to smash every bone in his body if he did not let the cattle go. Phipps also caught hold af Spettigue and called him a name. The defense claimed that the Spettigue property was not properly fenced in, and that Spettigue was ill-using the cattle when Phipps interfered. The latter also denies that he assaulted Spettigue. He gave a brief synopsis of the causes which led up to the present dispute, giving, in outline, the history of the Boers and the magnificent natural resources of -The Winnipeg Telegram of the 26th their country, and illustrating all by views of the colony. A recitation was uring the evening by Miss Dobie. The lecture was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the church.

School and Outside Doctors

Come to Terms. School Gets the Hospital for Seven Months and the Others for Five Months.

The hospital trust met yesterday afternoon and settled the long-standing dispute between the doctors connected with the Medical School and the outsiders. It was settled by a compromise, each side conceding one month of their original claims. The school doctors wanted the use of the hospital for eight months of the year, or during the school term, in order to give students the advantage of the clinics. The Wilson faction, composed of doctors not connected with the school, and having the mayor for its head, demanded an equal division, the school to have six months and the others to have six months. Upon Mr. Purdom's motion, seconded by Mr. McCormick, the faculty of the Medical School shall have exclusive use of the hospital for seven months, from October to April, inclusive, and shall nominate the hospital staff for that term; the physicians outside the school shall have the exclusive right to nominate the staff for the remaining five months; the Medical School faculty shall have the privilege of the hospital to examine students in clinics in May; and any patient may call in any doctor not on the staff by giving a reason satisfactory to the superintendent.

Mayor Wilson assented to this arrangement grudgingly and after a great deal of acrimonious bickering. Those present were: Col. Lewis (chairman), Mr. Thomas McCormick, Mr. Thomas H. Purdom, Q.C., Mayor Wilson and Mr. James Gilmour, M.P.,

and Superintendent Balfour.
Dr. Meek and Dr. Hodge were also present as a delegation from the Med-ical School staff. Dr. Hodge said, re-garding the proposed compromise, that if it was in the best interests of the patients and of the citizens at large, the school was quite willing to accept The hospital staff, under the proposed arrangement, would consist of all the doctors in the city.

The faculty of the college could not, however, bring men to London for eight months, and give them only six months' instruction. The men who gave the clinics must be responsible to the faculty. No other college did otherwise. It was not a question of what was best for the Medical School or for the doctors, but for the patients and for the citizens generally. In answer to questions, Dr. Hodge said it had been the custom to offer no objection to patients having any doctor they chose where the reason was special. In the infectious ward any medical man might attend his patient, whether paying or not. As a matter of fact, the patient who was sent in, and not likely to pay, dropped onto the staff doctor. The hospital staff was always glad to have any medical man talk over cases with them and consult. The only case he had known this year of a request being made by a patient for another doctor was a case of typhoid fever. The doctor attended the patient about a week, and then turned him over to himself (Dr. Hodge). "Suppose I had not been good-netured enough to attend that patient?" Dr. Hodge asked.

Suprintendent Balfour said he had figure it up and found that there was a difference of only five patients beveen the summer and winter months. Mr. McCormick favored Mr. Purdom's proposal, which was carried unanimously, as an amendment to the by-
