The case of Martin Quinn, charged with the crime of perjury, supposed to division of ward 4, at the last Dominion elections on Nov. 3, was called in the assize court this morning. Counsel for defense, Mr. John McEvoy, made several efforts to have the case postponed, but Mr. Justice Meredith refused to delay the trial further. It is possible, however, that the interesting question as to whether the acquittal of the prisner on the charge of impersonation would not also relieve him of the charge of perjury will be argued be-for the high court of appeal of Ontario. The evidence taken this morning was a reproduction of that given at the

He presented the affidavits of Mrs. Sarah Kane and her daughter that the for-Pittsburg. Counsel said he had sent a constable after witness four times, but could not get him. William Howard, another material witness, was

> "I feel that it is a very suspicious circumstance that these witnesses should disappear just at this time," said the judge.

> Mr. McEvoy concurred in this view and said that it was all the more reason that the trial should be postponed, because the absence of the witnesses would east a shade of suspicion over the prisoner's case and might prejudice his interests.

The court, however, decided that the evidence given by these two witnesses at the former trial could be used. Mr. McEvoy then raised another point. He showed that Quinn had been tried and acquitted on the charge of impersonation, and he claimed that the prisoner ought therefore to have been set free from the concomitant charge of perjury.

The judge replied that such action Barley—Quiet, at 45c for No. 2, 43c for late. Mr. McEvoy thought that this re mark on the part of the judge might taken as intimating that counsel had not used every means to reach the missing ones, but the judge denied the implication.

The jury was then empaneled. When the court resumed the trial of Quinn after lunch, the case for the crown was concluded. Arthur Sadlier, who was called as witness for the crown, was unable to attend. The case for the defense was opened by the reading of the evidence of James Kane, taken at the first trial. Kane, as already stated, is out of the city. The evidence of Kane, Coyne, Howard and the other companions of Quinn, who swore that he was with them between 4 and 5 o'clock on the afternoon of Nov. 3, is well remembered. As several witnesses for the crowd testified that Quinn was at polling booth No. 7a of ward 4, about two miles away at the same time the two sets of evidence are in direct con-

Ottawa, May 3. - Genuine sorrow is manifest d in political and department. al circles over Mr. Sutherland's death. No man in public life had fewer enemies, and certainly none had so many friends on both sides of politics. The deceased minister can be properly styled a martyr to public duty. When he undertook administrative duties, first at the marine and fisheries department, and afterward in the even more exacting department of public works, he adopted a course in which was sooner or later to shatter his health. He would enter his office at 10:30 or 11 o'clock in the morning, and remain until 7 o'clock in the evening. The interval at midday, when to a searching cross-examination, his purport being, as before, to show that eon, followed by a brisk walk, was spent by him in the office. His lunchson would be brought in to him, where he sat at his desk. Thus whole days were spent without any exercise save that of walking to and from the Parliament buildings. He lacked perhaps the habit of working quickly which some of his colleagues possessed. His method was slower and more laborious. Perhaps the feeling that he lacked the nervous energy which prompts to swift execution made him more conscientious. Canada had no more faithful servant in the ministry. He gave ungrudgingly of his time to the public service. He gave even more than that -he sacrificed his life. Sir Wilfrid and his colleagues are greatly shocked over the sad event. The Prime Minister was moved profoundly, and no one could see his dis-play of emotion today without being affected by it. Sir Wilfrid's invariable practice is never to give interviews, and therefore no expression of opinion was sought from him in regard to Mr. Sutherland's death.

Sir Wilfrid said: "I have to inform the House, Mr. Speaker, that I have just received a telegram informing me of the death of Mr. Sutherland, Min. ister of Public Works. I have to say to the House that, personally, in losing Mr. Sutherland. I lose one of the truest friends I ever had, and I know that the House loses one of its most valued members. I will meet, I am sure, the feelings of the House if I endeavor to say that the House should express its sympathy in this bereavement in some suitable manner, and I do not know that it can be done in any other way than by the House adjourning to attend his funeral. I will therefore move that when this House adjourns

Let me say that so far as this side of the House is concerned, I am sure that all of us join most sincerely in the deep sympathy which I know every gentleman on the other side feels for the family of Mr. Sutherland in this bereavement, and especially for the Prime Minister of this country, whose true and valued friend Mr. Sutherland has been for so many years.

"I had the privilege," Mr. continued, "of knowing that gentleman when I first came into Parliament n 1896. He was then an old member of Parliament, and I was a young and nexperienced member. A TRIBUTE FROM MR. BORDEN 'LIQUID SUNSHINE" TREATMENT, Hopes That It Will Shortly Disappear-Experiments Made Before Doctors at New York Hosp'tal.

New York, May 3. - President William R. Harper, of the University of Chicago, who is visiting this city, submitted to an X-ray examination yesterday at the hands of Dr. William J. Morton. The examination was made to find out the effects of what is known as the fluorescent treatment, which Dr. Harper has been undergoing for the internal cancerous growth with which he is afflicted, and which the surgeons found it impossible to remove. Dr. Harper arrived from Chicago on Sunday, accompanied by Dr. Frank Billings, his physician, and the examination took place at Dr. Morton's office at 19 West Twenty-eighth street. According to President Harper and Dr. Billings, remarkable results were shown. By means of the X-rays measurements were made of the diseased area, and it was found, so it was an-nounced, that this had decreased in size in the three weeks of the treatment from eighteen square inches to only seven square inches, or had dereased more than half. Measurements aken ten days ago on the occasion of or. Harper's last visit here showed hat the diseased area was twelve square inches, so that the rapidity of batement which surprised the physicians then has continued. The examnation also disclosed that the diseased area is entirely free from contact with the abdominal walls. While the physicians would not say as much yesterday, it is known that they are in hopes that at the next examination, which will probably be made two-weeks from now, the growth will have disappeared. Whether this would mean a complete cure can only be a matter of conjecture until time determines. Dr. Billings said yesterday that the examination had shown remarkable

"What is more," said Dr. Billings, 'President Harper's general health has continued to improve all the time as the disease area has continued to decrease. He has increased in weight from 170 to 182 pounds, which is re-markable in itself. We have great hopes from the treatment."

There was very little trace of the sick man about President Harper yesterday. He looked stout and well. "I am certainly feeling fine," he said at the Hotel Manhattan. "I have at the Hotel Manhattan. gained in weight and yet have been working eight hours a day like any other man. It is very remarkable when you think that my life was despaired of only a few weeks ago. I shall remain here two or three days, and hope that time to have a talk McBurney, who performed the opera-tion in Chicago."

The fluorescent treatment which Dr Harper is taking has sometimes been described as "liquid sunshine." It consists of administering internally a certain medicine which becomes radio active when the X-rays are applied from without. Through this a new set of radiations, according to Dr. Morton, is set up within the tissues. The most byious of these radiations is light itself or what is closely akin to it, Dr. Morton says. While this treatment has been tried recently in a few other cases, it is said that the results attained in Dr. Harper's case had not been known before.

An attempt to cure an external canwith radium was made at a clinic held at Flower Hospital yesterday by Harvey King, of the staff of that in stitution. The clinic was attended by a small number of students and doctors, among the latter being half a dozen women.

Dr. King has been experimenting with radium recently, using, as he described yesterday, radium pencils, invented by Prof. Liebler, a chemist, of this city. Dr. Liebler has found a solvent for radium, so Dr. King announced, and has succeeded in getting a coating of radium on the outside of celluloid tubes, protecting this with a substance which does not interfere with the activity of the rays. The patient operated on vesterday was an elderly man with a malignant and rapidly growing tumor on the lower jaw. however, the campaign that was be ing conducted by a number of Conservative papers, which was calculated to stir up great bitterness between English and French, Protestants and Roman Catholics. Mr. Fitzpatrick spoke in glowing terms of the splendid patriotism of the French-Canadian, which, he said, was well expressed in the National Anthem, "O, Canada, Mon Pays,

Mon Amour.' "I am not aware," said Mr. Fitzpatrick, "that this Government coniders it is bound constitutionally to impose restrictions, but I am aware that this Government believes that in good conscience and equity it ought to enact section 16 of this act." As to the amended educational clause, Mr. Fitzpatrick promised to deal with it in committee on the bill. If the territories were to be given a constitution like one of the provinces, like which province should it be, it must mbody only elements common to all.

And I make bold to say," he added, that there is not a single province in he Dominion that has the power to legislate exclusively in regard to education. Mr. Fitzpatrick next alluded to the statement that Mr. Sifton had not con sulted in the construction of the aubill. He said Mr. Sifton had tonomy notes in Mr. Sifton's own handwriting: certain malingering persons who had been spreading reports of grave differences between himself and Mr. Sifon, but he could say that the only differences that ever occurred between Mr. Sifton and himself were those that two self-willed, and two, perhaps, strong-minded men might hold. And if anyone in the House or out of it said otherwise, that person was saying what he knew to be untrue.
