

TWO WOMEN TESTIFY

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Their Health—Their own Statements Follow.

Halliburton, P.E.I.—"I had a doctor examine me and he said I had falling of the womb, so I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a lot of good. All the bearing-down pains have vanished. I have gained ten pounds in weight, the discharge is all gone, and I feel better than I have for a long time. I think any woman is foolish to suffer as I did for the sake of a few dollars.

"You can use my letter as a testimonial. It may encourage other poor women who suffer as I did to use your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. GEO. COLLACUTT, Halliburton, Lot 7, P.E.I.

Read What This Woman Says: New Moorefield, Ohio.—"I take great pleasure in thanking you for what your Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had bearing down pains, was dizzy and weak, had pains in lower back and could not be upon my feet long enough to get a meal. As long as I laid on my back I would feel better, but when I would get up those bearing down pains would come back, and the doctor said I had female trouble. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was the only medicine that helped me and I have been growing stronger ever since I commenced to take it. I hope it will help other suffering women as it has me. You can use this letter."—Mrs. CASSIE LLOYD, New Moorefield, Clark Co., Ohio.

The Church Strawberry Social

Just as soon as the strawberries are half-ripe and they can be got three boxes for a quarter, the girls will hold their annual strawberry festival, the proceeds to go to repairing the roof of the sacred edifice. This is all right as far as it goes. It is a very meritorious proceeding and I will buy two tickets from Mary Ellen and also two tickets from Sarah Ann—so there won't be any hard feelings—and I will attend the function and move the vote of thanks or second it—it's all the same to me. This is all very well; but what I object to is the name they give the dish which will produce the money for the roof. For untold ages they have called it "strawberries and cream"—why, that is past my comprehension. Hereafter, in all matters connected with our church anyway, I want the girls to tell the truth and shame the devil. The name of this dish is strawberries and curds—let us call a spade a spade. The average church strawberry—the humorists assert that there is generally only one of it so we may speak of it in the singular number—the average church strawberry is sour enough to curdle the milk of human kindness in the most benevolent bosom; it is sour enough to curdle your blood, let alone cream.

On the evening of the festival we will each get one strawberry and some curds. That's what we'll get, because we church members know better than to pass our plate twice, for the show hasn't got nicely started before the whispered warning is sent around that the supply of strawberries is running short. I have been a pillar now for some time, but I never dare to eat my fill at a church feast. The table could gorge themselves with peaches, and ham sandwiches and pie, and tarts, etc., ad nauseam, but we old soldiers of the cross had to go easy on it for fear anything might run short. Many's the time I've gone home hungry from a tea meeting and ate more than was good for me before I went to bed, and ate it standing up in the "white pantry."

ESKIMO SEAL HUNTING.

Spears That Won't Break and Floats That Sag the Game.

When once he has gone to the trouble of splicing a fine spear handle the Eskimo does not wish to break it, so the point is put on with a toggle or joint. When seal or walrus is harpooned the sudden struggle of the animal does not break the spear, but merely unjoins the point, and the more the animal struggles the more the point turns crosswise in the wound and the firmer the bars take hold.

But the animal cannot escape, for with things of skin the point is connected with the spear shaft. The animal merely swims away or dives deep into the sea, carrying with him the spear. The long leather thong which is attached to it uncoils from the deck of the catque and pays out. It carries with it a drag like a kite, which retards the animal and exhausts him, but does not pull hard enough to break the line. Even this drag is made of skin stretched over a spliced framework. When the line is all paid out it is seen to be attached to a float which is also carried on the deck of the boat. This is made of an inflated skin. It has plugs and attachments cleverly carved from ivory, for wood is far too precious to be used in this land of ivory so far from the forests. The float serves as a buoy so that the Eskimo can follow the animal and find it after it gives up its struggle and dies. Then, too, the float keeps the catch from sinking and being lost in the ocean's depths.—Southern Workman.

WITHOUT AN ANSWER.

An Old Proposition Treated From a Scientific Standpoint.

"To settle an argument kindly answer the following question: If an irresistible force were to come in contact with an immovable body, what would be the result?"

The answer cannot be thought in the present limitation of the human mind. We cannot even commence to think of an infinity whatever.

An irresistible force is an infinite force and cannot be thought of in any property it may have by any phase of mind functioning in any brain.

An immovable body is infinitely still or its rest is absolute, and mind in brain cannot think of the absolute.

For a body to be at absolute rest it must be the only one in existence, for if there are two in space attractions will cause both to move.

But if one body only existed then finite mind cannot know whether it is immovable, because we cannot know whether force is outside. Only creative mind can know this. With only one body in infinite space, then finite mind could not discover whether it is at rest or in motion, having no other object with which to compare it. The two words rest and motion would become meaningless. And humans cannot at present think of infinite space nor two points in space. Impossible unless matter occupies these two points. Then the word space could not apply to these points since they are occupied.—New-York American.

The Mediterranean of the North.

Hudson bay, described by some as "the Mediterranean of the north," is the third largest "sea" in the world. The area of the Mediterranean is 977,000 square miles; of the Baltic, 580,000; of Hudson bay, 365,000. Its length is 800 miles and breadth 500, and, compared with the great lakes, it is a veritable ocean, for Lake Superior's area is only 31,000 square miles, Lake Huron's but 23,000, Lake Michigan's a scant 22,500, Lake Erie's merely 9,000 and Lake Ontario's barely 7,240. The outlet of Hudson bay to the Atlantic is Hudson strait, nearly 500 miles long, with an average breadth of 100 miles, its narrowest width being sixty miles.—American Review of Reviews.

A colored woman went to the pastor of her church the other day to complain of the conduct of her husband, who, she said, was a lowdown, worthless, trifling fellow. After listening to a long recital of the delinquencies of her neglectful spouse and her efforts to correct him, the minister said: "Have you ever tried heated coals of fire upon his head?" "No," was the reply, but I done tried hot water."

A gentleman in Durban made a present of a beautiful baptismal font to a church of which he was a member. As the old font, which was situated at the door, was in pretty good state of preservation, the other end of the church. One Sunday morning, after the new font had been put up in the allotted place, the clergyman from the pulpit, thanked the generous benefactor for his kindness in making such a handsome gift, and ended by making the following startling announcement: "In future, children will be baptized at both ends."

New Health Regulations

The provincial board of health put in its new regulations for Ontario, and is paying particular attention to the need of safeguarding the public health in barber shops, hotels, restaurants, etc. The barber shop regulations which will impose strict cleanliness upon the barber, requiring him to sterilize his equipment after use, have been approved of by the board but have yet to go before the council. A regulation to abolish the common drinking cup throughout the province has not been finally decided upon, but action along that line is expected. With the common drinking cup will go the roller towel. The board has to decide just what the scope of such a regulation should be, but it is probable all hotels, restaurants, etc., will be made to keep a supply of towels in their wash rooms for each individual. The difficulty, particularly in the rural hotels, is that wash rooms are maintained for the convenience of the general public, and the supplying of a clean towel would put a burden upon the hotelkeeper, without a return to offset it.

Big Oil Pipe Line

The Standard Oil Company is making great strides in laying its big oil pipe line from Lima, Ohio fields, to the big plant of the Imperial Oil Company at Sarnia. The purpose of this pump line is to pump the crude oil from the wells direct to the refinery instead of hauling it by tank steamers on the lakes and by railway cars during the winter. The boats at the present time have to keep the plant going through the summer and fill up the storage tanks besides, so that there will be oil to refine during the closed season of navigation. Some time ago the Company's engineers decided that a pipe line should be built over the 180 miles, and this give a constant supply during all seasons of the year.
