A little to the westward of Long Harbour is Bell Bay, which extends 3 leagues every way, and contains several bays and harbours. On the east point of this bay is Hare Harbour, which is fit only for small vessels and boats, before which are two small islands, and some rocks above and under water.

Two miles to the northward of Hare Harbour, or the point of Bell Bay, is Mall Bay, being a narrow arm, laying in N. E. by N. 5 miles, wherein is deep water, and no anchorage until at the head.

Rencontre Islands lie to the westward of Mall Bay, near the shore; the westernmost, which is the largest, has a communication with the main at low water: in and about this island are shelter for small vessels and boats.

Bell Harbour lies 1 league to the westward of Rencontre Islands: The passage into the harbour is on the west side of the island; in the mouth of it, as soon as you are within the island, you will open a small cove on the east side, wherein small vessels anchor, but large ships must run up to the head of the harbour, and anchor in 20 fathoms water, there being most room.

Lally Cove lies a little to the westward of Bell Harbour; it is a very snug place for small vessels, being covered from all winds behind the island in the cove.

Lally Head is the west point of Lally Cove; it is a high bluff white point: To the northward of the head is Lally Cove back Cove, wherein you may anchor in 16 fathoms water.

Two miles to the northward of Lally Cove Head, is the bay of the east, and bay of the north; in both is deep water, and no anchorage, unless very near the shore. At the head of the north bay is the largest river in Fortune Bay, and seems a good place for a salmon fishery.

The bay of Cinq Isles lies to the southward of the north bay; and opposite to Lally Cove Head there is tolerable good anchorage for large ship on the S. W. side of the islands in the bottom of the bay. The north arm is a very snug place for small vessels; at the head of this arm is a salmon river.

A little to the southward of the bay of Cinq Isles is Corben Bay, wherein is good anchorage for any ships in 22 or 24 fathoms water.

S. E. about 2 miles from Lally Cove Head, are two islands about a mile from each other; the north easternmost is called Bell Island, and the other Dog Island; they are of a tolerable height, and bold too all round.

Between Dog Island and Lord and Lady Island, which lies off the south point of Corben Bay, is a sunken rock, (somewhat nearer to Lord and Lady, than Dog Island,) whereon the sea breaks in very bad weather, and every where round it very deep water. About a quarter of a mile to the northward of the north end of Lord and Lady Island, is a rock that appears at low water.

Bande de La'rier Bay lies on the west point of Bell Bay, and N. N. W. $\frac{1}{2}$ W. near 3 leagues from Point Enragee; it may be known by a very high mountain over the bay, which rises almost perpendicular from the sea, called Iron Head. Chappel Island, which forms the east side of the bay, is high land also. The harbour lies on the west side of the bay, just within the point, formed by a narrow low beach; it is very small, but a snug place, and conveniently situated for the cod fishery. There is a tolerable good anchorage along the west side of the bay, from the harbour up towards Iron Head in 18 and 20 fathoms water.

The bank of Bande de La'rier, whereon is no less than 7 fathoms, lies with the beach of Bande de Laurier Harbour, just open of the west point of the bay, and Boxy Point on with the north end of St. Jacques Island.

Two miles to the westward of Bande de La'rier, is the harbour of St. Jacques, which may be easily known by the island before it. This island is high at each end, and low in the middle, and at a distance looks like two islands, it lies N. 30° E. 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ leagues from the Cape of Grand Bank, and N. E. by E. 7
