

CHAPTER XVIII.

1842 to 1845.

Excitement in the United States respecting Oregon, 376 — Bill in the Senate for the immediate Occupation of Oregon, 379 — That Bill inconsistent with the Convention of 1827, between the United States and Great Britain, 383 — Renewal of Negotiations between the United States and Great Britain — Emigrations from the United States to Oregon, 391 — Stato of the Hudson's Bay Company's Possessions, 393 — Conclusion.

PROOFS AND ILLUSTRATIONS.

A.
Original Account of the Voyage of the Greek Pilot Juan de Fuca along the North-West Coasts of America in 1592.	407
B.
Furs and the Fur Trade.	411
C.
Correspondence between the Spanish Commandant at Nootka Sound, and the Masters of the American trading Vessels Colombia and Hope, respecting the Occurrences at that Place in the Summer of 1789.	413
D.
Original Documents relative to the Dispute between Great Britain and Spain, in 1790.	418
E.
Original Documents relative to the Discovery of the Columbia River, by the Spaniards and the Americans.	430
F.
Showing that the Forty-ninth Parallel of Latitude was not selected as the Line of Separation between the French and the British Territories in North America, by Commissioners appointed agreeably to the Treaty of Utrecht.	436
G.
Papers relative to the American Establishment of Astoria, on the Columbia River.	439
H.
Statements presented on each side in the course of the Conferences, held at London, in December 1826, between Messrs. Huskisson and Addington, the British Plenipotentiaries, and Mr. Gallatin, the Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States.	446
I.
Documents relating to the Hudson's Bay Company.	465
K.
Treaties and Conventions relative to the North-West Territories of North America.	476