Hydro for Eastern Ontario.

It was announced yesterday that a letter had been sent to the mayors of all cities between Oshawa and Ottawa, asking if any reason was known why Hydro power, from one end of Ontario to the other, should not be pooled. If Mr. R. F. Elliott, who signs the letter, does not know of any such reason, his study of Hydro-to a zone system has been adopted. The several districts pool their charges on main lines and pay their local charges. As a result electric power is distributed more cheaply than anywhere else in the world, over corresponding distances.

POLITICAL NOTES

High Cost of Things

BY IDA L. WEBSTER.

There have been so many commissions appointed by the government for the good of the citizens of the country that it seems to us the officials might get busy and appoint a royal few to sit on the question of the formore money. The housewives are fighting to feed their families on the money they are receiving. The men are fighting for a breathing space, wherein they may get a livable wage. All that holled into one seething potant the bottom of it is the foreigner. Electric affairs has been superficial indeed. The first and obvious reason is that a flat rate cannot be charged for passenger fares all over Ontario. It might be possible to introduce a zone rate, akin to the single fare with transfer in cities, but a flat rate to work the same for a journey from Oshawa to Ottawa and Oshawa to Whitby, would be laughed at, even by Mr. Elliott.

Abnormal conditions are now passing. More than five hundred of our men are back from the front. In most places the supply of competent operators is normal.

There is now the task of restoring the proper margin of reserve plant and of overtaking arrears in repair and maintenance work. The moving season is always difficult. At some exchanges an avalanche of orders for moves comes in-over 13,300 this year at one exchange alone, which meant somewhat of a set-back in getting our plant back to normal.

But the work is progressing. Our plans involve an outlay for the year on extensions and replacements of over $7,000,000. We are giving intensive training in our operators' schools to scores of young women to prepare them for central office positions.

Skilled workers, adequate equipment, a resolve to do the best work possible while realizing that we are all servants of the public—these are the factors which we hope will result in the maintenance of the pre-war standard of telephone service.

And we ask the co-operation of all telephone users.
