income and property taxes were appealed. The warehouse on Carling street was assessed for a business tax. This was appealed because, it was claimed it was only a warehouse, and business was not carried on in it. The court ruled that as it was run in connection with the retail business it was liable to the tax.

The assessment on the C. P. R. ticket office, although appealed, was confirmed by the court. A number of other appeals were heard, it being the largest number that has been heard by the court of revision for some time.

The Brotherhood Federation Appeal

FOR 500,000 ORPHAN CHILDREN IN SERBIA, WHOSE FATHERS FELL IN OUR DEPENSE AND SAVED INDIA FOR THE BRITISH EMPIRE

The Brotherhood Federation is simply a federation of the many organizations of men (of whatever or no denomination) banded together for Christian service, by whatever name known, but preferably "The Brotherhood" for fellowship's sake and standardization. Our objects are (1) The Evangelization of the World, and we help any organization in conducting special meetings as far as men and money will allow. (2) We and money will allow. (2) We aim at interpreting Religion in terms of Life, and the ordinary avocations thereof in terms of Religion. We center upon the highest type of citizenship and actively interest men in problems of primary, practical and paramount importance — personal and public, moral and appritual. In application of this principle we seized upon the opportunity presented by the Great World War of demonstrating the possibility, practi-cability and reality of Universal Brotherhood. Our energies were well directed toward relieving sufferers in France and Flanders and our war work was so eminently successful and universally approved that the Serbian Government sent for our officials to see Serbia for themselves. Mr. Ward and Mr. Heal, two English gentlemen, who made their com-petence by hard work, and are now spending it in this work, over, at their own expense, and were so impressed with such loy-alty to the allies, such efficiency and bravery in warfare, and such

The fall of '14 found the care free, poetic, patriotic people of poor little Serbia just six months out of a 2-year war, staggering out of a 2-year war, staggering under a heavy load, without even medical supplies for her wounded, diseased and dying soldiers and civilians. Nevertheless, at the word of command "Stand to till Allies Come" this little band of braves donned again their armor, and literally moving mountains in and iterative moving mountains in a day, although outnumbered ten to one, they held up the united armies of Bulgaria, Austria and Germany (not as did brave little Belgium for a few days), but for Begium for a few days), but for 15 months (1½ years), until they saved India to the British Empire. They fought flercely, contesting every inch of ground, until backed against the Mountains of Afbania.

The appeal for Loew's Theatre was left over by the appeal was against the assessment on the building. It was claimed that although the building was of large dimensions, it did not cost as much as would appear from inspection.

W. H. Meredith appeared on behalf of the Allen Theatre's appeal against the city property tax. The building was assessed for $190,000. Mr. Meredith thought that a reduction of $50,000 would not be out of the way. He claimed that the building extends back on property that formerly was assessed very low because of the total the taxes were excessive. The court decided to reconsider the assessment.

Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon protested against the assessment on the London Club, Queen's avenue. He stated that it was a hardship for the club, as their hig source of revenue was cut of through the Ontario temperance act. The court decided to consider the assessment.

Magistrate A. R. Douglass appeared on behalf of Kingsmill's drygoods store. Both

The mileage will be divided on a comparative basis among all of the townships in the county. The recommendations will be laid before the councils of the different townships and before the county council. Ontario Government in its scheme of

FREQUENT HEADACHES A DANGER SIGNAL

The Victim Nearly Always Suffers From Weak, Watery Blood.

There are few allments that cause more genuine misery than nervous or sick headacnes. Only those who have endured the suffering, sometimes for days at a stretch, can realize the agony of the victims.
