Refusing to express any opinion about reports that Jeffries' trainers have decided to sidetrack him, ex-Champion James Corbett. In Boston, declared he will not go west to stir up trouble for the big fellow, "It will be at least two weeks before I go west, in any case," said Corbett. 'I am not going out to train Jeffries, but simply as a friend who wants to see him win. If I can give him a tip that will help, well and good. Toward the end of the season Maher was tried, and, tho Neil Gow tried to run off the course, Maher held on to him, and after tugging him about finally got moving in surprising shape, and he won by a head. The finish was the most sensational ever seen on an English racecourse. Maher rode Neil Gow recently in the Graven Stekes at Newmarket, and the he craven Stekes at Newmarket, and the he won, the performance of the colt was disappointing a colt named Tressan ran clean away from him in the early part of the colitest, and then swerved dear across the course something that cost him a lot of ground. Neil Gow's showing places Lemberg a Timer favorite for the Derby. The pair will meet in the Two Thousand Guineas. Tressady will be in the race, it is said. Another good one has come to light in Rochester, a stable comparison of Neil Gow.
