terday and prices considerably lower. There were 484 fresh cattle and 297 left-overs, a total of 781, on sale at the Union Yards when the market opened. The class of butchers offered were not very desirable from the killers' point of view, the bulk consisting of common and very ordinary green unfinished cattle. Packers were not at all anxious to buy and picked the market over for just what suited them at prices from 15c to 25c lower on the good to choice animals. Common butchers were decidedly slow and draggy, and from 25c to 35c lower in price. It must be remembered that this class of cattle has been selling far above value, and is still a good two dollars per hundred pounds too high. Trade in cows was steady, little, if any, change taking place. Choice sold at from $8.50 to $9 and good at $8 to $8.25. Hogs: The hog market yesterday was 5c lower, fed and watered selling at $14.40 and weighed off cars at $14.65. A few selects sold for $14.75, weighed off above. Packers say that on Thursday they will be another 25c lower and claim that they are not at all anxious for them
