

It's Going With a Rush

The Big January Sale of Furs Has Caught

On---Rare Furs at Sacrifice Prices

MONDAY will be the sixth day of our Big January Fur Sale and the enthusiasm increases as the season advances. There's more ginger to this particular sale than to any one we ever held before, because the wise shopper realizes that the low prices for such goods as are being offered, will never be touched again—Positively you have no choice where to buy, outside our store, if you want good furs at a slaughtered price.

We will show you that the quality of the furs used in our garments is exclusive—The price asked low even for poor fur—Less than cost for the quality we offer.

It doesn't matter what you want, there is something in our stock to satisfy you, at a price that ensures your purchasing it.

Call Monday early—There are specials galore not marked in this list and which we put on sale each day.

HAS SHE THE RIGHT?

It is Leap Year and Lady Wants to Know.

Editor World: "Will you kindly assist in settling a question which to-day may be troubling many of your readers? There is an old tradition that young women may 'propose' during leap year. As we are on the eve of another leap year it is obviously of great importance to marriageable young women to know whether or not they would be violating the canons of propriety by proposing to young men who have been paying them court but who are slow in coming to the point.

"Several persons of my acquaintance assert that it is perfectly proper for a young woman to 'propose' during leap year, while an equal number are sure that it would be a violation of the code.

"This situation is perplexing to one anxious to put the alleged leap year privilege to the test, but who shrinks from doing so, lest it may conflict with the strict rule of polite society. I would respectfully suggest that a good question would be for you to open your columns for a discussion.

"In this connection, however, I would bar unmarried men, for they would be likely to be prejudiced.

WOMEN PLATE CANDIDATE COURTOWN LOOKS GOOD

A Visit to Brookdale Farm by World Correspondent Finds Horses in Good Shape—Temeraire a Gelding.

BARRIE, Ont., Jan. 4.—(Special).—A visit to the Brookdale Farm, near Barrie at this time of the year reminds one that handling a string of race horses in this climate is no sinecure. While horsemen in California and New Orleans are enjoying the excitement of seeing their horses take part in actual races, the Canadian trainer steps around in his fur, watching his candidates get slow gallops, and practicing that good virtue, patience. Doors must be kept closed and horses blanketed, for the breeze blows from the Georgian Bay over Brookdale Farm to Lake Simcoe are no southern zephyrs, the weather this season has been fairly good.

It will be four long months before this northern stable will be shipped to Woodbine and yet Johnny Dymont, the genial owner and trainer, takes the greatest pains with his string at this season. Regular gallops will start this week and the boys will do their exercising stunts, clothed in heavy mits and sweaters, collecting rides in your shirt sleeves, whistling some coon song to keep time to your horse, for a while yet, but it is a pretty cool day that keeps the Brookdale horses from getting their regular gallops, after exercising begins in earnest. Johnny is a thorough believer in starting the season early and doing a little every day, and it is no doubt this policy that has always made his horses a factor in the spring meet at Toronto.

During the winter months Johnny Dymont lives the simple life. He may be seen every morning taking a walk over to the farm, where he spends his forenoon. His new house, which is one of the finest in town, is about three-quarters of a mile from the track, and when not training horses the owner may be found training his little boy, Jack, in the way he should go. Much of his time, is spent in looking after his junior hockey team, which he has hopes of winning the Junior O.H.A. championship with.

The stable boys break the monotony of farm life by indulging in hockey, roller skating and attending country dances. The late Mr. Dymont was always particular about the class of boys employed at the farm and Johnny is following his example. The employees this year are of the best.

The string of horses in training never looked better at this farm at this season, not one coughing. The stables, outside of Mr. Seagram's, are the best in the province, the stalls are large, well lighted and well ventilated, and this no doubt has much to do with the healthy state of the stock.

The chief attraction at the stable this year is Courtown II, the plate candidate, that has all the earmarks of a good one. Last season, by his races at Hamilton and his works afterwards, he proved himself one of the best colts ever bred at Brookdale. Since being shipped home he has put on flesh and filled out, so that now he is a splendid specimen of a race horse. He is a half-brother to Flying Bess, Sapper and Court Martial, and is out of the speedy Lady Berkeley. His legs and feet are the best, his back and shoulders are of such conformation that the keenest horse critic could hardly fault him. Barriers accidents, Johnny expects him to be one of the best, if not the best, colts he ever trained to face the barrier for the King's guinea.

One of the most improved horses is the Toddington colt, Uncle Toby. He has put on pounds of flesh since coming to his winter quarters. His feet bothered him last fall, but he is exercised in the snow without any trouble at all as a bullet. He is expected to be a much superior colt the coming season. When he is at his best he is a good one and he will be given a careful preparation.

Last year's disappointment, Temeraire, who arrived at Barrie a year ago and not being used to the cold climate did not do well. Now that he has got accustomed to our Canadian winter he is doing as well as any body's horse and will probably redeem himself next spring. He is a gelding now.

Of the three two-year-olds purchased in New York last fall, Stromeland appears the best. He is by that good horse, Ben Stromer, out of Roseland, and if appearances count for anything he should be found knocking old-time stakes races in the spring. He is a beautiful bay colt, good size, with plenty of bone and muscle and the rounded nerve, being one of the gamiest colts at the farm.

The other two New York colts, Capt. Griffin and Devonian, are above the average, and should prove useful bread-winners.

The two province-bred two-year-olds are both by Port Hunter, Port Simpson, a Berkeley. Port Simpson is out of Flying Bess, a chip off the old block. He resembles his sire, both in disposition and conformation and is looked upon as one of the farm's best prospects. These two young colts have been asked to do very much, but have done all that was required of them. They will be reserved for plate candidates for 1908.

The speedy Tongorder is looking as well as he ever looked in his life. Whether his legs will stand a final again is a question. He will not be hurried and he may repeat his success of last spring by beating the best sprinters at the track.

Last year was a very unfortunate one for the baby colts of the farm, only one weanling raised from seven or eight brood mares. The filly colt by Bassettlaw, out of Lady Berkeley, was a beautiful colt and money would hardly have taken him from Brookdale. But in some unaccountable way, the filly colt, shipped paddock the day before Christmas, slipped home, and the old horse in his playful mood, handled the filly too roughly and caused his death.

The following are the horses that have been seen at the Woodbine:

Tongorder, by Order; Temeraire, by Bailey-Ho-Bay; Uncle Toby, by Toddington; Capt. Griffin, by Griffin; Devonian, by Ben Stromer-Roseland; Devonian, by Port Hunter-Lady Berkeley; Port Simpson, by Port Hunter-Lady Berkeley; Port Garry, by Griffin; Flying Bess, by Capt. Griffin, by Griffin; Capricious, by The brood mares are: Flying Bess, Lady Berkeley, Blue Ribbon, Belle Hamburg, Stayaway, Miss Morgan, Galt, and Victoria. These mares are all with foal to either Port Hunter or Tongorder.

Player Pianos the Correct Thing. It is quite the vogue now to have in one's parlor a player piano, so says Limited, 115-117 West King-st., Toronto. Anyone can play this instrument—without knowing a note of music! Some special values in player pianos are offered for January selling.

Fatal Trolley Wreck. EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 4.—John Niederwieser of Mt. Vernon was killed and seven or eight people were injured in a wreck on the Evansville & Mt. Vernon traction line to-day, caused by a collision between a passenger and freight car near Ford's Station.

Lincoln's Price.
George F. Floyd tells some amusing stories in an article called "Lincoln's Rum-Swag," in McClure's. He says: "I had leased the Quincy house, at Quincy, Ill. The property was owned by a widow, Mrs. Enos, who lived at Springfield. I employed Mr. Lincoln to execute the lease for me. He sent the lease to me at Quincy, but said nothing about the pay for his services. Thinking $25 would be about as much as I could get for the job, I sent him that amount. In a few days I received a letter from Mr. Lincoln, of which the following is a copy:

"Springfield, Ill., Feb. 21, 1856.
"Dear Sir,—I have just received yours of 15th, with cheque on F&G & Co. for $25. You must think I am a high-priced man. You are too liberal with your money.
"Fifteen dollars is enough for the job. I sent you a receipt for $15, and return to you a 10-dollar bill.
"Yours truly,
"A. LINCOLN."
