ROTTEN STATE OF CIVIC AFFAIRS

The Grand Jury at Pittsburg Has Concluded its Investigation of Graft Scandal

Pittsburg, Pa., March 18—The grand jury investigation of alleged councilmanic corruption was concluded late today.

A report will be made by the jury to Judge L. L. Davis tomorrow morning and interesting developments in the graft scandal of Pittsburg are expected to follow immediately.

Rumors tonight, impossible of confirmation, are extremely sensational. One report is to the effect that at least ten men prominent in the affairs of this city, are to be arrested. In all quarters it is generally believed a number of indictments will be returned.

Since the inquisition by the grand jury started last Monday, bankers, business men and city officials from the mayor down, have been summoned before the grand jury. Many came voluntarily and others were commanded to be present. It is the general opinion that the investigation has been thorough and complete.

Sir James R. Gowan

Barrie, March 18—Sir James Robert Gowan, Barrie's oldest and most distinguished citizen, died at his residence here this morning at two o'clock. He resigned from the senate two years ago.

At the fortnightly meeting of the Men's League in the school room of Germain street Baptist church last evening, the time was devoted to a programme dealing with the life and works of Mendelssohn. The ladies of the Willing Workers Society served refreshments.

PHOTOS OF NICKEL STARS TONIGHT

Next Week Harry Bennett Lauder Imitator Will Be the Head Line Attraction

This afternoon at the Nickel there will be a brand new show, another high-class film exhibition, the distinguishing feature of which will be Edison's exquisite pictorial version of the story of how Beethoven came to write his magnificent Moonlight Sonata. This is a distinct novelty in motion photographs and the light effects introduced are wonderful. Another fine film is The Music Master, a free adaptation of the play made famous by David Warfield. Then there are comedies and other kinds of pictures. Holmes & Buchanan, who will terminate their successful engagement tomorrow night, will continue in their greatest success "Woodland Wooing," which has been packing the Nickel all week and at Saturday's matinee they will give an extra show for the children. The Beethoven picture will be explained to the children upon this occasion. There will be more secret snapshots taken. Already Nickel-goers are on the qui vive regarding the coming of the great Harry Bennett next Monday—the man who does Lauder songs and monologues like Lauder himself.

LARGE AUDIENCE SAW A GOOD SHOW

"One Girl in a Thousand" As Presented by the Myrkle-Harder Co. Makes a Hit

One Girl in a Thousand was presented by the Myrkle-Harder Company last night to a large audience. The play is a rural melodrama with appropriate environment in all four acts. As Doris Caruthers the adopted daughter of the postmaster at Port Deposit, Md., and the heroine of the play, Miss Emma Myrkle was excellent. As Warren Truesdale, the young lawyer and lover of Doris, John Bertin was in his element. Squire Thorp, the miser, and usurer, was interpreted by W. J. Flagg and he gave a finished performance throughout, but particularly in the court scene in the final act. Louis Ancker was Wash Caruthers the worthless son of the postmaster and who steals the $400 from the mails permitting Doris to shield him by confessing to the theft herself. Eleanor Glenn, the adventuress, with whom the dissolute son is infatuated and who is in league with the squire to abduct Doris, who is in reality an heiress, was effectively portrayed by Helen De Vere. The comedy was provided by Frank Christie as Cyrus Pinkney the village constable, of the usual type, and Miss Beth Summerville, as Aunt Becky Morley, the spinster whom Pinkney was wooing for "nigh onto twenty year." Pete Jones the colored chore boy was also a fun furnisher in the hands of Bruce Morgan.

The first act displayed the exterior of the combination grocery store and postoffice. Warren Truesdale remits $400 to his college and at the instigation of the adventuress, Wash Caruthers steals the money.

In the second act the hero overhears a part of a conversation between Doris and her foster brother and misconstrues it into an admission of guilt. The third act is in the sitting room over the store and responding to the pleadings of the criminal Doris, to save him, declares that she alone is guilty. Her foster father forsakes her and the last act shows the court room with Squire Thorp presiding as justice of the peace for the village. Witnesses are examined in the formal manner and there are few discrepancies between the genuine and the imitation except in court decorum when the fun provokers have their sway. The hero sets for Doris in the proceedings and the squire is on the verge of committing her for trial when Wash confesses and commits suicide.

In the specialties were Christie and Harmon in a song and dance sketch, Bruce Morgan in a black-face dancing and singing act and Bedell Bros., in a hand balancing act.

The bill for tonight and tomorrow will be An American Gentleman, a comedy-drama and at tomorrow's matinee, One Girl in a Thousand will be repeated.

"STAR" TONIGHT AND SATURDAY

Tonight at the Star there will be another of those ludicrous Jones series of pictures, entitled "Mr. Jones Has A Card Party." About a fortnight ago the Star showed the Jones picture, "Mr. Jones At The Ball," which was a scream. This new picture is even funnier than the former one. The other pictures are: The Little Violinist, The Bewitching Mrs. Francis, The Tiny Martyr, and two other films. On Saturday the matinee will present special features for the children and Saturday night there is to be a fine musical programme. Miss Von Branders is to sing "Its The Pretty Things You Say."
