

ARCHITECT WAS FIRE BUG

Bullard Also Member of New Bedford Fire Department—He Confesses

New Bedford, Aug. 31.—Egbert G. Bullard, a local architect, and a member of No. 5 Engine Company, was arrested by the local police, charged with arson in seven counts. He confessed to having set these fires, but the police are convinced that he is responsible for many other fires that have occurred in this city in the last few years.

One night recently there were two fires, the first at 12.30 a. m. in the Harrington School and the second at 4.30 in William A. Carroll's carriage factory. Both buildings are located in the West End of the city, about a quarter of a mile apart. Bullard confessed to setting the fire in the school, which was entered by an east window of a class room. With one match, he said, he started a fire in a storeroom which resulted in about $1,000 damage to books, desks and the building.

He was not seen at the building during the fire with the fire company which he is a member. He denied having anything to do with the Carroll carriage factory fire, where the firemen had a difficult task, as the structure, a three-story frame building occupying an isolated block, was a raging furnace when they arrived.

Bullard was trailed by the police until midnight, when they lost sight of him. Within thirty minutes the fire bells summoned the firemen to the Harrington School. About 9 p. m. Lieut. McLeod of the Police Department met Bullard and rushed down town. Bullard is said to have been drinking, and the lieutenant, after a talk with him, in which McLeod advised Bullard to take his automobile and go home, saw him head that way. He reported the facts to headquarters and Sgt. Sherman on a motor cycle and Patrolman Seaville in the police touring car, located him at a local hotel. He waited for him to leave until 11 p. m. and followed his machine about the town for an hour, when another automobile got between his machine and the police motors and sight of him was lost.

The West End was searched for his automobile and Sgt. Sherman passed the Harrington School within twenty minutes of the time of the alarm but saw no machine near the building. When the alarm for the carriage factory fire was rung, the police found Bullard's machine standing in front of his house, with the engine still warm. His wife, who responded when a messenger was sent to the house, said she tried to call her husband to telephone a fireman to the alarm, but that she could not wake him.

Confessed Setting Seven Fires

He was taken in custody by Inspector Sylvia, and after a long talk with the inspector he confessed to setting seven fires. The first, he said, was at the Savoy Theatre Building, which was set in an alleyway outside the building and was a trivial blaze. Another was in the Winslow building, which was altered when Union street was widened, and he was the architect in charge of the work. This was set in the attic, where there were papers found for kindling and where he found the back entrance of the building open.

He said he set the fire at the Central Lumber Yard a few months ago, although he denied that this was accidental. At E. B. McLeod's building directly across from the Parker House, he went upstairs to a toilet room and dropped a match, and in Everett B. Sherman's building, in the very centre of the city, he set another fire in a similar manner.

About a week ago there was a fire in the New Ode Theatre, which he confessed to this. There he opened the door with a jackknife, went to the upper loft and struck a match. This building was formerly a church, and the bell tower was a mass of flames when the firemen arrived.

Wished to See Fires

Bullard was formerly a draftsman in the office of Samuel Hunt and came here from Boston. His desire to see spectacular blazes is believed to have been his chief motive in setting fires. He spent a vacation in Worcester a few years ago and when he returned he told his friends that he saw the apparatus run many times in his stay. All the fires of which he has been suspected occurred at night, most of them late.

ALL NEGROES BARRED IN GEORGIA COUNTY

Dead Line Established Which They Are Not Allowed to Cross

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 31.—As a result of trouble in Forsyth County and the neighboring territory between whites and blacks all negroes have been barred from entering the county. This was brought out clearly today by the experience of Hudson Moore, one of the most prominent Atlantans, who went to Cumming on legal business and took along with him a negro nurse and negro chauffeur. While he was in the courthouse he heard a noise outside, and rushing out he found a crowd of several hundred gathered around the two negroes threatening them with dire vengeance if they did not leave the county at once. Mr. Moore intervened, and accepted of the following subscriptions—H. A. Powell, K. C. 2100; G. W. Merritt, for August, $10; receipts from a pie social held by the Quipians school house, Rockledge, McLaughlin and Johnson, $60.35.

Mr. E. E. Church, treasurer of the Soldiers' Comfort Association, acknowledged the following: Mrs. E. A. Smith, $5; Mr. Higginson, Boston (per Mrs. Geo. McAvity), $5; Proceeds of concert at Rockledge Hotel, Brewer's Place, per Miss Gunn, $40; part of proceeds of basket school held by Fair Vale Outing Association, $20; part of proceeds garden party, held Aug. 21, by ladies of Renforth and Riverside, $150.

THE FUNDS

Mayor Frink this morning received $252.25 from the residents of Passaic for the machine gun fund. He also received $1 from Stanley Lowell, aged seven years, for the Belgian fund. C. B. Allan, secretary of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, acknowledges receipt of the following subscriptions—H. A. Powell, $10; G. W. Merritt, for August, $10; receipts from a pie social held by the Quipians school house, Rockledge, McLaughlin and Johnson, $60.35.

A NEW MOVIE STAR

Paul Scardon, as Prof. Silliter, the eminent psychologist who kidnapped Celestia in his babyhood and afterwards hypnotizes her into the belief that she is an angel, made a splendid impression at the Imperial Theatre yesterday.

He is a finished actor of the Australian school. "The Goddess," in fact, is splendidly cast throughout.

SCHOONER UPSET

When the tide went out this morning in York Point wharf, the two-masted schooner, E. B. Colwell, capsized, her masts and rigging over on her side. She was considerably damaged. Both masts were snapped at the deck, and the larger one in striking tore quite a hole in the deck of the vessel. Her cargo was lost.

CHEMICAL OUT TWICE

The chemical engine responded to two still alarms this morning, one to the hill on which the buildings are located, and the other to Waterbury & Rising's store in Union street. In several places where the buildings are located is a large plot of alfalfa, which has been carefully inoculated, showing a particularly thrifty growth. There was a great deal of damage done, and many other growing crops of interest to the visitors. In the distance in one field alfalfa was seen engaged in breaking up new land, and in another a crew engaged in making drains. About fifty men are employed on the farm.

MAN WANTED AT THE UNIQUE THEATRE

In another column the Unique Theatre is advertising for an assistant janitor and door-man, promising steady employment to a satisfactory party.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

People passing along the lower part of the hill on which the buildings are located, were startled by the sound of a motor truck being unmanageable, and the big car almost struck a woman crossing the roadway. She barely escaped being hit and severely injured.

FIELD KITCHENS

The committee of the Independent Order of Foresters in charge of the campaign for a field kitchen have not yet received a reply from Lieutenant-Colonel McAvity to their asking if another field kitchen would be acceptable. While the kitchen has been presented to the 26th. It is understood that a battalion can use as many as four with advantage.

YORK MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

New York, Aug. 31.—When arraigned in Brooklyn on charges of espionage, Ignatius J. Lincoln, formerly a member of the British parliament and a self-confessed German spy, today admitted that he was a spy for a week. The request was granted.

HIS JUICY STEAK

He Called it Such, So His Wife Let Him Have It. "Some wives," remarked Sam Bernard the other day, "have terribly effective methods in training their husbands."

"A young man had the habit of returning home from the club occasionally in a state of semi-intoxication. He married not long ago and, although he decided to turn over a new leaf, the old habits were too strong for him and one night while out with the boys he took on board a trifle too much."

"Next morning he came down to breakfast with the dark brown taste. There was something on the plate before him which had evidently been cooked and was supposed to be food."

"He took it up on his fork and held it up, looking at it in wonder."

"What in the world," he demanded, "is this supposed to be, dear?"

"Well," replied the young woman, "with disdain, it looks very much like your new soft felt hat, and that is what I thought it was; but you pulled it out of your pocket when you came home last night and told me it was nice, fine, and that you bought it on the way home, and you wanted it broiled for breakfast. You can have it all. I'm not hungry."—Green Book Magazine.
