CLASSES IN N. B.

Miss Lawson and Miss Barrington Visit Various Places in Province

Returned from a two weeks' tour in the northeastern section of the province, the Junior Red Cross supervisor, Miss Jessie I. Lawson, and the organi zer of Red Cross home nursing classes Miss S. A. Barrington, report splendid achievements. Eight home nursing classes have been formed, the cases of 20 handicapped children have been investigated and addresses given in pub-lic meetings before women's meetings and in schools, and first steps taken towards the organization of several Junior Red Cross branches.

The Junior supervisor gave 14 addresses of which three were in French. Campbellton was first visited and there steps were taken for the organization of a Junior committee and a representative meeting was addressed. The two Red Cross workers then traveled by motor to Flatlands, admiring greatly the magnificent scenery.

The Junior Red Cross branch at Flatlands was visited and then they urneyed to Jacquet River, where Mrs. Paul Doyle is to organize a Junior Red Cross branch and where, through the co-operation of the C. W. L., with Mrs. Doyle's help, a home nursing class is to be formed. Next they motored along the Caraquet coast where the Junior supervisor visited six schools to oranches at Upper Caraquet, Caraquet and Paquetville. Arrangements were made for carrying forward at a later date a home nursing class at Caraquet

Chatham was next visited, where arrangements were made for home nursing classes to be held in the winter at the Hotel Dieu through the kind co-operation of the sisters. The class will be taught by the Metropolitan Life Insurance nurse. A home nursing class organized in this province.

The MISTAKE OF ROME. class was organized at Centre Napan where a meeting of the Women's Institute was addressed. The Junior supervisor visited the Junior branches world through the strength of nerve, brain and brawn obtained by their solutions.

Dr. Richard is much interested in the classes and has already addressed the French speaking group. the classes and has already addressed the French speaking group. Another home nursing class, composed of members of St. Cecilia's Society in the Catholic church is being organized and will be taught by Miss Gallagher. The fourth class is to be in the V. W. C. A. and will be taught by Miss Honeywall, of the V. O. N. staff.

The eighth home nursing class was met yesterday afternoon in Victoria met yesterday afternoon in Victoria.

The Queen's cold was much improved this morning but she rested before church eschewing the charms of the Metropolitan Art Gallery. Then accompanied by Prince Nicholas she went to Calvary Episcopal Church, where in company with a good sized congrega-tion she heard the Rev. Samuel Schumaker preach a sermon devoted to the simple truths of Christianity. After the service the Royal visitor went to an art gallery to see an exhibit by Sigsimond de Nagy, a Ruma-Don't Shoot hibit by Sigsimond de Nagy, a Rumanian. The Queen declared for buying a picture for her son-in-law, the King of Jugo-Slavia, and after some con-sideration decided on "Sunset," a large vivid canvas showing a troop of happy, laughing people going home under a glowing sky. It cost four thousand The performance at the Opera House was a ballet written by the Queen herself and entitled, "The Lily of Life." The performance was a benefit, a part of the proceeds being dediated to the Mothers' Memorial Foundation which is to build an "Acropolis to womanhood" in Washington.
