ST. ANDREWS, N. B., Oct. 6 .- The remains of the late Ewan Forster, whose death took place at Buffalo, N. Y., on Tuesday last, 4th inst., accom-panied by his father, W. D. Forster, and broher, H. Percy, arrived here by C. P. R. this afternoon. A number of persons assembled at the railway station, followed the hearse in which the casket was placed, to the residence of Mr. Foster, where it was deposited until the hour appointed for the funeral—four o'clock. At that hour a large concourse of citizens, included therein a number of the school mate. and companions of the acceased, met at the house to pay their last tribute of respect by following the remains to All Saints church. All who wished to look for the last time at the face of the deceased were afforded an opportunity to do so, and a mournful processioin passed around the casket to take a last farewell. On arrival at the church, the casket, covered with an elegant array of flowers, preceded by the Rev. C. W. Simonson, ourate reciting the service for the dead, was carried into and up the centre aisle of the church and placed on the tres of the church and placed on the tres-tle, while the service for the dead was read by the reverend celebrant. A very large number of people were pre-sent to participate in the solemn service. The hymns sung by the choir, Nos. 252, "Weary of Earth and Laden with My Sin;" No. 437, "For all the Saints who from their Labors Rest, were most feelingly and sweetly ren-dered by Mrs. G. H. Stickney, as was the Nunc Dimittle at the close. The remains were then lifted and by the cearers carried out (the organist meanwhile playing the dead march) placed in the hearse, and followed by a large cortege in carriages taken to the rural cemetery, where the concluding part of the solemn service and the commitment was read by the curate. As the bearers approached the grave with the casket, the choir, who stood in a group in the shade of the trees, north of and near to the grave, sang hymn No. 537, "Peace, Perfect Peace, in this Dark World of Sin," and at the conclusion, No. 231, "For Ever With the Lord!" The whole ceremony was a most impres-sive one. The rays of the setting sun threw a halo of light over the group assembled around the open grave, as they stood underneath the shadow of the cross erected to the memory of the deceased boy's mother, the late Mrs. Forster. Among those who came from a distance to attend the funeral were H. W. and Miss Thorne, C. M. Beal of St. John; John Black, man-ager of the Bank of Nova Scotia: H. Graham, collector of customs, St. Stephen. The contributors of floral offerings were: Mrs. C. SUSSEX, Oct. 6.—Few men have been more successful in gaining the good will and esteem of the people of Sussex and adjacent purishes than Rev. Father P. P. of the Roman Catholic church. Father Savage during his br. of residence in Sussex has well succeded in causing some reforms and many improvements for the benefit of his people. He was son convinced that the old church building at present used by them on Ward's creek road, built in the year of 1846. Inty-two years ago, had not only become uncomfortable and unfit for public worship, but twing to the many changes since its creetion had become quite inconventert for the majority of his church members, so with commendable ereigy he scon set about having a new and up to date obtained for the majority of his church members, so with commendable ereigy he scon set about having a new and up to date obtain the picturesque yiewed for the pulpose, and the picturesque of the subject of St. John was given the contract. Work was begun during the past summer. This building does not strictly follow any of the well accepted order of architecture, but is of a design prepared by Architect Most of St. John. In size the ground area of the new structure is $8.22 feet with a 22 feet ceiting. In addition to this is a vestry of 30.25 feet, the tower being about 70 feet high. The outside work of the whole is nearing completion, and indications are that St. Francischurch will be a very handsome structure and a credit not only to Father Savage but to the Catholics and the locality in which it is located.

Yesterday afternoon Father Savage placed the covery server and the server of the set well as the serv is located.

Yesterday afternoon Father Savage placed the corner stone of this structure in position in the presence of a large concourse of people. The stone, a pretty block of freestone, is the liberal gift of Stanton Bros. of your city in the masonry under the stone is placed a solid box prepared for the cocasion, which contains a memoranda of the work, several coins of 1893, copies of the St. John Dafly Sun and Telegraph of October 6, 1898, also a copy of the Kings County Record of the same date.

also a copy of the kings County Record of the same date.

Perhaps the most interesting part of the terminary was the putting in place of the large gitt cross on the summit of the spire, which is to be seen from almost all parts of the town. This concluded a most interesting event, and it was quite evident that all wish Rev. Father Savage may be spared to fill his clerical duties in St. Francis church, which will stand a memorial of his perseverance and industry and a credit to the Roman Catholic people.

Never was the Sussex grammar school so largely attended as at the present time. At the beginning of the present school termitwinty-three names of pupils were added to the list.

It was resolved to place the paper on the table for consideration. T. A. Hartt and other gentlemen criticised the report and accounts in a friendly way, suggesting where they thought the expenses of running the schools might be curtailed, and also that debentures might be issued and money got at a lower rate of interest than is now being paid. Mr. Forster said that the points suggested had been consider obstacles in the way of carrying them into effect. The trustees have no legal authority to issue debentures, and application would have to be made to the legislature for the passage of an act to authorise the issue of debentures. WOODSTOCK, Oct. 10.—There is serious talk among the leading business men of town of taking the inhitative towards starting a pulp mill in Woodstock. A meeting of those interested was held in H. P. Baird's office the other evening, among the representative men present being Mr. Baird, Hugh Hay, Junies Carr and A. Henderson. At a well outended meeting of the Board of Trade this evening H. P. Baird brought up the question of the pulp mill. Hugh Hay thought it would be a most profitable business for Woodstock. We have the wood here, and he thought that the chances of the success of a mill were very great. He knew of a mill in Liverpool, N. S., which turned out some 70 tons of pulp a day. It was claimed that it was erected at a over of $10,000, and cleared $35,000 in one year. We should get what capital we could here and go abroad for the rest.

Alex. Henderson strongly endorsed the proproced project. Something must be done to help the town along.

Mr. Hay said the Liverpool mill employed.

His worship the mayor had no doubt the town would vote $10,000 towards a sulphite mill.

Other gentlemen subscribed amounts toward bringing an expert on the pulp husiness. ness.

GOOD NOVELS ARE GOOD TEACH-

"But a good novel! Is there anything to equal it?" writes Ruth Ashmore in the October Ladies' Home Journal. "Think of the story of 'Henry Esmond'; think of the pleasures and joys that came to him, and then, sympathizing with him in his disappointments, being pround of him in his successes, following his fortunes into this pew land, you will go among the Virginians and there read how he was leved and respected. Or choose the 'Tale of Two Cities' and learn how one man can give his life for another beman can give his life for another be-cause he loved mach. Do you good? Such books can do nothing else. No really good novel ever induced a girl or a woman to imitate vice or to de-spise virtue. The novel is the printed panorama of life, and the tears, the smiles and the heartbeats that we, the readers, give to it. It makes the music that now is almost still, again is wild and weird like that of Hungary, and again has all the majesty of one of Mozart's masses. If you want to enjoy yourself, if you want to make life seem better and happier, lose your own personality in a good book."

THE LUMBER TRADE.

THE LUMBER TRADE.

The Winter's Cut on the St. John Will Be Small South American Trade.

A St. John millowner informed the Sun vesterday that the next winter's cut on St. John waters will probably not much exceed 75,000,000 feet. The contracts so far let for cutting logs are far short of last year's, it is too soun'to form an accurate estimate of the aumitiy of logs that will be carried ever, but they will be chiefly American logs. It is stared that Alexander Gibson bas about complete shipping the whole of his last year's cut, and that Donald Fraser & Sons and R. A. Estey of Fredericton will have few if any logs to carry over. In fact, the quantity of lumber sent forward has been in excess of what was expected earlier in the season. But the leason has been on the whole very unsatisfactory for shippers.

Nearly all the lumber now loading here on large vessels is for South America, and the most of the cut of the mills from this out will be for that market.

Donald Fraser & Sons have a lot of box stuff to ship to Scolland, but the Son was told yesterday that this would have to go via Boston or New York because of a lack of proper facilities for heading it at St. John. If the be true a remedy should be found Regarding the Miramichi, the quantity of lumber held there is far less than at this date last year, the shipments this year having been large.
