A violent dispute with M. Paul Lessar, Russian minister to China, over the Manchunian treaty, appears to have been the immediate cause of the death of Li Hung Chang. The diplomatic events preceding this tragic climax have enabled Japan for a moment to frustrate the designs of Russia.

A fortnight ago the Japanese legation secured a reliable outline of the terms of the treaty and thereupon demanded that the Chinese plenipotentiaries officially lay before them the text, basing this demand upon the allegation that Japanese interests we involved in any change of the status of Manchunia.

Touch of Royal Pomp When Monarch and Queen Joined the Guests--It Was a Picture Show of War Incidents and Other Subjects.

The only set indoor entertainment that marked the king's first visit to Balmoral took the interesting, if not especially exciting form of a cinematograph show. It was held in the ballroom—where the late queen sat out so many musical and dramatic performances—and consisted of some 60 items, in four sections. The first dealt with the South African war and the return of troops; the second showed incidents in the cruise of the Ophir; the third dealt mainly with the opening of parliament by the king; and the fourth was described as "various." sir Wilfrid Laurier's announcement last night in a speech at Montreal that the Canadian government would send no more delegations to Washington to seek reciprocity is significant. It has been a plank in both party platforms with our northern reighbors that such reciprocity should be obtained if possible, and delegations to Washington have been the recognized means of doing so, But the announcement apparently means more than the discontinuance of delegations, and points to the relinquishment of Canadian hopes that the joint high commission will meter again. Until his speech last night, Sir Wilfrid Laurier was always hopeful of another meeting of the commission. His utterance has additional significance owing to the arrival of Lord Pauncefote from London with the new canal treaty. Evidently Sir Wilfrid is not among those who insist that quid pror quo shall be given by the government of this country as compensation for abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. His speech last night was a hint to that effect. He knows that a concession in Alaska is out of the question, and now he intimates that reciprocity will not be sought by Canada. All the same his apparent disavowal of any Canadian interference in regard to the canal treaty is well calculated eventually to secure better terms in future negotiations with this country.—New York Commercial Advertiser.
