Glendon

"[Excalibur] disregarded our constitution," Barrett said. She added that Excalibur failed to give adequate notice of the referendum and that the posters and ballots were only English.

Regarding the actions of her executive members, Barret said, "there were no rules governing the referendum. There was no infringement."

Excalibur Advertising Manager Merle Menzies said, "We notified the community starting September 15, and Excalibur is an English-language publication."

Barrett said she will appeal to the Student Relations Committee, which will ultimately decide whether Excalibur receives the funding increase.

Provost Tom Meininger indicated that he, Barrett, CYSF President Tammy Hasselfeldt, and Graduate Student Association President Lee Wiggins have been working on a set of rules that would govern the referendums of independent bodies like Excalibur.

"Excalibur probably would not have fallen out of the [new referendum] guidelines, but that's speculative," said Meininger.
