

Fig. 7—This portable colony house for rearing chickens is made out of two piano boxes, with the backs taken out and placed back to back, on 3x6 inch runners...The illustration shows the method of yarding chicks until they are two weeks old at the College.

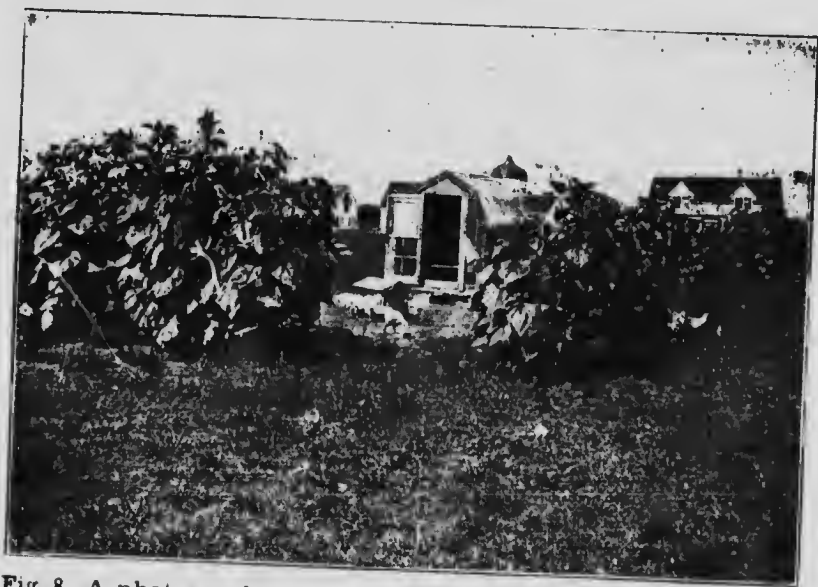

Fig. 8—A photograph illustrating the piano box colony house in use for raising chickens, and also the method of supplying shade for chickens. The self-feeding feed hopper as it is used in the Poultry Department, Manitoba Agricultural College.