The experiment tried by the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific railways of giving at the Easter holidays single fare tickets instead of fare-and-a-third and extending the limit from Thursdeay till to-morrow, has proved a huge success. The receipts at the Toronto offices were thousands of dollars ahead of the same day last year, and from all over the roads reports come in of crowded trains and heavy sale of tickets.

Fred. Williams, a colored youth of 16 years appeared before the judge to answer to the charge of disorderly conduct. Williams, with a party of other youths, was raising a disturb ance on King street last evening. The other boys ran away, but Williams was gathered in by P. C. Groves. This morning the lad told Judge Houston that his home was in Toledo and he had come over two weeks ago to visit his grandmother. He was remanded till Wednesday to secure the other members of the party.

THE PAVEMENT

Manager Stockton, of Lynch & Lynch, Endorses the Work on King St.

Thos. F. Stockton, of the firm of Lynch & Lynch, the contractors who last year laid the King street pavement, is in the city to-day.

In a chat with The Planet Mr. Stockton complained that an injustice had been done the pavement by our contemporary in a recent editorial, in which it was reported as caving in. The cave-in, Mr. Stockton pointed out, occurred on William street, and not in the pavement. In repairing the same a part of the pavement was taken up, and the cement complained of. For this complaint also Mr. Stock-on says there are no grounds. "As a firm we are well pleased and satisfied with the work we did on your King street pavement," he said. "I be-lieve the pavement will prove both permanent and satisfactory and one which the city will never have any reason to regret having laid. The work was all done carefully, thoroughy and well, and our firm will stand or fall by it.'

THE WHEAT CROP DEMANDS RAIN

Interesting Interview With N. H. Ster ens Concerning the Crop Outlook.

"This is nice weather but it is hard on winter wheat," said N. H. Stevens this morning. "These high winds, that are blowing, dry up the earth about the roots of the grain and then the earth is carried away by the force of the breeze. You have seen a wheat field after the frost has come out of the ground and you have noticed how the roots of the wheat are lying raised above the ground, and the field much resembles a huge honeycomb. Well wind like that blowing to-day will dry up the earth and carry away the soil from the roots. "I will venture to say that on sandy "I will venture to say that on sandy land the wheat is nearly dead now. "One year I had a field planted with wheat below Blenheim. The soil was heavy loam. Well, in the early part of May the weather was warm and dry winds blowing and as a result the earth in that field became dried out. The acreage planted in wheat looked as if it had been fireswent Just by dragging your foot swept. Just by dragging your foot along you could scrape up the roots and all. The crop was ruined and I had to plant the field in corn. "I fear very much for the wheat should this dry weather continue. We need rain and need it badly if the wheat crop is to be saved.

One of the Surprises

Of everyone who has visited this store during the last few days, is the stock in our Carpet Department, and well might it be sr, for our purchases for this spring have been on an extensive scale as regards size, quality and assortment. No one can make a mistake in purchasing Carpets here, but all "miss the mark" who neglect to know this store and its prices. We confidently assert that we are showing a larger assortment of High-grade Carpets than has ever been shown in Chatham.

Are beyond doubt the drawing room carpet, par excellence. Our showing com-prises Oriental, Conventional and Floral designs, in all desirable colorings, $1.40 per yard.
