Bank of P. E. Island.

The shareholders of the Bank of P. E. Island appealed against the judgement of the Supreme Court of the Island, fixing the Sustained by the higher court, the liability of the shareholders being fixed at $64.89 per share, iastead of $80. The amount at state was about $45,000, and the decision will be hailed with great satisfaction by the shareholders, who will have even now to pate onormously on their shares. The loss of this $45,000 will make a difference of about two cents to the dollar in the dividend payable by the bank.
