TOOK UP CASE IN A MOMENT.

Geo. S. Kerr Handled Defence Without Preparation.

Ringland vs C. P. R. on at the Sessions To-day.

Defendant Won Case of Higgins vs Stevens.

Ringland vs. C. P. R. was before the General Sessions during the entire morning, to-day, and, while not of great interest, proved sufficiently so before it was finished. Mr. Geo. S. Kerr was called to defend the action without any preparation. The C. P. R. lawyers are McMurchy & Co., of Toronto, and Mr. Pritchard and Mr. Denison, of that company, were here yesterday afternoon. They thought the case would not be brought up until this afternoon, and when it was called neither was present. It happened that Mr. Kerr was there when the case was called and as his firm are the agents for the McMurchy people in this city, he went in and defended the action. Mr. Kerr's only knowledge of the case was what he picked up as it went along. His address to the jury was well connected. The action is for $200 damages for the killing of a horse and damage to a wagon belonging to George Ringland. The plaintiff had a boy named George McDowell driving a team of horses down Garth street, and when the boy attempted to cross the C. P. R. tracks at that street the wagon and one of the horses were struck by a train going to Toronto. The evidence of the plaintiff was to the effect that the defendants did not have the automatic bell at the street ringing, and that the fireman did not ring the bell on the engine, and the boy, thinking the coast was clear, attempted to cross.

The defence said that the fireman had the bell on the engine ringing all the time, and that it must have been owing to the noise made by the train that the automatic bell at the crossing was not heard. The case went to the jury at 1 o'clock. Mr. W. A. Logie acted for the plaintiff.

The jury brought in a verdict for the defendant in the action of Higgins vs. Stevens, dismissing the action with costs. J. L. Schelter for the defendant and W. A. Logie for the plaintiff.

At the afternoon session yesterday, Judge Snider dismissed the jury in the action of Chamberlain vs. Cooper. It came in early in the afternoon, and announced that it could not agree. His Honor told the jurors that he would like them to come to a decision if it was at all possible. They retired, but came out about 4.30, and the foreman said that no decision could be arrived at, as the members could not make up their minds.

Judge Snider said he was sorry they could not come to an agreement, but he did not believe in sending them back again, as he did not want them to go against their consciences. The jurors were then discharged, and proceeded to get something to eat after four hours and a half's vigil. The case will be taken up at the next sitting of the court.

A PUBLIC MEETING.

this morning about the outlook, said the demands on charity were much heavier than they had been in several years. There are a lot of unemployed men, he says, including many new arrivals in the country, and some who have lived in Hamilton for several years.

The city officials want it clearly understood that the meeting called for tomorrow is not at their request. The thing they fear is a lot of unemployed flocking to Hamilton during the winter. The situation in Toronto is much worse than here, the city being flooded with newcomers out of work. The associated charities there have taken up the matter and are urging the Government to start any public works that may be contemplated at once, and to have it done by day labor. This, it is expected, will relieve the situation to some extent and keep a number of the unemployed from coming to Hamilton. Toronto is also talking of opening municipal eating-houses. "We do not expect that anything of the sort will be required here," said a city official to-day. "Hamilton will be able to take care of what it has as long as it is not burdened with the unemployed of other cities."

Notwithstanding the fact that there is not likely to be a contest for the Mayoralty in January, one of the liveliest municipal campaigns in the city's history is promised as a result of the activity of the temperance people this year. Things are beginning to warm up now. The conflicting interests of the temperance people and hotelmen are causing the politicians to wrinkle their brow. The temperance people and their opponents will be busily engaged in a week or so, getting the present aldermen and prospective candidates to declare themselves. Those supported by the temperance people will have the solid opposition of the liquor interests, and vice versa. The temperance element feels confident of electing a majority in favor of their cause, while the hotelmen predict that there will be less temperance aldermen in the 1908 Council than this year.

The Sewers Committee will have its final session this year at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to clean up a lot of unimportant business. The committee will have the proud distinction of closing the year without an overdraft. There is a small deficit in one department, but this is balanced by a surplus in another. A statement will be presented, showing the expenditure to date on the new annex sewer. The amount is about $17,000.

Building permits were issued this morning to James Holden & Son, for a brick house on Clyde street, between Cannon and Barton streets, to cost $1,900, and also for a frame house on Ferrie street, between Mary and Ferguson avenue, to cost $1,300.

The price paid by the Parks Board for the Gage property on the mountain is $3,000. Mr. Gage, however, gives the Board a generous gift of $500 cash to be used in completing the mountain boulevard and park scheme —Two busy places, waugh's post office opposite and the post-office, opposite waugh's. The Government is fortunate in having the post office in Hamilton opposite waugh's, and waugh's men's furnishing and hat store is pleased to have the post office opposite, where can you get a better assortment of ties, gloves, mufflers than at waugh's.

"QUEENIE"

The Smallest Horse in the World.

"Queenie," the smallest living horse ever shown in this city, is now on exhibition at the Stanley Mills & Co.'s. store.

All day long a throng of delighted children crowded around the little pony, petting and fondling the tiny stranger to their heart's content—and Queenie thoroughly enjoyed it all.

The firm have built a comfortable little box stall, up in Toyland, where even the tiniest tot may see her and there, for the full week she will eat, sleep and gaze at the little ones, with her big gentle brown eyes.

It's well worth a trip down town to see Queenie, and no one, young or old, should miss it.

Y. M. C. A. RELIGIOUS WORK.

The Religious Work Committee of the Y. M. C. A. held its regular meeting last night, W. J. Aitchison in charge. W. J. Shaw, the secretary, reported a deepening interest in spiritual metters among the members. Meetings are being held every night this week, and if the interest increases they will be continued and enlarged. Mr. W. J. Robinson reported a revival spirit among the members of the junior department, and a number of the older boys are banding themselves together to look after the unconverted boys in Hamilton.

The programme is arranged for the men's meeting Sunday afternoon, and also the song service on Sunday night. They will both be evangelistic.

Don't Think.

For a moment that the bottom is dropping out of business or values are any less when you see Fralick & Co. offering $15 overcoats at $9.98, or $8 overcoats at $4.98, or $15 suits at $8.98. We can well afford it at the price we paid for this stock. We are also selling off the Glencoe Woollen Co. stock of men's and boys' sweaters and coat jackets at half prices.

Note—Ask to be shown Hart Schaffner & Marx fine overcoats. Fralick & Co., 13 and 15 James street north.

Mr. Phillippo was working for the company and, in the discharge of his duty, had a thumb and one finger of the right hand taken off by a knife. He alleges negligence on the part of the company.

Charm of a Woman's Voice.

Very few women realize what an effect a sweet voice has on a man. A woman may be very pretty to look upon, may be faultlessly and bewitchingly attired and attractive in every way, and yet, too often, directly she opens her mouth and speaks the spell is broken, the charm is gone. And this need never be.

Very few voices are so naturally bad that they will not succumb to training, and the voice can be trained to be just as sweet and gentle as we please to make it. A woman should speak in a low voice. She should not allow her voice to raise itself to a high pitch. A shrill-voiced woman is terrible. She should not shout her orders to the servants down the stairs nor call to any one who may be in another part of the house. This shouting and raising of the voice spoil the tone and quality of the voice and tend to make it harsh. A pretty voice is a powerful attraction in a woman, and she who would add to her charms a wondrous fascination should cultivate a voice "ever soft, gentle and low."
