Sending Out Gold.

The Minister of Agriculture made a speech at the Agricultural Exhibition at Harbor Grace yesterday, so did His Excellency the Governor, and the Prime Minister. As the head of the Department of Agriculture was undoubtedly in his own province, his speech should naturally have been the speech of the occasion. It is interesting under the circumstances to examine how the Daily News treated his speech. One newspaper measure of value is the space devoted to the report. Under this estimate we find that the Daily News devotes one-third the space it devotes to the speech of the Governor, and one-fifth of the space it gives to that of the Prime Minister. Turning now to the intrinsic merits of the speech as shown by the contents of the report, we can express no surprise at the little space devoted to it, although the place was agricultural, the occasion agricultural, and the Minister agricultural. There is not one idea reported in the speech of any intrinsic agricultural value.

The Minister is reported as stating: (1) He had attended four exhibitions at Harbor Grace; (2) such exhibitions had been held there for 50 years; (3) financially they were always successful; (4) he congratulated the Society on their exhibits; (5) and he told the audience the Governor took an interest in agriculture, for which he called for cheers.

We are guided here solely by the report of the Daily News, the principal organ of the Government, and in which might be expected the most favourable setting forth of the speech. To those who heard the Minister's speech at the opening of the Exhibition in St. John's, the Daily News report will be no surprise.

Turning now to the Premier's remarks on Agriculture, we find the same old story. Millions in gold are being sent out of the country which might be turned to the raising of cattle, sheep and produce. He enlarged on the possibilities Newfoundland affords for poultry raising, and that much might be done in the raising of hogs, a million a year being spent on importing pork.

We agree with the sentiment expressed, but we differ widely from him in the way of bringing it about. The most caustic comment that can be made on the policy that the Government has pursued since they came into office is the fact that the Government has had to remove the duty on imported hay to save the lives of cattle.

We differ materially from the Government in their policy of providing a livelihood for certain Government members of the Assembly out of the money that would more wisely have been spent in Agricultural education, experimental farming, and the engagement of experts on the science and art of Agriculture. That is the policy which has proved the Agricultural success of the age. That is the policy instituted by a practical farmer and a man of great statecraft, the Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Bond. That is the policy which was turned down by Sir Edward Morris, and that is the only policy which can get from Newfoundland what Nature intended it shall bring forth.

Bonne Bay Herring Fishery.

Arrivals here by last night's express say that herring are abnormally plentiful at Bonne Bay. The Messrs. Cairnes this year are going in largely for the industry and have imported an expert from Germany to put the fish up after the method in vogue in that country and which is said to be excellent.

Stella Maris Report.

The Reid Nfld. Co. had the following message this morning from the Stella Maris via Grady:—

"Arrived at Nain on the 22nd. landed freight and passengers; weather north is best for season. Government crews from Turnavik, Iliak and Makovick proceeding to Domino."

These people will likely come up on the Solway, and the Stella Maris will likely make another trip north.

The Lighter SideLESS THAN KIND.

Mr. Ballington Booth tells a story of a woman who stood up to testify to her conversion, and who, with great earnestness denounced her former ways.

"I was very foolish and vain," she said; "worldly pleasures and especially the fashions were my only thought. I was fond of silks, satins, jewellery, ribbons, and laces. But, my friends, I found they were dragging me down to perdition, so I gave them all to my sister!"

HIS TRADE?

His Lordship: "What is your occupation?"

Bill Sykes: "I'm a locksmith your worship."

His Lordship: "When did you last pursue your trade?"

Bill Sykes: "Last night me lud."

His Lordship: "Last night! Why you are convicted for breaking in a house last night."

Bill Sykes: "Yes me lud, but when I heard the copper come, I made a bolt for the door."

The small child has been silent for half an hour and her anxious mother at last found her with an alarm clock ticked to her foot.

"What mischief are you up to now, darling?" she inquired.

"Foot's asleep, and I want to waken it," was the reply.

NO REPORT OF INVERMORE.—Owing to interruption of the wires today there is no report of the Invermore.

Mr. P. F. Moore discovered within the past twenty-four hours that besides the lead and brass stolen from him last week, that a considerable quantity of copper valued at least at $40 has also disappeared. The police are investigating.

McMurdo's Store News.

THURSDAY, Oct. 31, '12.

Our Aromatic Cascara is one of the best laxatives for general use that can be had. The dose is small and can easily be regulated to suit the individual case; the mixture is pleasant to take and easy and certain in its effects. Cascara is well known to be the ideal tonic laxative, and when, as in McMurdo's Aromatic Cascara, it is rendered palatable and pleasant to the taste, the popularity of such a preparation is not a matter of wonderment. For occasional or habitual constipation it is not easily surpassed, and its continual use tends to strengthen the bowels. Price 25c. a bottle.

We still have some very fine Dutch Flowering Bulbs left which we are selling at reasonable prices. Your orders will have prompt attention.

The S. S. Morwenna, Capt. Holmes, is now twenty-four hours overdue from Montreal via Gulf ports. The steamer left Sydney at midnight Monday and was thirty-six hours, which is her regular time, on the passage at noon yesterday. She must have had a rough experience in the storm reported by the Stephano, and some of the cattle which she has on deck must have perished or washed overboard.

Hr. Grace Notes.

Quite a storm of wind and rain raged here last night, but we have not heard of any damage being done except a few electric light wires, which were blown down by the force of the wind.

Mrs. Eliza Brazil passed away last evening after a short illness. Her death was due to a stroke of paralysis on Friday last. Mrs. Brazil was a very successful nurse and a more than ordinarily skilful woman. Her services were always available, as she was ever ready to relieve suffering if at all in her power. She was about 65 years of age, and leaves two daughters, one—Mrs. K. Alcock—here, and Mrs. H. Andrews at Montreal. She also leaves two sons—one in St. John's and the other in Montreal. We offer these and other relatives our sympathy in their bereavement.

Mr. George Curtis (cooper), who is at present employed at St. John's, returned to the city this morning after a few days' visit to his family here.

Miss May Martin, daughter of Mr. Adam Martin, of Heart's Content, spent last week in town visiting friends. While here Miss Martin was the guest of Mrs. Susan Wells.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Gordon took place this afternoon and was attended by a large number of citizens.

Mr. John G. Munn, Master Frank and Miss Jean Munn and maid, left by this morning's train for St. John's, where they will reside in future.

Councillor Mullaly, of St. John's, was among our visitors in town to-day. The genial Councillor never fails to visit this old town when "there is anything doing." We hope he will sow the seed for a Town Council for Harbor Grace to bloom forth in the near future.

The special train bearing the Governor and party and other visitors arrived at the station here at 11.30 this forenoon. Owing to the very disagreeable weather a comparatively small number of citizens were there to welcome them. Immediately on arrival the Governor and party together with the citizens proceeded to the Marine Railway Docks, which were to be formally opened by His Excellency. The British Society and C. C. bands and the K. E. and C. C. Brigades were lined up on the Beach and saluted the King's representative as he passed along. His Excellency spoke very encouragingly to the ladies and their officers, assuring them of the gratification it was to him to meet them. The boys then gave three hearty cheers for the King's representative. The opening of the Dock then took place. Mr. Ernest Simmons, Vice-President of the Company, in introducing the Governor, made some very appropriate remarks, showing the large measure of success that has attended the efforts of the Company up to the present—remarks that were well made and equally well received by the large number of citizens present. His Excellency then announced that he would now set the machinery in motion and formally open this up-to-date Marine Dock.

The schr. Henry Montague was on at the time, and she was run out and again drawn in to the satisfaction of all present. Flags were flying at the dock and surroundings. The Governor and party then repaired to Bannerman House, the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Archibald, on Bannerman Street, where dinner was served.

Our Agricultural Exhibition opens at 3.30, and from 5 to 6 p.m. the Governor will be at the Court House, where he will receive those of our citizens that may call on him.

Despite the very backward weather for crop raising this season the number and variety of the exhibits compare favourably with those of other years, and I am sure your St. John's folks will bring back a favorable report from the Bay City.
