ASQUITH ARRAYS ADMINISTRATION.

LONDON, Nov. 19. Strong condemnation of Government Irish policy, and reprisals in Ireland, was voiced by former Premier Asquith in a speech at the National Liberal Club to-day. He declared that cold blooded, deliberate murder had been traced and credited to uniformed servants of the Crown, and asserted things were being done in Ireland "by authority and incitement of the lowest despotism of the European world. The plain truth is," said Asquith, "that since the adoption of this practice of reprisals, without parallel, so far as my knowledge of history goes, in annals of a British administration, justice has been put into the background and vengeance had been enthroned in its place. The Executive, with its agents and servants, has allowed itself to be the minister of a policy of blind, pitiless and indiscriminate revenge. There is an overwhelming case for inquiry, but as it was contemptuously and rigorously refused, one is obliged to draw one's own conclusions."

STEEL PLANTS LAYING OFF MEN.
SYDNEY, Nov. 19. One hundred men, employed in the Mechanical Department of the Dominion Iron and Steel Co. are to be laid off to-morrow. It is expected that more men will be out of work in various departments of the plant next week. The lay-off is due to the fact that business is not looking up, as one official is reported to have said. The number to be laid off immediately, is one eighth of the total number of employees of the Mechanical Department.

ROYAL ENGAGEMENT FORESHADOWED.
LONDON, Nov. 20. Crown Prince Charles of Roumania is seen constantly in the company of the Princess Helene of Greece, and an engagement, says the Times, is expected within a few days. If it takes place it will have an important effect on the future of the Balkan States.

NO USE FOR SOLDIERS NOW.
TORONTO, Nov. 19. Hon. Arthur Meighen, in his first appearance before a large audience in Toronto as Prime Minister of Canada, was given a receptive demonstration to-night that was as unique as it was enthusiastic and vociferous.

ten foot wall, when the house where he was staying secretly was raided. In this raid the military captured documents concerning an alleged plot to infect Crown troops with typhoid fever and cavalry horses with glanders, as announced by Sir Hamar Greenwood in the House of Commons.

THE FIRST BREACH.
DUBLIN, Nov. 20. The City Council yesterday passed a resolution deciding that in future it would comply with requirements of the Local Government Board and carry on business irrespective of the demands of Dail Eireann. This is the first breach among Irish local bodies in loyalty to Irish Republican Parliament.

STARVING REFUGEES.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 20. Large numbers of refugees are still arriving from Crimea, and hundreds of the refugees are starving. Red Cross units have been mobilized to cope with extreme conditions and to prevent the spread of disease.

The Fish Situation.

Ample proof of the fact that Coaker's statements and promises in connection with Labrador fish are not to be relied upon easily is gained by anyone who cares to go along the water front and question the masters of fishing vessels. The same old story is told by every one. There is absolutely no sale for Labrador fish. Every skipper questioned by the Telegram had the same tale to relate. One man, a native of Bonavista, whom we had met yesterday parading the streets with a "yaffle" of fish under his arm told us to-day that he had tried every merchant in town with his prime No. 1 Labrador, and could not get an offer. He was then going down to see Coaker. Two men from Trinity Bay had similar experiences. One schooner has been in port two weeks and as yet, only a small part of her cargo has been sold. The fishermen are unanimous in thinking Coaker's meeting a "con." A schooner owner who saw him last night was told that things would brighten up within a few days. We hope so, but we may be excused for having our doubts about anything that Mr. Coaker says.

Men from Fair Islands were spoken to this morning, they were then going to board their schooners with their yaffles. They had been all up town and had afterwards gone to Job's, where they were told the fish was of choice quality, and that it should fetch $3.00 but to come along later to the Bait's and they were told to come on Monday and to have patience. Mr. Murray, so the men said, told them yesterday that he was done buying. We understand that this firm is loading a vessel in the stream from schooners, the fish having been engaged last week. At Bishop & Sons a vessel was discharging Labrador and the owner of the fish said he would not like to say that he was getting $3 for it. He guessed it would be $2. This man is a trader and brought the fish from the French Shore. At an East End premises there was a lot of activity in shore fish mostly from neighbouring settlements. The owners were complaining of the cull and some pony loads hauled to other premises where they thought they would get better cull. A boat load of fish from the Bait's was thrown up and culled, but when the owner found that his produce which, he said should at least be Madeira, was cut $2 below time price viz: $3.00 he took it back again. He, however, sold 17 qtls. of No. 1 for which he received $10 per qt. It seems, so the fishermen say, that the cullers are running the fish mostly West India for which shippers get $4.00. At a central premises a cargo of Labrador was started but when the wharf boss would not let it pass for No. 1, saying it was not salted enough. The owner protested and landing was stopped. An appeal to Chief Inspector Mr. Power was then made. He, however, had not been at the premises mentioned up to one o'clock.

INCENDIARY FIRES.
BELFAST, Nov. 19. The Ulster College of Irish at Clughdrady, County Donegal, was destroyed by fire to-day, and co-operative stores and theatre also were burned. Both fires are believed to have been of incendiary origin.

EACH WAITING FOR THE OTHER.
GENEVA, Nov. 19. Mandates upon diplomacy and admission of former enemy States to the League of Nations furnished to-day's meat for discussion of the League Conference. For the first time the word "revision" was pronounced in connection with Article Eighteen of the Covenant of League, which provides for the registration of treaties or international engagements. For the first time also the viewpoint of labor as regards the League was presented by George Nicoll Barnes, of the British delegation, who gained applause when he declared that a general peace is impossible until we have industrial peace, and industrial peace is impossible until labor gets its full share of the product of its own effort. Twice again the admission of former enemies into the League was advocated. Labor was quoted by Mr. Barnes as in a large majority demanding it.

These now have been represented in the demands for the admission of former enemy States, South Africa, Great Britain, Switzerland, Argentina and Scandinavia. It still appears, however, that not one of the delegations is ready to take the initiative in proposing the election of Germany to membership.

Cape Breton Miners Idle.

The situation in coal mining circles in Cape Breton to-day is indeed truly alarming. To-day every colliery of the Scotia Company at Sydney Mines is idle, all because of the unrest among the men, it is claimed, by the report brought back from Montreal by President Baxter and Secretary J. B. McLaughlin, of the U.M.W. regarding the proposed contract wage.

A mass meeting of the miners of Sydney Mines was called for yesterday afternoon, but the union quarters of the men was far too small to accommodate those who gathered to hear the report from the members of the Wage Scale Committee, Messrs. D. Macdonald and W. Fellows, who returned from Truro Saturday morning. The meeting at Sydney Mines this morning was a wild one, so far as the feelings of the men were concerned, and that an immediate strike would be welcomed by many was plainly expressed. The meeting was strongly in favor of maintaining adherence to their original demands, and after appointing several additional delegates to attend the conference to-morrow at Truro, it adjourned after about an hour's session. So far as can be learned this afternoon there will be no work in the collieries to-morrow.—North Sydney Herald, Nov. 15.

Wreckage Picked Up.

SUPPOSED FROM SCOTSMAN.
The Deputy Minister of Customs has received the following message from the sub-collector of Customs at Bonne Bay: "Operator at Cow Head reports some wreckage consisting of 7 hatches, picked up by residents there; presume these must belong to the 'Scotsman' which left here last Saturday for Halifax and has not yet been reported as having arrived."

MINARD'S LINDIMENT—RELIEVES COLDS, Etc.

Lindsay Crawford Got Poor Hearing.

Amherst, N.S., Nov. 15.—A stormy scene ensued at a mass meeting held here under the auspices of the Irish Self-Determination League, when the speaker of the meeting, Lindsay Crawford, an Irish agitator, narrowly escaped being mobbed when he uttered certain statements regarded by his hearers as anti-British. The Great War Veterans attended the meeting in a body and registered a strong objection when the speaker stated that the returned soldiers of Canada had not been given a square deal. When the speaker was asked whether he represented DeValera, and whether he had stated in the United States that Canada would be a republic in a few years' time he evaded the questions. Later when he was asked why he had not joined in the singing of the National Anthem, he stated words to the effect that he would not sing God Save the King until Ireland got her independence. This was the signal for cries of "Down with Lindsay Crawford," and the timely dropping of the curtain doubtless saved him from being forcibly handled. The meeting broke up in disorder with rousing cheers for the British Empire, without the ends of the Self-Determination League being furthered to any extent.
