MR. LAW DIED OF SEPTIC PNEUMONIA.

LONDON, Oct. 30. The official bulletin issued by Mr. Bonar Law's physicians stated as follows: Mr. Bonar Law died at three o'clock following an acute attack of septic pneumonia.

Five months ago, on May 20th, Mr. Bonar Law resigned the Premiership after seven months in office, because of a throat ailment which had for a long time troubled him. Reluctant to admit the end of his career he retained his seat in the House of Commons, where he has made several appearances since. Ten days ago he returned from Brighton after a sojourn of several weeks. His physician issued a statement that he had contracted a severe chill, but the public did not believe that the end was so near until they read in the newspapers that he had contracted septic pneumonia and was dangerously ill, and shortly after the newspaper extra gave news of his death. Mr. Law's daughter, his only near relative in England, was with him during his last sickness. His two sons were killed in the war, a blow from which he never really recovered. When this Canadian Scotchman, who was born in New Brunswick on September 16, 1858, accepted office, his friends well knew that his health was precarious. Outside a close circle it was known only that he suffered from some throat ailment. Law knew his condition and told the Unionist party that immediately he found his strength inadequate he would resign.

NOT UNEXPECTED.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30. The news of the death of Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George until he had breakfast on his private train which reached here this morning. The former Premier was visibly affected by the death of the British statesman with whom he had worked so closely during the last year of war and the first year of peace. "I saw him shortly before coming to this country," he said, "and the news was not unexpected by me."

CONFERENCE ASSURED.

LONDON, Oct. 30. Europe is to have another effort to unravel the everlasting reparations tangle. The British Government today decided to accept the French Premier's reservations and the British Charge D'Affairs at Washington was instructed by cable to inform Secretary Hughes of the decision of the powers to enter a conference of experts such as Mr. Hughes suggested in his reply to Foreign Secretary Curzon's invitation for United States participation. If all goes well, this commission will be started before the overseas members leave London, and it is hoped that in spite of France's reservations it may lead to a larger plenary conference on the whole European situation at Washington or elsewhere, in which powerful neutral nations like the United States may make their voice heard.

SECOND RACE TO-DAY.

HALIFAX, Oct. 30. International schooner racing received a set back to-day at the hands of the weather man and as a result, the series stands to-night exactly where it stood at this time last night, one magnificent win for the Bluenose and one or possibly two more races to sail. This morning brought the most useless sailing weather that could possibly be imagined. A record breaking fog entirely confounded this part of the sea coast. There was not a breath of air to stir it, even when the sun had melted the fog away the breeze failed to come out, and at eleven o'clock after breakfast, the race had been finally postponed. The southwest wind blew brisk enough to give the schooners a race had they been outside, but it was too late. Weather forecasts indicate that a half gale may be looked for to-morrow, and the disappointed fans are looking for the real race when the two contenders for the International Cup again head for the starting line. Both schooners dropped out for a trial spin this afternoon, after remaining tied up all morning.

OSLO INSTEAD OF CHRISTIANIA.

DOORN, Holland, Oct. 30. A stone thrown by an unknown person struck Princess Hermine on the ear while she was walking with her children last evening in the woods near the Chateau of her husband the ex-Kaiser of Germany. She was seriously hurt. The police made several arrests but guilt has not been established and the entire village is greatly upset.

TO DISCUSS REPARATIONS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. Willis R. Booth, President of the International Chamber of Commerce and Vice-President of the Guaranty Trust Company, sailed to-day on the Mauretania for Paris, to arrange for a special conference of delegates from thirty-eight nations to make recommendations regarding the proposed reparations discussion advocated by Secretary Hughes.

A REBUFF FOR LARKIN.

DUBLIN, Oct. 30. James Larkin wrote President Cosgrave yesterday offering to settle all labor disputes in the Irish Free State if the Chief Executive would release political prisoners. President Cosgrave returned a caustic reply expressing his disbelief in Larkin's ability or desire to settle any dispute.

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about 60¢.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is 18 ounces of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made and saves easily 60¢. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and hoarseness, soothes inflamed membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to treat up coughs, colds, and to avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

Easterners' Smoker Very Successful

NEWFOUNDLAND CLUB HOLDS FIRST SMOKER.

"Newfoundland is not a land of ice, snow and Eskimos, but rather one of green meadows, trout pools, and sport palaces." So said C. F. Blackler, president of the McGill Newfoundland Club at its first smoker held in the lounge room of the Union last night, and the spirit of the fifty odd students present bore out his statement. The smoker was a huge success in spite of the counter attraction of the Arts Undergraduate upstairs.

Owing to the unavoidable absence of Dean Thornton of the Faculty of Dentistry, who was to have been the main speaker of the evening, Colonel Renout was called upon to take the floor and he amply filled the bill. Colonel Renout has been away from Newfoundland for forty-two years, but still counts himself an Islander, and takes a great interest in all the affairs of his former home.

The principal part of his address was devoted to the reading of an exhaustive account of what is known as the "Humber Project," the details of which must have required a great deal of time and trouble to compile. The Humber project is a proposed contract between the British Government, the Newfoundland Government and the Armstrong-Whitworth Company, with the object of developing the pulp and paper industry in the region of Junction Brook and Grand Lake. The scheme involves the erection of a large pulp and paper mill to be operated by electricity obtained from nearby sources. This project, besides developing the natural resources of the country would give employment to a large number of men and would consequently tend to check the appalling migration of people to the mainland which has been taking place for the past few decades. The money for the scheme is to be raised by the sale of bonds guaranteed by the British Government, and preferred work of the Whitworth-Armstrong Company. Judging from the statements made by Colonel Renout the interests of Newfoundland in every possible way, and extraordinary development in some of the Newfoundland towns should result. According to him it is a mystery why there should be any criticism of the project as the plans are flawless.

Dr. Hatcher then tendered his resignation as honorary president of the Club. In a few well chosen words he expressed his appreciation of the position which he has held so long, but stated that owing to pressure of other duties his decision had to be accepted as final. Besides, he said, the flagstaff of the ship had to be changed once in a while. In closing his brief speech he made a strong appeal to the men, especially those in Applied Science, to go back to Newfoundland not to dig dreams, but to take an intelligent part in the affairs of the country.

Following a short message of greeting from the Newfoundland Society represented by Mr. James, and several interesting anecdotes by Colonel Renout, the meeting adjourned to the cafeteria, where a delicious supper was served. A few impromptu speeches, a joke or two, and the gathering broke up with expressions of hearty good will on all sides.

The business of the Club which was transacted at the commencement of the meeting included nominations for the various offices for the coming year. The elections will take place at the next meeting which will be held in about two weeks.

4,000,000 Gallons of Water Used

TO FILM FLOOD SCENE.

Fifty-Two Buildings Demolished by Terrific Deluge in "Town That Forgot God."

More than 4,000,000 gallons of water were used to stage the flood for the wonderful realistic climax to the William Fox special production "The Town That Forgot God," now showing at the Majestic Theatre. The village was built at the foot of a hill near Port Leo, New Jersey.

More than ten miles of hose were used in filming the flood scenes. More than seventy-five thousand gallons of water were turned loose into the town at one time. In order to obtain varied views of this flood and the destruction it caused, it was necessary to stage the scene six times before the desired results were obtained.

Some idea of the immensity of this piece of work is obtained when it is realized that, in all, the equivalent of ninety railroad tank cars was used. Although only six evenings were spent in actually making the scenes, the work, including construction, consumed ten weeks.

Bunny Grauer, the boy actor, has the leading role in "The Town That Forgot God" which is one of many special productions William Fox is releasing during the current season.
