"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced. It relieved me of that faint, tired, all-gone feeling. Stringent laws are never objected to by honeat owners of horseflesh, and public confidence in the sport is added to considerably.

The ministerial fraud, R. Mefiath Neale, who imposed on the First Congregational Church, of this city, and was finally forced to leave this vicinity, has been again posing as a minister as Athens, Pennsylvania, and his character has been found out by the people of that place. J. C. Barrows, secretary of the Olinda Universalist Society, saw accounts in the Adventures of Neale's proceedings in this city and other places. He subsequently noticed that one Neale was preaching at Athens, so he wrote to the chairman of the Pennsylvania Convention, detailing the London affair. The matter was investigated theroughly by the trustees of the Pennsylvania Universalist Convention and the following resolution was adopted:

"Whereas, a person calling himself Rev. R. Neale and professing to be a clergyman in good standing in one of the orthodox churches, but bringing no credentials with him, appeared some months ago in Athens, Pa, and secured an engagement to preach in the Universalist Church in that place, and
