Literary Notes.

COLLIER'S HOUSEHOLD NUMBER FOR JUNE.

Collier's Popular Household Number for June presents a choice variety of instructive and entertaining reading. King Edward's visit to Paris is well described by Richard Harding Davis, while Frederick Palmer tells of the British sovereign's sojourn in Rome—both articles being liberally illustrated with photographs. "Why Mr. Cricket Has Elbows On His Legs" is lucidly explained by Joel Chandler Harris, in the first of a new series of "Uncle Remus" stories, which form a feature of this number. The story of the "Incomparable Belairs" is continued, and is illustrated by Orson Lowell. Oother articles of interest are: "Seen From the Study Window," by Norman Hapgood; "Social Problems in the Home," by Lavinia Hart, besides the usual comprehensive summary of current news under the heading of "Men and Doings," editorials and the regular departments—making altogether an attractive budget of reading.

THE RED BOOK.

The June number of the Red Book" fully redeems the promises of success which the earlier issues gave, its literature, art and typography being thoroughly good throughout. Mr. David Graham Phillips opens the June number with a striking story in dramatic form, entitled "A Point of Law," and a dozen other writers of recognized merit contribute short stories. The admixture of gay and grave, romance and mystery, adventure and character, is proportioned in a degree to please the most exacting seeker for good short action. The Red Book adds materially to its attractiveness by introducing half-tones as illustrations, where in the beginning only line drawing were used, and altogether the magazine is one of the most attractive of all the lighter periodicals.

TOWN TOPICS.

A strong story of life in the inner circles of New York society is "The Curse of Hymen," by J. H. Twells, jun., the compiete novel of "Tales From Town Topics" for June. The tragic incidents of an unhappy marriage form the basis of the story, and the social conditions that make such marriages too common are not spared. The best of the short stories are "Dmitri of the Don," by Anneta Josefa Hainday; "A Modern Gabrina," by Chas. Stokes Wayne"; "The Warrington Divorce," by Kate Masterson"; "An Adventure Which Taught," by the Divorcee, and "In Silk Attire," by Percival Pollard. For variety there are light, clever essays on Saratoga, Newport and on "The Hotels of Manhattan," some good verse, one or two amusing little burlesques, and many witticisms.

BOOKLOVERS' MAGAZINE.

There was always something fascinating in Bill Nye's personality, as well as in his humor. Now, seven years after his death, the Booklovers' Magazine, in the June number, renews public interest in him by a full-page portrait and a series of illustrated articles, in which some of the famous cartoons of Walt McDougall and F. Opper, with which they illustrated Nye's writings, are reproduced from the original drawings. One of Nye's best stories is printed side by side with a critical estimate by Professor Hancock, of Haverford College, and glowing tributes follow from Nye's intimate friends, James Whitcomb Riley and Walt McDougall, and from Nye's publisher, J. B. Lippincott.

150th Anniversary.

All Humors

Are impure matters which the skin, liver, kidneys and other organs can not take care of without help, there is such an accumulation of them.

They litter the whole system.

Pimples, boils, eczema and other eruptions, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, bilious turns, fits of indigestion, dull headaches and many other troubles are due to them.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove all humors, overcome all their effects, strengthen, tone and invigorate the whole system.

"My health was poor and I suffered much from hives and kidney trouble. After taking two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I was cured. I regard this medicine as superior to all others." MRS. JOSEPH HOLLINSHEAD, Harrison, Ontario.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

Township Councils.

WESTMINSTER.

Minutes of a meeting of the Westminster Township Council, members all present. A communication was read from Mr. E. Meredith, asking damages to the amount of $300 for a mare belonging to Mr. Fitzpatrick, of Belmont, claiming that she was injured on a defective road in Belmont village, between Westminster and South Dorchester. A committee was appointed to attend to the same.

Mr. Fred Hubbard asked the council for aid to clean out ditch opposite Mr. Dick's hothouses on baseline. H. Mair is to attend to same.

Mr. Hiram Jones was promised bounty on wire fence on west side of road south of White Oak, between cons. 4 and 5.

Bylaw No. 605, re London, Aylmer and North Shore Electric Railway, was read the third time and passed.

Mr. Buchanan and George Trigger applied for grant of gravel on Yarmouth townline. A committee was appointed to meet a committee of the Yarmouth council on Monday, June 15.

The court of revision of the assessment of the Township of Westminster was then opened. The members subscribed to the legal declaration of office and elected Jos. Dale chairman. The following complaints were considered: Robert J. Beattie protested against $2,200 assessment; raised to $2,300. Thomas Walker, Belmont, against $200 assessment; reduced $100. The folowing owners of dogs were struck off the roll—one dog each: John Nichol, sen., Mr. Pearson, Lawrence Deadman, Walter Strumidge, Peter McMillan, George Willsie, S. McCallum, Mrs. Orman and Richard Pincombe.

The court then adjourned until the first Monday in July.

Before final adjournment, Mr. Gartshore and Mr. A. Stewart addressed the council, asking them to consider the advisability of opening certain roads south and east of McClary's new works, as they intended to build a bridge over the river if the county would assist them.

Moved by J. Dale, seconded by J. H. Mair, that this council is of the opinion that it would be in the interests of the Township of Westminster and of the county generally, to have a bridge built across the River Thames on Adelaide street, a site would afford a more convenient entrance from Westminster to certain parts of the city, and it is desirable to take such steps as may be found most expedient by opening certain township roads to make efficient use of the proposed bridge, if built, and the council recommends the building of the bridge to the favorable consideration of the county council.

Bylaw No. 606, to commute statute labor in the police village of Belmont, was read a second time.

Bylaws No. 607 and 608 were read the third time and passed, to borrow money until the taxes come in.

Bylaw No. 609, appointing township officers, was read the third time and passed.

Next meeting of council, first Monday in July. George Riddell, clerk.

MISSOURI FLOOD BRINGS DISTRESS

Smallpox Breaks Out in the Vicinity of St. Louis.

WATERS COMMENCE TO RECEDE

The River Is Half a Mile Wide and Ninety Feet Deep—Many Lives Lost.

St. Louis, June 9. — At the rate of from 8 to 10 miles an hour, the Mississippi River, over half a mile wide and 90 feet deep in the channel, is pouring past St. Louis toward the gulf. For a week the river crept out of its ordinary confines, until yesterday it had established a mark of 37.5 feet, the highest flood tide since 1858. Today the river is receding.

The crest of the flood passed St. Louis early today, and any further destruction to be wrought will be from the possible crumbling of undermined buildings, and to the country below this point, danger of which is lessened by the spreading of the river over the lowlands. Reports from Madison, Granite City and Venice indicate that the death list may be larger than first estimated. A report was received early today from Newport that a school building, in which were sheltered fifty children, was tottering, and threatened to collapse at any moment. Appeals were made for assistance, but there was no way to reach the children from St. Louis or East St. Louis, the only places that can now tender aid. In one party of refugees near Edwardsville, four cases of smallpox developed yesterday. The officials of Madison county are doing all in their power to isolate the cases and prevent a spread of the disease.

Numerous families, penniless, and having no friends to whom they can go, refuse to leave their flooded homes. In many cases these people are actually starving and food will be furnished them by men in skiffs at once.

W. R. Wilkinson, a commission merchant at Cape Girardeau, 150 miles below St. Louis, arrived here last night by boat, after a long, hard struggle, against the current, and reports that the damage to crops between St. Louis and Cape Girardeau will amount to $2,000,000. Many refugees were seen, clinging to floating houses, and Mr. Wilkinson thinks it probable that several lives have been lost.

GLITTERING PRODUCTION

Ringling Brothers Present Jerusalem and the Crusades.

Jerusalem and the crusades is the subject of a magnificent spectacle produced by Ringling Brothers with their world famous shows this season. There are 1,200 people in the cast, a ballet of 300, and a singing chorus of 200. The music is original, and is rendered by a superb grand pipe organ, the only portable one ever made, and a selected band of 50 soloists. The scenic embellishment is gorgeous in the extreme, painted by the greatest American artists, and the 2,000 costumes worn by the vast company are of Parisian make and design. The fabrics are of the costliest texture and richest coloring, and the fashions of exquisite picture effects, and classical. The days of chivalry, "when knighthood was in flower," are reproduced with faithful portraiture of splendid men and women and their exhilarating pastimes and enjoyments. The great stage is larger than a hundred theater stages combined, and the massive settings and historical properties require a special train for transportation. Never in the history of the circus has a spectacle been produced of the magnitude and regal splendor of this Ringling Brothers performance. All the pastimes of the middle ages are exemplified in thrilling action by dueling experts of skill and strength. Jousting tilts, sword combats, spearing contests, acrobatic exploits, equestrian trials, riding accomplishments, and many other exciting sports of the chivalric age, are illustrated in whirling tourneys. The radiant costumes and blazing jewels of royalty, its courtly dignitaries and smiling favorites; the imperial purple and sparkling gems of ecclesiastical rank; the glitter and clatter of armored soldiery; the charm of dancing girls with garlands, singing maidens and devout matrons; the shield and helmet emblazonry of mounted knights; the prismatic coloring of the swirling scenes, animated by ever going and different throngs; the majestic music of a soul-stirring grand organ, blending harmoniously with 50 solo instruments; all these brilliant features, and many more of fascinating importance, enthrall the senses of the spectator, and make the production the most munificent and attractive ever offered the American public. The grand pageant in honor of the departure of the crusaders on their holy mission is a processional display in which are presented more interesting historical types, more beautiful costumes, more elaborate scenic decorations, more novel and enjoying features, and more men, women and children, and horses, than ever seen in a huge spectacle at any other time in the history of the world. The voluptuous amusement of the Egyptian court is depicted in a grand Oriental ballet. This reveling scene is beyond the power of words to describe in its actual splendors and delights. The enormous stage is taxed to its utmost by the bewitching dancers, and the tremendous assemblage of variously dressed and enchanted Egyptians. For cost of production, originally, enormous number of people employed, and overwhelming success, this gorgeous spectacle rises superior to anything of similar effort ever spread before the human eye. In the grand street parade show day morning tableau floats, bearing national types and characteristic scenes from all over the world, will be a novel and attractive feature. All the people with the great shows will participate in this free display of the wonders with the circus, and the costuming is the richest ever attempted. Forty elephants, 650 horses, 108 cages, lairs and dens, 12 bands, 20 camels, 40 jolly clowns, troops of gaily accoutred soldiery, lady riders in Easter-like finery, children's chariots, fairyland pictures, aristocratic whips, and a multitude of other distinctive features will be illuminating factors in the largest and grandest circus pageant ever organized.

Ringling Brothers will exhibit here Monday, June 15, and give performances in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and evening at 8 o'clock. Reserved seats, numbered, and admission tickets will be sold at Nordheimer Piano and Music Company, 188 Dundas street, show day at the same prices charged in the ticket wagons on the show grounds.

THE CABLE DISPUTE

Australian Representative Supports Canada's Views.

London, June 10.—Sir Horace Tozer, the agent-general for Queensland, has a long letter in the Times contradicting Sir John Cockburn's statements on the Pacific cable. He thinks that the Commonwealth, and particularly New South Wales, has acted shabbily. He quotes Hon. A. J. Thayne, one of the Australian representatives to the Ottawa conference, who says he entirely sympathizes with the view of the Canadian Government, and does not think the English language strong enough to adequately condemn the action of New South Wales.

CAN TAKE THOUSANDS

Canada Ready to Absorb All Kinds of Immigrants.

London, June 10.—The Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council's letter, advising people to stay away from Canada, is again appearing in the country press. Mr. W. T. R. Preston, the Canadian commission of emigration, is consequently issuing a letter to every paper in the three kingdoms. He says that the Canadian Government is more immediately interested in the emigration of agricultural workers, but he, himself, has received applications for assistants from Canadian employers of labor to the number of 20,000. Moreover, Canadian newspapers declare that but for the lack of labor building operations on an unprecedentedly large scale would be undertaken everywhere in Canada. A large Toronto employer writes that Toronto alone could absorb 25,000 men. Mr. Preston suggests that the Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council has some sinister motive in view, rather than an honest warning.

Questions Answered.

COMMON NUISANCE.—The owner of a row of cottages is almost daily hauling sand, ashes or dirt to fill up the back part of the lots, and in crossing the sidewalk, which is higher than the rest of the street, and has no approach, or bridge, to it, the wagon is shaken, so that the sidewalk is peppered with the contents of the wagon. The sidewalk is never swept, and is no sooner partially cleared by the traffic—chiefly by a woman, or a wind or rain storm—than a fresh deposit is made. This has been going on since the winter. Is there no remedy for this kind of nuisance? Ans.—Yes. It is an indictable offense by the criminal code to interfere with the comfort of the public, as this does. The city bylaw No. 760, section 12, forbids depositing dirt or rubbish on the street, on penalty of a fine. Section 16 also provides that the owner of any house or lot must construct a bridge across the gutter and to the sidewalk if he wishes to drive across the sidewalk to his property, and on failure to do so he is liable to be fined. The fact that the offender does not take the trouble to sweep the sidewalk should be visited with a heavier fine.

OWLET.—What is the least covering a man or a woman is permitted to wear in public places? Ans.—This is a question of fact dependent upon time, place, season and the public frequenting the public place. There is no rule of law as to the quantity of covering for the body. 2. What is the least covering a man or woman may wear when bathing in the river within the city limits? Ans.—There is no rule of law as to quantity. The body, particularly the lower portion, must be covered loosely. 3. In opera posters and other public advertisements on the streets, what part (if any) of the human form is required to be draped or covered? Ans.—The lower portion of the body. 4. What governing powers legislate on this question in Canada? Ans.—The Dominion Parliament and the local municipal council.

Sackville-West Case.

London, June 10.—The court of appeal on the appeal of Lord Sackville, yesterday reversed the decision of the chancery court, on May 7, which granted the application of Henry Sackville-West, claiming to be the legitimate heir of Lord Sackville, former British minister at Washington, for the appointment of a commission to examine witnesses in France and Spain in support of his claim. The judges of the appeal court held that there was no need for the appointment of such a commission.

A True Brain Food

must replace the feeling of lassitude and mental tiredness by clearness and strength of mind. Not that it goes directly to the brain—that were foolish. The true brain food must be carried by rich, red blood. If mental fatigue worries and alarms you, look not to the brain, but the stomach and assimilative organs. No remedy yet discovered possesses the marvelous brain strengthening power that Ferrozone has demonstrated in thousands of cases. Ferrozone does not stimulate the brain into a fitful glow, but by improving digestion, strengthening the nervous system, stimulating assimilation, giving new strength to the heart, it sends a stream of red, vitalizing blood to the brain. Thus it is a true brain food. Ferrozone is sold by all reliable druggists.

GREAT MEDICINE.—Tontl, one of the pioneers of French Canada, lost a hand and wore an iron hook as substitute. He was in the habit of boxing the ears of refractory Indians with this iron hand, and they have remarked that it was "great medicine." Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is great medicine. It takes hold of pain with an iron hand and knocks it out of the system.

PETROLEA.

Petrolea, June 8.—The Walter L. Main circus, which visited Petrolea on Friday, June 5, had a very large patronage from town and country.

Refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening was spent by all. The following is a copy of the address:

"Dear Mrs. Currie,—We, the members of the Belmont Auxiliary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, deem this a suitable occasion for conveying to you our appreciation of your devotion to the highest interests of this society.

"By you we were organized, and you have labored with us with progress in view, so that year by year we have been enabled to see more of the growing need and our responsibility, and to put forth greater effort to meet it, and as a society we have held an honorable, and even foremost, place among the auxiliaries of the presbytery.

"In all the work of the congregation your efforts to further the Master's cause have always been characterized by zeal and earnestness, but especially in this department of his work do we realize that you have given the best that heart, intellect and untiring energy can yield, and your influence has been a matter of no small moment, nor will it be the shadow of the passing day.

"We cannot think lightly either, of the duties and responsibilities devolving on you as our pastor's wife, and we here take occasion to sincerely thank you for all your hospitality, for your kindness shown in your home and in our homes, especially in the time of trouble or sickness.

"As an evidence of our goodwill and appreciation, we ask your acceptance of this mantel clock.

"May it often recall the past as a pleasant memory, and foreshadow the future with a bright hope, and may you be long spared to enjoy it.

"We are pleased to remember that upon this token of our love and appreciation you will have occasion to look frequently, and while it ever reminds you that time is passing, may it assure you that the love and appreciation remain, and may it deepen in your heart the hope that when time is no more, we, with you, shall forever rejoice in the presence of him whose name is Love.

"Signed on behalf of the society, Mrs. Garton, Mrs. W. Campbell, Mrs. Abbott, Mrs. Manning."
