

The ADVERTISER'S PICTORIAL PAGE

Mrs. Aston Knight, wife of the American landscape artist, posing for a preliminary sketch for M. Paul Chabas, member of the Paris Art Institute.

Count Szeptycki, Poland's minister of war, who fought a duel with former President Pilsudski in which no one was hurt.

Miss Eleanor Alderson Smith, one of the most popular members of the younger set of the British metropolis.

Herman Bernstein, editor of the Jewish Tribune, has started suit for libel against Henry Ford, based on attacks made in the Dearborn Independent.

Capt. A. J. Hailey and Engineer Lamb of the Canadian Pacific S. S. Empress of Canada, snapped with silver shield presented by Vancouver Harbor Commission on the occasion of their record breaking voyage from Yokohama to Vancouver.

Tom Ellis, convicted of manslaughter, with an armful of paper flowers, which he made in his cell. He will make a fight for liberty with the money received from their sale.

This heavyweight champion of the lobster family weighs twenty-four and a half pounds.

A craft drawing only eight inches of water has been built as a rescue sled for reaching disabled planes on mud flats near San Diego.

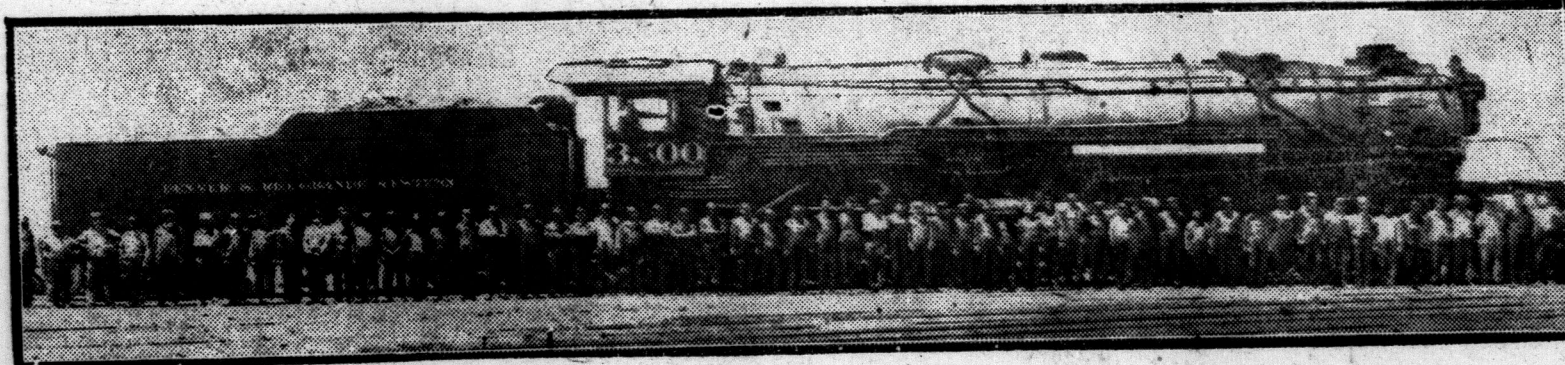

In the first leg of his proposed trip across the continent in sixteen and one-half hours, Lieut. Russell L. Maughan had engine trouble and abandoned the trip.

"Law Not War" posters will be seen from coast to coast in the United States on the anniversary of the outbreak of the world war.

Benny Leonard will take up farming, if he decides to give up fighting. Here he is seen speeding up the "spuds."

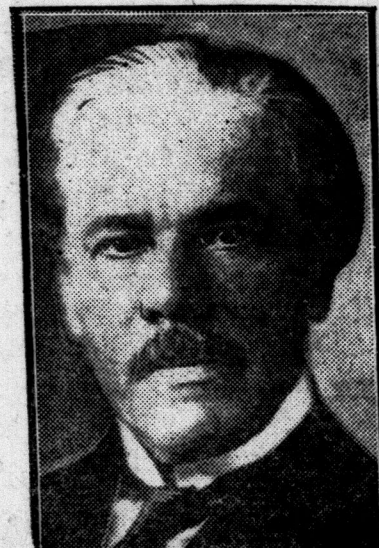

This monster locomotive, one of the largest of its kind ever built, is designed for freight service in the Rocky Mountains.

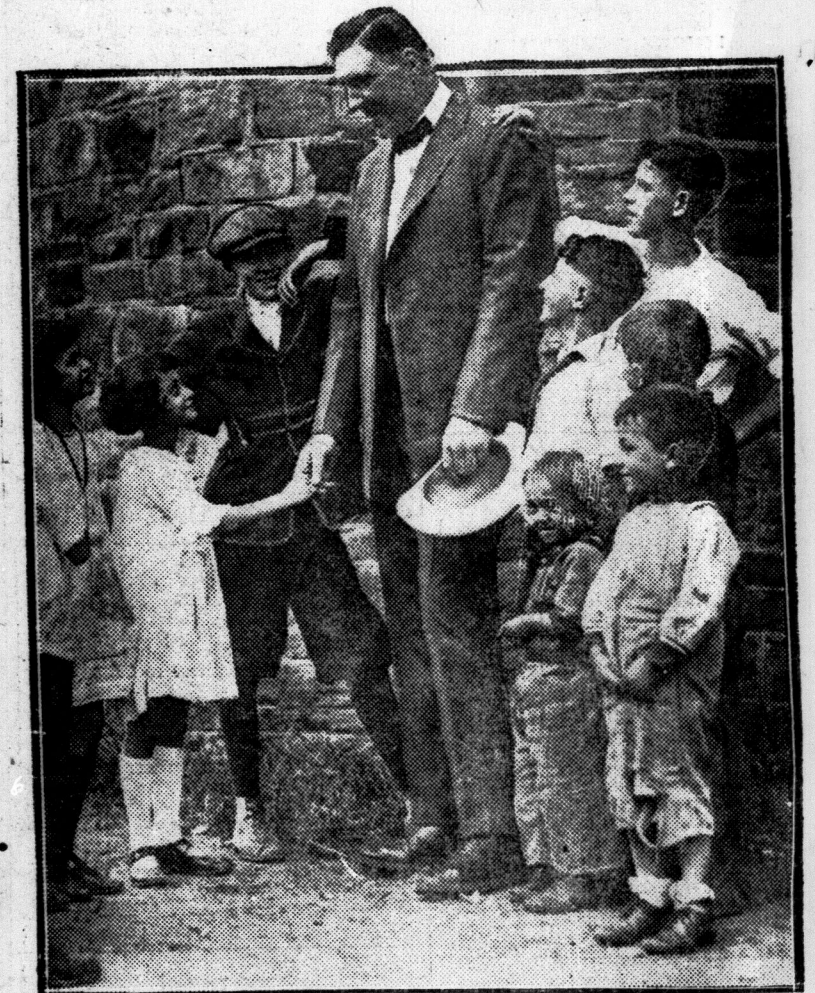

Baroness Mara de Lilier Steinheil, from Russia, spent three days in the detention quarters at Ellis Island. She declares that she found conditions there worse, in many respects, than the Bolshevik prison camps.

A simple slipon, following the winter resort style, has been popular this summer. It is of white wool with a vertical self-stripe effected by the drop stitch.

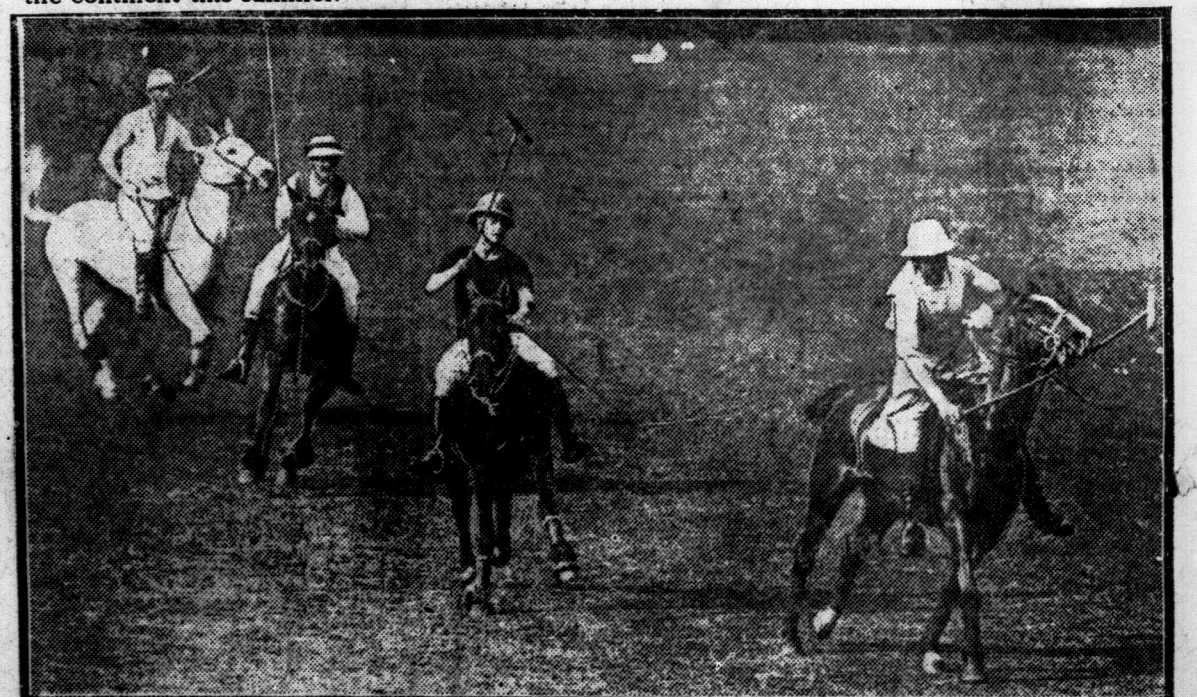

Dr. Alex. Hedlicka of the U. S. National Museum, will take charge of a party of American scientists, who will study pre-historic remains on the continent this summer.

Jess Willard, the Kansas giant, father of five kiddies, makes friends with all the children near his training camp.

A group of 526 Russian refugees who have been buffeted about through Europe in their search for a home, are now on their way to this continent.

The Prince of Wales spent part of his birthday recently playing polo at Hurlingham as a member of the old Oxonians' team.