Chinese Sign Note

Authoritative Statement in Paris That Plenipotentiaries Agree to Terms.

This Action Settles the Preliminary Stage of the Negotiations.

United States Proposal to Conduct Proceedings in Washington Withdrawn.

Paris, Jan. 10.-As a result of inquiries in authoritative quarters, the Associated Press is given the following statement in regard to the Chinese situation: "The Chinese plenipotentiaries signed the joint note yesterday, thus concluding the preliminary stage of the negoti-

It was added that this important step Dominion Commissioner in Rossland was insignificant compared with the difficulties to be met with between the powficulties to be met with between the powers themselves, whose clashing interests will have full play in the coming discussions. The United States proposals to shift the seat of the negotiations find no favor in the European chancellories.

Three researce are given for this convert. Three reasons are given for this opposi-

to transfer the negotiations from China, where all the information is at hand respecting the situation, and the feeling among the Chinese themselves, and more especially regarding the conditions of trade and commerce at which the negotiations will be chiefly concerned.

Second—The United States commerce with China is comparatively small when compared with that of several other countries. Therefore the United States is not entitled to expect the negotiations to be carried on at Washington.

The third and most delicate reason advanced is that the European powers have not felt sufficient confidence that the United States government might not find itself influenced in the negotia-tions at Washington by the pressure of interests, having an eye to the exploita-tion of China. The attitude of some of tion of China. The attitude of some of the powers, moreover, is swayed by oth-er motives in approaching the United States proposal. Great Britain, for ex-ample, which seems to be the most strongly antagonistic, has probably tak-en into consideration the United States attitude toward the Clayton-Bulwer

The feeling here favors Shanghai, if any change is made, as it is pointed out that Shanghai is the most important trade centre in China, and moreover, that the southern viceroys who are favorable to foreigners and anxious to further trade, could make their influence felt. The enormous British interests are in favor of the choice of London, but it is improbable that the other powers will agree to this.

is improbable that the other powers will agree to this.

There is no reason to suppose that Russia will withdraw from the joint negotiations. The treaty she has concluded with China concerns her special interests in regions contiguous to her teritories, but she has great political interests to defend, and, further, in the joint conference, which will bristle with joint conference, which will bristle with obstacles to a speedy settlement, Russia aims chiefly at a wide expansion of her political influence. Great Britain wants to roughly open the Chinese empire to her commerce and at the same time strengthen her political foothold. The United States apparently will be devoted to securing commercial advantage, while France and Germany will desire to increase their trade generally, and the results and the city. ### Manila Tragedy

Murder the Climax to Voyage of Port Blakely Bark Topgallant.

Carpenter Arrested for Killing His Wife in a Fit of Jealousy.

Aboard the Vessel Crew and Captain Do Not Agree

Misfortune is following the unfortunate bark Topgallant on her voyage from Hongkong to Port Townsend When the Empress of Japan left she was at Manila, having been driven to that port for safety by the November typhoons. Her crew had left her, havtyphoons. Her crew had left her, having refused to ship again on her; and the carpenter was in juil charged with having murdered his wife, Mrs. William Holst, ex-stewardess of the bark. She was found dead in her room at the Oregon hotel, Manila, on December 6.

The story of the dead woman is but an exemplification of the danger of following the pace that kills. Mrs. Holst was of Norwegian birth and about 27 lowing the pace that kills. Mrs. Holst was of Norwegian birth and about 27 years of age at the time of her demise. When but a girl she was taken to Australia at the time of the great colonization scheme in Tasmania. She met one Jack Slavens, seaman, and lived with him for some time, having one child, who is now with her sister-in-law at Port Blakely. Slavens deserted her, and when Holst visited Australia some three years ago he met the woman and mar-Wounded in Saturday's Fight.

when Holst visited Australia some three years ago he met the woman and married her, after which they moved to Port Blakely, Wash. Holst and his wife shipped on the Topgallant, and, by a strange coincidence, Slavens was aboard. The old-time relations of Slavens and Mrs. Holst were resumed, and during the voyage to Hongkong much trouble resulted, which finally culminated in the death of the woman at Manila, Slavens did not go to Manila from Hongkong, but shipped on another vessel on account of Holst giving him a severe beating for but shipped on another vessel on account of Holst giving him a severe beating for his attentions to the woman. This fight occurred in Honkgong harbor, in a sampan lying alongside the Topgallant. The next chapter of the story brings the Topgallant to Manila. The entire crew were discharged and paid off, and Holst and his wife went to the Oregon hotel. Trouble was brewing between the couple, and quarrels were frequent.

On December 5 Mrs, Holst went to the Alhambra theatre with three shipmates, it Alhambra theatre with three shipmates, and left her husband at the Oregon, intoxicated and in a bad state of mind. She had eaten nothing during the day, and had drunk more intoxicants than and had drunk more intoxicants than were good for her. About 9:20 she complained of feeling bad, and she and the party left the theatre and proceeded to the Oregon hotel. What occurred there is not clear, except that she grew more and more intoxicated, and was ordered to her room several times by the proprietor of the house.

The struggle between these conflicting designs will be bitter, and in any case will greatly protract the negotiations.

One thing which Great Britain and the United States wish to secure is the raising of the prohibition which now exists in China against foreigners acquiring landed interests.
