Chief Cullin described the custom of receiving complaints in the department. The complaints were entered in a large book which was kept private. Witness was asked regarding a number of names, and went into details. He was asked if he had received money in connection with certain cases, but he declined to answer. The counsel for the prosecution demanded that he be compelled, but the committee sustained Cullin in his refusal. The prosecution protested against the enquiry being buried, and was loudly applauded by the large crowd of citizens present.

MR. BALS MAKES A STATEMENT.

East Toronto's Treasurer Explains the Ap parent Shortage.

At last night's meeting of the East Toronto Council a little business was transacted, the time being taken up in discussing the adopting of the minutes of the previous meeting. Mr. Bals, the collector, addressed the Council, claiming that by adopting the minutes he was not being asked to do anything. He went on to do what he considered an injustice, as the report showed an apparent shortage on his part, and he claimed that such was not the case. It appears that when the auditors brought up the roll from Mr. Bals he had only posted the book up to the beginning of the present year, not having transferred the payments made since the 1st of January from his memorandum book, consequently when the auditors brought their report to the first of this month there was an apparent shortage. Mr. Bals also claims that he has not been made to the treasurer.
