The regular monthly meeting of the Teutonic Chapter met at the home of Mrs. Tanner, Tuesday, Nov. 10th. Mrs. Wm. Thompson, assisting hostess. Quotations on loyalty were well responded to. After the disposal of business the program opened by the singing of "The Maple Leaf," by the Chapter; instrumental, the ladies; piano duet, Mrs. Connolly and Miss Hume; Miss A. Tanner read the paper for the day on "Canada and the War," which was excellent. Several patriotic gramophone selections, among the number the British war song, "It's a Long Way to Tipperary," all present joining in the chorus. The dining-room and ten tables were tastefully decorated with red, white and blue, the place-cards with the Union Jack, the French flag and the Maple Leaf. After luncheon was served an enjoyable meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem. Next place of meeting at Mrs. Fitzgerald's, Mrs. Lowry assisting hostess.

between 16 and 17 years. Many binders were seen which were in good running order after cutting 20 seasons' crops.

In Saskatchewan and Manitoba, where so much of the machinery is left out of doors, the average life of the binder is given by the farmers as about 7 years, which is less than half that of the binder protected from the weather. Many binders do not last as long as seven years. One farmer near Moomsin, Sask., who, after 12 years, was retiring from the farm, held an auction sale. His binder, after cutting 12 crops, sold for $80, or 50% of the original cost, and his other machinery at proportionately high prices. It had all been well housed and the necessary painting and repairing had been done to keep it in good order. On a neighboring farm a binder which had cut only three crops, but which had been neglected and had stood out of doors, was being relegated to the scrap heap and a new one was being purchased.

An implement shed costs money, but if its use will double or treble the length of time the machinery will last, it is a good investment. Farmers often say that they cannot afford to build a shed. The truth is, they really cannot afford to be without one. Apart from the additional power necessary for operation, the depreciation on unhoused machinery on the average farm is so great as to amount to much more than the cost and upkeep of an implement shed. The binder works for only a short time during the year, while machinery in a shop works the whole year through and lasts proportionately many times longer. It is simply a matter of care. The life of a machine extends in direct ratio to the care it receives, and abuse and neglect will shorten the life of any mechanism. The manufacturer is not responsible for the care of machinery after it is sold. This rests entirely with the farmer, and as a common sense business proposition he should look after his own interests sufficiently to house his implements and thus save the thousands of dollars wasted annually in unnecessary depreciation.—F. SEEKING HEIRS FOR UNTOLD MILLIONS

Is Your Name Wynn, or Something That Sounds Like That?

Another "lost heir" movement has been started, this time by Mr. Ed. C. Fox, of Seattle, Wash., who has written "The Hon. Mayor of Toronto" in the matter.

Mr. Fox is attempting to locate heirs of the late Sir John Wynn, who is said to be a descendant of the Prince of Wales. He points out that the name has become somewhat altered in the passing years, so that these answering to the present name of Wynn, Wynne, Win, Winne, Winnes and Wynnans should be interested. Mr. Fox states that the family dates back for the past 852 years. He has been looking up the genealogical trees for the past twelve years, and is now ready to lay the particulars before those interested. A convention is called for November 28th, in Seattle.

The property involved is said to amount to many million dollars. It is now being held by the English Chancery Court.

Care and Abuse of Farm Machinery

Recent investigations by the Conservation Commission reveal some very interesting facts regarding the effect of care, or neglect, as the case may be, upon the life of machinery on the farm. Between 90 and 95 farms, divided into three districts, were visited in each of the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

In Saskatchewan, out of 94 farms visited by the Commission's representative, 76 leave all their implements out of doors. On 73 of the farms there were no implement sheds of any description. On 21 of the farms, sheds large enough to cover a part of the machinery were found, in most cases this being only a buggy or a democrat, but not on one farm was the machinery all housed. Not one farmer was found who painted his implements to protect them from the weather.

In Manitoba only 14 out of 94 farmers keep their machinery under cover during winter, while 44 claim to keep a part of it inside. On 34 of the Manitoba farms no provision whatever is made for protecting implements, and only four claim to have done any painting.

In the three districts visited in Alberta, mixed farming is carried on quite extensively, making more barn room available, so that implements are more likely to be protected, but, even here, 37 out of the 92 visited leave all machinery out of doors.

In one district in Ontario where 40 farms were visited, every man housed his implements during winter, although none of these men do any painting.

In the Ontario district visited where the implements are housed, the average life of the binder was found to be between 16 and 17 years.

CHRISTMAS SEALS AGAIN THIS YEAR

Campaign for Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives Being Organized

The little Christmas seal will be with us again this year. A new design has just been approved by the Postmaster-General, who agrees to their use, but on the back only, of all mail matter. The design is appropriate to prevailing conditions, showing a little angel of peace over the earth and bespeaking goodwill for the consumptives in need.

The first order for three million seals is already being turned out. It is expected that further large supplies will be required before the Christmas season is over.

The public and separate boards of Education of the City of Toronto have approved of the seal being sold by the children of the city schools, as in former years. The National Sanitarium Association, who organize the campaign, look upon the selling of one of the Christmas seals as the ultimate success of the crusade against consumption, and believe that the education gained by the co-operation of the children, in selling the seals, and by their absorbing the literature sent out in connection with the campaign, is one of the greatest benefits which could be conferred upon the children.

Orders to the value of many hundreds of dollars have been received for the seals.

More patients than ever before—some two hundred—are to-day being cared for at the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives. The need of money from the Christmas seal campaign is reported to be more urgent than at any other time in the history of this institution.

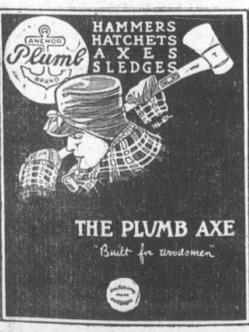

Orders for seals should be sent to the National Sanitarium Association, 34 Ross street, Toronto.
