Toronto Markets, Oct. 22, 1853 lowithstanding the warlike news from Europe, Notwithstanding the warlike news from Europe, price of grain remains about the same as in our statements. The average price for wheat may we be said to be 64 per bushel; flour 30s, per tre! For other prices see our quotations of last set, there being little or no variation. Wood is do at a price averaging $4 per cord, butter is diffrom bd to 1s, per pound, large quantities of talces are now in the market, which has reduced a price considerably; the price of poultry is also ter than it was , outs commands the high price of bd to 2, 9d per bushel, hay commands from 1 to $15 per ton; wheat continues to come in the our markets are very crowded.
