

and harmony that Mr. W. R. Adams and his ticket allowed themselves to be beaten in the recent elections. . . .

If this great know-it-all will look over the ADVOCATE he will find that we have made no reference to Muirhead as president, in anything we have said concerning his paper. As editors we may not agree but on D.P.A. matters—as far as we are concerned—we are as one. Any one who was at the convention would say that the reason the Adams' ticket allowed themselves to be defeated was, that they couldn't help it.
