

ABSTRACT

This report provides a market summary of the current conditions of the Japan fisheries market. It provides a general outlook, examines historical trends and compares data on Canadian exports to Japan. The report also contains statistics on the market situation and outlook on a variety of fish and seafood species prominent in the territory. Contact information for further details is also provided.