

Toronto—Seven of the city's fifteen radio stations are controlled by groups: one by Maclean-Hunter Limited, two by Rogers Broadcasting Limited, two by CHUM Limited, and two by Standard Broadcasting Corporation Limited. Toronto's Italian-language daily newspaper is under independent control, but the three remaining dailies are under group control—the Globe and Mail by F.P., the Star by the Atkinson-Hindmarsh families, and the Telegram by the Bassett-Eaton interests, who also own the city's only private TV station.

Ottawa—Le Droit, the city's only French-language daily, is an independent. F.P. owns the Ottawa Journal; Southam owns the Citizen, as well as a substantial interest in one of the radio stations. The only private TV station is controlled by Bushnell Communications Limited, and broadcasting groups (CHUM, Télémedia Québec, and Raymond Crépault) own another five of the city's eleven radio stations.

Hamilton—Southam owns the only daily newspaper, the Spectator, Selkirk—in which Southam is the major shareholder—owns CHCH-TV (founded by Kenneth Soble), the city's only television station. Rogers Broadcasting Limited and Sifton each own Hamilton radio stations, and the Soble estate owns two.

Windsor—The city's only TV station was formerly owned by RKO Distributing Corporation (Canada) Limited which, because of federal restrictions on foreign ownership, was required to divest itself of ownership. The station is now jointly owned by the Bassett-Eaton interests (75 per cent) and the CBC (25 per cent). Windsor's only daily newspaper is independent, but four of the five radio stations are controlled by groups: two by RKO (which the Bassett-Eaton group have bought subject to C.R.T.C. approval), two by Stirling.

London—The Blackburn family owns the city's only daily newspaper, its only TV station, and two of the four radio stations. Southam, however, holds 25 per cent of the shares of the newspaper—which in turn controls the three stations—plus a further 25 per cent interest in the preferred shares of the broadcasting operation.

Kitchener-Waterloo—Southam has a 48 per cent interest in the area's only daily newspaper, Maclean-Hunter owns two of the radio stations, and Carl Pollock owns the other two, as well as a TV station.

Sudbury—The Sudbury Star is controlled by Thomson. Cambrian Broadcasting Limited, owned by the Cooper, Miller and Plaunt families, owns the TV station and two of the four radio stations.

St. Catharines—The Standard and two of the four radio stations are controlled by the Burgoyne family.

Oshawa—Thomson owns the newspaper; the two radio stations are independent.
