

LABOR TROUBLES NOT SO SERIOUS

Much Exaggeration Over Situation in England, Declare British Delegates

BAR CONSCRIPTION

Only Three Hundred Thousand Men More Available for Recruitment.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Labor troubles in England have been much exaggerated by the press and by others, whose motives are economic and not patriotic, according to Ernest Bevin and Charles G. Ammon, fraternal delegates of the British Trades Union Conference, who arrived here today on the steamer Orduna, to attend the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, to be held in San Francisco, beginning Nov. 8.

"Laboring men of England affiliated with the various unions are firmly opposed to conscription," said Mr. Bevin. "We are now enlisting as fast as exemptions from military service will permit, and insinuations that we are not loyal to the government are resented. Under the law employees of railroads, docks, telegraph, transport and postal services are exempt from military service, as well as all employees of munition works. The number of men thus employed in England can be safely placed at about 1,000,000. If conscription comes to pass the government would not be able to add to the army more than 300,000 men without crippling industrial conditions. Under the present volunteer system we are adding men to the force for field duty faster than they can be equipped."

Economic Fight.
"Our fight against conscription is an economic one, having in view possible conditions that will exist after the war is over. What we have now represents more than 100 years of concerted action and work, and to ask us to give up these conditions and accept conscription is asking more than is required of landholders and manufacturers."

Mr. Bevin also said that labor unions were not opposed to working in positions previously held by men in industrial pursuits.

"All that we ask is that women be not introduced into factories and railway work at less pay than is accorded to men. The factories where women are now employed they are being trained under the direction of men, the only provision being that they go in at a pay that is the minimum accorded to men under the same conditions. On the question of suffrage, I believe that the feeling in England is the same as exists among trades unions in the United States, and I am free to say that the woman vote is sure to come."

The delegates are on a fraternal mission. They were elected at the general labor conference held at Bristol and their credentials indicate that they represent approximately 3,000,000 tradesmen and laborers. They said that they were under instructions not to discuss politics either privately or while sitting in the convention.

FIFTY AMBULANCES WERE LOST AT SEA

Steamer Carrying Them Was Towed on Way to France.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Fifty ambulances which the French relief fund of Great Britain recently handed over to a representative of the French Government in London, have been lost at sea. The vessel on which they were being conveyed to France was torpedoed by a German submarine.

The French relief fund hopes to replace all the ambulances within a few weeks by means of private donations.

WILL OFFER HYDRO TO KINGSTON SOON

Sir Adam Beck Expects to Do Well for Eastern Ontario

TWO LEASES HELD UP

Powers Other Than Water Powers Behind Obstruction to System.

Special to The Toronto World.
KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 21.—That he is still hopeful of getting hydro-electric power for Kingston was the statement of Sir Adam Beck when seen at the sports at the Royal Military College.

Sir Adam said he was sorry that the Hydro-Electric Commission could not have given the east supply line before this, but the commission was not to blame. The commission had in view two sources of supply in eastern Ontario, one at Waddington, N.Y., and the other at Trent, in both cases impediments had been put in the way of the commission acquiring leases of the water rights. Application had been made to the Dominion Government for the Trent water power leases, but these were not yet forthcoming.

Sir Adam hinted that there were "powers" behind this matter that were other than water powers. He was hopeful that the Hydro Commission would soon acquire the Trent leases and be able to give as cheap power to eastern Ontario as it had given to western Ontario.

With regard to High Falls Sir Adam said that 20,000 horse-power was available there, and 6000 was being supplied to the City of Ottawa.

"I have great hope in the radicals," the power minister said. "These proposed lines will do a great deal for the water power development in eastern Ontario."

"Then you shall hope to be able to make Kingston a good power offer?"

"Most decidedly," replied Sir Adam. "Kingston has acted toward the commission in a straightforward and businesslike way, and we hope to meet it at the first opportunity with an offer that will be as good as given places in western Ontario."

Downed Highwaymen.
James Bell, prominent farmer, while driving on the Perth road late last night, gave two strange men a lift in his wagon. When on their way a few miles the two men held up Bell for his money, and in the fight that ensued Bell succeeded in throwing the two men out of the vehicle. As Bell drove off one of them fired a shot at him, but it did not hit him. The police are searching for the men.

CANADIAN AVIATION UNIT WILL NOT BE FORMED

This Branch of Service Entirely Controlled by British Authorities.

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—It was intimated at Ottawa today that the proposal from Toronto to form a Canadian aviation corps will not be received with favor by the militia authorities.

There are no facilities for such a corps. The aviation corps is entirely controlled by the British authorities. It is probable that arrangements will be made for sending Canadian aviators direct to England to join the royal flying corps and their transportation will be paid. A Toronto deputation is planning to interview the government on the subject as soon as Sir Robert Borden returns to the capital.

BRITISH CENSOR NEEDS A COURSE IN POETRY

Commons Devotes Some Attention to Recent Deletions in Despatches.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The British censor's antipathy to poetry, as evidenced recently by deletions of lines of Kipling and Browning when quoted in despatches from the front, was gravely considered in the house of commons this afternoon, when Ronald McNeill, author and Unionist member of parliament for St. Augustine's division of Kent, asked Sir John A. Simon, secretary for home affairs, what poets could be quoted with impunity.

Sir John explained that the difficulty lay not in a military objection to poetry, but to the censor's failure to recognize same. The censor's attention had been called to the matter he added, with the suggestion that he cultivate the muse.
