On Monday another round was made of the resorts, which included High Park. The same disregard of the value of food as was noted on the previous day was evident on every hand. The number of people who spent Sunday and Monday at Centre Island and Hanlan's Point is estimated by the Toronto Ferry Company at 70,000. The T.S.R. figure that 60,000 visited Scarbore Beach during the two days.

Even Worse at Hanlan's Point

After making a careful "survey" for two hours of the food waste on Centre or went over to Hanlan's Point, where the conditions were found to be even worse. At one table, where eight were lunching, a small boy got hold of a large sandwich that was not to his liking. He took one bite and threw it on the ground. At another place, where four, a man and his wife and two small children, were picnicing, a part of a loaf of rye bread rolled in the wet sand. The father picked it up and threw it into the water, remarking that "we have more than we need now."
