LOTS OF MACKEREL.
Halifax Chronicle.—Mackerel were taken in large quantities along the western shore during Wednesday night and yesterday, according to reports reaching Halifax last evening. It is estimated that over fifty thousand were either set or netted in the past forty-eight hours. The bulk of these are being shipped to the American markets, while the local demand is also being supplied. Nearly twenty-five thousand were landed in Halifax yesterday and last evening for export and local consumption.
The high line to date, as far as reports can be obtained, is the American seiner Lois H. Corkum, hailing from Boston, and commanded by Captain W. J. Corkum, which put into Liverpool yesterday with a catch of fifteen thousand mackerel.

AFTER WOMEN FOR TAXES
Fredericton Gleaser.—The first executions against the women earning incomes who have been assessed for civic taxes for the years 1920 and 1921, but who have refused to pay, are to be prepared tomorrow at City Hall and service commenced. Today was set as the final date on which these outstanding taxes were to be paid before the city officials took steps to collect.
The total amount of taxes due by the women is approximately $2,000—just half of the assessment having been paid for the first two years—and of this amount $831.20 is due from 1920. There are about 150 women delinquents for 1920, while the 1921 list contains 222 names. Since the City Council decided to proceed with the collection of these outstanding taxes a small number have been paid, but most of the women are standing pat on their refusal.

POTATO ACREAGE IS REDUCED THIS YEAR
Fredericton Gleaser.—Carleton and Victoria counties farmers generally will plant about 75 per cent. of the 1921 acreage of potatoes in potatoes again this year, it is predicted by persons who have made a survey of the situation. Some of the growers, it is said, will cut down as much as 50 per cent., and in some districts such a curtailment will be general. Throughout the potato growing districts on the upper St. John river the indications are there will be a general curtailment. Seeding operations, it is said, are well under way and in some sections nearing completion, there being plenty of farm help available.

MAJORITY FAVORED UNION.
Sackville Post.—Negotiations looking toward the union of the Sackville Methodist and Presbyterian churches have been going on for some weeks. Joint committees agreed upon a basis of union and the question was submitted Saturday to the Presbyterian congregation. A small vote was polled, about 80 per cent. of which was in favor of union. At a meeting of the Presbyterian session it was decided that in view of the small vote and indecisive majority satisfactory union was for the present impossible.
