MIRAMICHI ADVANCE, CHATHAM, NEW BRUNSWICK, APRIL 12, 1883.

She did not answer the implied ques- of sport, you know-" YOLANDE. tion ; for now the other members of "His love of sport!" her husband The dawn arose in the east, the cold BY WILLIAM BLACK, the party entered the room, breathless growled, contemptuously. "A miser- clear blue giving way to a mystic gray NOR OF "SHANDON BELL"," "MACLEOD DARE," "WHITE WINGS," "SUNRISE," ETC. and hot and fatigued, but glad to be able sneaking fellow loafing about the but still the moon shone palely on the able to shut back at last the clamoring public-house all day, and then stealing palms and on the water and the silent horde of Arabs who were still heard out at night with his ferrets and his plains. And still she slept ; and he (Continued.) protesting and vociferating without. nets to snare rabbits for the market .- was wondering whether she was dream-CHAPTER X. That same evening they left Cairo by A love of sport!" the night train for Asyoot, where the "Oh, but I can remember," said she, that she longed to make a home of, if IN THE NIGHT. He had at last discovered an easy dahabeeyah of the Governor of Merhadi stoutly, "when I was a girl, there were only for the briefest space. And what way of gaining her favor. She was so was awaiting them ; and for their other stories than that. That is the if this new day that was spreading up anxious to prove to her father that she greater convenience they took their English poacher. I can remember when and up, and fighting the pallid moonwas a capable house-mistress that she dinner with them. That scrambled it was quite well known that the Bade-it was quite well known that the Badewas profoundly grateful for any hint meal in the railway carriage was some noch young fellows were coming into life to brighten the awakening worldthat might help; and she spared thing of an amusement, and in the the forest for a deer, and it was winked what if this new day were to bring with Full line of Samples, the most information. Then all this Lynn would insist on Yolande's having come more than twice or thrice in the to her, or even to tell her plainly that had to be done in a more or less secret a little wine. She refused at first, year. And that was not for the mar- this pathetic hope of hers was of easy fashion. She wished the arrangements merely as her ordinary habit was ; but ket. Anybody could have a bit of accomplishment, and that, after their at the shooting lodge to be something when he learned that she had never venison who wanted; and I have heard stay at Allt-nam-ba, if it grieved her to of a surprise. Her father, on getting tasted wine at all, of any kind whatever that there was a fine odor of cooking in think of leaving the place that she had up to Inverness-shire, was to find ev- he begged of her still more urgently to the shepherds' bothies just about that first thought to make a home of, there erything in perfect order; then he have the smallest possible quantity. time.' would see whether or not she was fit to "It will make you sleep, Miss Winmanage a house. She had even decid- terbourne," said he, "and you know Game Laws," her husband said, curtly. two months or for three months, but ed (after serious consultation with the how distressing a wakeful night jour- "I doubt whether deer are protected by for the length of her life ? Why should Master of Lynn) that when the gillies ney is." went up the hill with the shooting party, she would give them their lunch "not at all. There is to be moonlight, quite agree with Mr. Winterbourne: if gathered from Yolande that she considrather than the meaner alternative of a and why should not one lie awake? laws are too severe, your best plan is ered herself a most unfortunate drag shilling apiece ; and when the Master My papa wished me not to drink wine, not to break them."

quite sufficient for that, she said no- thought about it. The ladies at the on one occasion," said Mrs. Graham, difficulties ? In black velvet, more et that as her father, she knew, would Chateau scarcely took any; they said it cheerfully (having warded off danger pecially, Yolande would look so hand not have either whiskey or beer about | was not any better than water." the place, she would make it up to the "But fancy you never having tasted Jim ? You and I were driving down ers. it at all !" he said, and then he turned Glenstroy, and we came on some gypmen in giving them a good meal.

This decision was arrived at, of all to her father. "Mr. Winterbourne, sies. They had a tent by the roadside places in the world, in the gimcrack will you give Miss Yolande permission and you know dear Yolande, I wasn't wooden building that Ismail had put to take a very little wine-to taste it ?" an old married woman in those days, up at the foot of the Great Pyramid for The reply of her father was singular : and grown suspicious ; and I thought " I would sooner see her drink Prus- it would be nice to stop and speak to the reception of his guests. The Grahams and Winterbournes had, as a mat- sic acid-then the end would be at the poor people, and give them some house door; a shoemaker, remarkable for ter of course, driven out to see the Pyramids and the Sphinx ; but when Now this answer was so abrupt, and reached a village. Do you know what to pass through a wood, offered to the land. there was a talk of their climbing to the apparently so unnecessarily harsh, that Jim said ?- 'Money for food ? Most lord to carry off the calf, provided top of the Great Pyramid. Yolande the Master of Lynn, not knowing what likely they are plucking a brace of my Araos; so that Birs, Granam (who had so charge the subject, and the work into the little tent; and they in the path near the middle of the work into the little tent; and they and another near a quarter of a mile from the subject of selves, leaving the Master of Lynn, slaying of stags.

who eagerly accepted the duty, to keep were now sitting well content in this bourne," said he, "we were talking much good as a d er-stalker, though ?" ion, and accordingly dismounted, tied his big, bare, cool apartment, the chief about what you were likely to do at And while they thus sat and chatted horse to the hedge, and walked back to so large and wild and vehement in or two." color that one momentarily expected to Sometimes they cross from St. John's ; of a living thing-" not that their utes most had not offended her. ing of the far north, and of the place neither time nor trouble in acquiring midst of it all the young Master of at by everybody when they did not it a new courage, and he were to hint was another home there that would be "That has nothing to do with the proud and glad to welcome her, not for WAREROOMS and SAMPLE ROOMS. the Game Laws at all. I think it is not Mr. Winterbourne be free to follow HARDWARE.

"Oh no !" she said, with a smile, only a question of trespass. But I out his political career ? He had CUTLERY. and incumbrance on her father : was suggested that oatcake and cheese were and so I have not; and I have never "Well, I was cured of my sympathy not this a happy solution of all possible from her brother). Do you remember, some in the dining-room at Lynn Tow

(To be continued.) Galf-Stealing.

A few years ago, a butcher who had purchased a calf not far from Lewes Sussex, sat with it on a horse at a pub would treat him with sixpennyworth of flatly refused to be hauled about by the blunder he had made, immediately strove uncle's black game.' Well, they were grog. The landlord agreed; and the shoe flatly refused to be hauled about by the blunder he had made, immediately strove uncle's black game.' Well, they were maker setting off, dropped one new shoe in the path near the middle of the wood, and Mr. Winterbourne started by them- mention to Yolande's father was the weren't plucking a brace of black game, it. The butcher saw the first shoe, but but they were cooking two hen pheas-did not think it worth getting down for ; "While you were going up the Great ants on a spit as comfortable as might however, but when he discovered the secon Yolande company. And so these two Pyramid this morning, Mr. Winter be. I suppose a gypsy wouldn't do he thought the pair would be an acqui ornament of which was a series of pic- Allt-nam-ba, and I was telling your about the far northern wilds (Yolande where he had seen the first shoe. The tures on the wall-landscapes, in fact, daughter I hoped you would get a stag was deeply interested, and the Master shoemaker, in the meantime unstrapped of Lynn perceived that ; and he had the calf, and carried it across the fields to "Yes ?-- oh yes," said Mr. Winter- himself an abundance of experience the landlord, who put it in his barn. The said he (it was an odd kind of conver-sation to take place at the foot of the Great Pyramid), "your father would like to kill s few red deer while he is at Allt-nam-ba?" "Do you think," said the "Do you think," said he, with a could sh. know? It wasn't half as bad the solitary Sirius gleamed. But as within six shillings of what the other cost, peculiar smile, "that it would be very as the talk of those fellows in Parliawicked and monstrous if I were to ment and the newspapers who howl be- still talking of Scotland (a pale light- on his horse. Crispin, elated with his sacrifice my father's interests to your cause the deer forests are not given a sort of faint yellow smoke-appeared success, undertook to steal the calf again father's interests? I should think not over to sheep, or to cattle, or turned in the southeast, and then a sharp, keen for another sixpennyworth; which being myself. There are two fathers in the into small crofts. Goodness gracious! glint of gold revealed the edge of the agreed on, he posted to the wood, and there hid himself. When the butcher case ; what one loses the other gains." I wonder if any one of them ever saw a moon. The light grew and spread up se; what one loses the other gains." I wonder it any one of them ever saw a moon. The light grew and spread up deer forest? Miss Winterbourne, that into the sky and now the world around that the butcher, conceiving it to be the

"I do not understand you," I olande deer toteer i mass initiation of the forest— the them was no longer an indistinguishable one he had lost, cried out in joy, "Ah! are you there? Have I found you at last?" may be found in the Allt-nam-bagullies mile after mile of the same moorland came distinct as the soft radiance be- and immediately dismounting, ran into J. F. MANNING will most likely go in from our forest. and hill without a sound, or the sight came fuller and fuller; and by-and-by the wood. Crispin, taking advantage of they could make out the walls of the the butcher's absence, unstrapped the calf 131 Devonshire Street villages, with their strange and actually got back with it to the publiof them; they like to nibble a little at that so much land is taken away, and shadows, and the tall palms that threw can, before the butcher arrived to tell the the bushes for a change, and indeed in not for people to live on?" said Yolande, reflections down on the smooth and mournful tale, and attribute the whole very wild weather they are sometimes who had stumbled on this subject some- ghostly water. Can anything be more to witchcraft. The publican unravelled driven down from the forest to get where in following her father's Parlia- solemn than moonlight on a grove of the mystery; and the butcher. after paypalms-the weird darkness of them, ing for, and partaking of, a crown's worth of punch, laughed heartily at the joke.

shelter among the trees. Oh. don't ven mentary career.

know?" he broke in, noticing some ex- "Yes," said he, ironically. "I won- the silence, the consciousness that all pression of her even. "There are no der what they'd find there to live on.--- around lies the white, still desart? trees in a deer forest-none at all-ex- They'd find granite bowlders, and Yolande's fancies were no longer far cept perhaps a few stunted birches down withered moss, and a hard grass that away; this silent, moon-lit world out in the corries. Well, you see, as the sheep won't touch, and that cattle there was a strange thing. deer go in from our forest into your won't touch, and that even mountain Then, one by one, the occupants of City journalists are complaining of excessgullies, it is our interest that they hares would starve on. The deer is the the railway carriage dropped off to ive heat, and the buzz of the mosquite should be driven out again, and it is only living animal that can make any- sleep ; and Yolande slept too, turning compels them to admit that Summer is at your interest that they should stay. thing of it, and even he is fond of get- her face into the window corner some- hand. The leading affair discussed there And I don't think they will stay if ting into the gullies to have a nibble at what, and letting her hands sink placed- is who was the winner in the last, and Flour, there is not a glass of whiskey about the birch-trees. I wish those Radical ly into her lap. He did not sleep; how who will be the fortunate man in the next the place. That was the hint I meant fellows knew something of what they could he? He had some vage idea Monthly (the 155th) Grand Drawing of to give you. Miss Winterbourne." "But I don't understand yet," said that fuss about the Game Laws. The and then-as he timidly regarded the drive the deer back. Now supposing that he found himself absolved from can not be any other than mine") he father's interests and my own!-suppos-replying; for Mr. Winterbourne broke thought of her as the mistress of Lynn -iust listen to me betraying my ing there is an occasional glass of in, with a sardonic kind of smile on his Towers. In black velvet would she not whiskey about, and that the shepherds face. are on very friendly terms with you; "That is a very good remark of the dinner table; or in a tall backed then not only are they the first to know yours, Mr. Leslie," said he; "a very chair by the fire-place, with the red when a good stag has come about, but good remark indeed. I have something glow from the birch logs and the peat they might keep themselves and their of the same belief myself, though I making glimmerings on her hair? He or so healthy as when his feed has been dogs down in the bothy until your shock some of my friends by saying so. thought of her driving down the glen; mixed continually with HARVELL'S CONfather had gone out with his rifle. I am for having pretty stringent laws on the steamboat Quay; on board the DITION POWDERS, as they vastly improve Now do you see?"

Yolande. "Whiskey?" "All your father's chances at the deer choose to keep from thieving."

is this-that you need not break them and he knew that nowhere could she "Oh yes ! oh yes !" said Yolande, is this—that you need not break them unless you choose. It may be morally have any rival. eagerly. "It is very kind of you. unless you choose. It may be morany wrong to hang a man for stealing a And then is occurred to him that But what am I to do? My father sheep; but all you have got to do is what air was made by the motion of the would not have whiskey in the house- not to steal the sheep. Well, if I pay train must be blowing in upon her face, oh, never, never-not for all the deer seven hundred and lifty pounds for a and that the sand-blinds of the winin the country. Yet it is sad-it is shooting, and you come on my land and dows were nor sufficient protection, and provoking! I should be so proud if he steal my birds, I don't care what may he thought he could rig up something COATED VEOETABLE PILLS, that subdue all were to get some beautiful fine horns happen to you. The laws may be a that would more effectually shield her. to be hung up in the hall when we take little severe ; but your best plan would So, in the silence and the semi-dark- pain. These pills never fail! They are a house some day. It is very, very, have been to earn your living in a ness, he stealthily got hold of a light for sale everywhere. Try them. decent way, instead of becoming an shawl of his sister's, and set to work to

"There is another way," said he, idle, sneaking, lying, and thieving fasten one end to the top of the carriage quietly, "as the cookery book says. poacher-" You need not have whiskey in the house. You might order a gallon or younger man, with great warmth. two in Inverness, and give it in charge "That is my belief, at all events," time, for he was anxious not to waken to Duncan, the keeper. He would said Mr. Winterbourne, with the same anyone, and as he was standing up, he one should have it with them, or where have it in his bothy, and would know curious sort of smile; "and it answers had to balance himself carefully, for they can put their hands on it in what to do with it." Out came her note-book in a second. The provide the time being, But at last he got it fixed, and he was Duncan Macdonald, gamekeeper, Allt-nam-ba, with note explaining. At the to water serves and also it serves screen, so that it should not be too Her Majesty is very slowly gathering Flour, Two gallons of whiskey addressed to Mr. when otherwise I might think he was just moving the lower corner of the The Queen's ankle is still very weak. nam-ba, with note explaining. At the to make some friends of mine in the close to her head, when, by some wild strength. same moment the dragoman entered House very wild; and you know there and fearful accident, the back of his same moment the dragoman entered the room to prepare lunch, and a glance out of the window showed them the "But you are a Liberal, Mr. Leslie, was the lightest of touches, but it was other members of the party at the foot are you not ? repeated Yolande. other members of the party at the foot are you not i repeated iolande. of that great blazing mass of ruddy And here again he was saved—by reallow that rose away into the pale the ready wit of his sister.

blue Egyptian sky. "My dearest Yolande, what are you wait; it was as if something had stung its value from personal experience, having "Mind you don't say I have had any- talking about?" she said. "What these him and benumbed his senses. And been troubled for 9 or 10 years with Dys thing to do with it," said he (and he two have been saying would make a light as the touch was, it awoke her. pepsia, and since using it digestion goes was quite pleased that this little secret Liberal or a Radical jump out of his Her eyes opened, and there was a sud- on without that depressed feeling so well existed between them). "My father five senses -- or is it seven! Is it seven, den fear and bewilderment in them known to to dyspeptics. I have no hesi would think I was mad in giving you Jim?"

these hints. But yet I don't think it is good policy to be so niggardly. If your father kills three or four stags Radical."

this year, the forest will be none the "I know I used to have a great sym-"Oh, thank you! thank you!" she taking Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure. worse, and Allt-nam-ba will let all the pathy with poachers," continued pretty said, with smiling eyes. And he was It was never known to fail in relieving at more easily another season. And I Mrs. Graham. "It always seemed to glad to get back into his own corner, once, and effecting a complete cure of hope it is not the last time we shall me romantic-I mean when you read and to wonder at the sudden fear that diseases of the kidweys. Sold by J. D. B. have you as neighbors." about the poscher in poems-his love had paralyzed him. At all events, he F. Mackenzie, Chatham, N. B.

Spring Come Again.

The weather here is now at last Springlike, but away down South the Crescen were talking about before making all that he ought to be guardian over her; The Louisiana State Lottery at New Orleans, on April 10th, when $265,500 Game Laws won't hurt you if you perfect lines of her forehead and chin honor to have first bland for the honor and the difference of the 100.000 tickets, costing Five Dollars each,

"But you are a Liberal, are you not?" small ear, and the sweep of the soft and throat, and the delicacy of the shepherds. The fact is, we put some said Yolande with wide-open eyes. Of sheep on Allt-name bar mostly as a fence course she concluded that any one creature should have been so long in Orleans, La. The sole supervision is sheep on Allt-nam-ba, mostly as a fence course she concluded that any one creature should have been so long in under Gen'ls G. T. Besuregard of La. to the forest; there is no pasturage to claiming the friendship of her father the world and he wasting the years in and Jabal A. Early of Va. In June the speak of; but of course the coming and and herself must needs be a Liberal. ignorance; and then (for with youth First Capital Prize will be $150,000, going of the shepherds and the dogs Travelling in the same party too: why- there is little diffidence ; it is always, which should satisfy the avarice of any Well, it was fortunate for the Master "I have chosen ; you are mine ; you moderate person.

door and the other to the netting for screen. This manœuvre took some Danes in Schleswig still refuse to serv in the Prussian army.

look handsome, seated at the head of The Hog ! The Hog ! The Hog ! This important source of wealth to the Canadian farmer, is never so remunerative all round, and the best defense for them steamboat ; in the streets of Inverness ; his weight, and the flavor of his flesh Wallace Ross is willing to row Hanlan at Winnipeg for the Citizens' Purse.

Look to Your Lungs When these vital organs become affected from any cause whatever, they can be fever, purify the blood, and destroy all

Perry Davie' Pain-Killer.- Its effects are almost instantaneous, affording Plate and Extra Mess Beef. ". Oh, certainly, certainly," said the the hand-bags, to form some kind of relief from the most intense pain. It soothes the irritated or inflamed part, and Heavy Mess Pork gives rest and quiet to the sufferer. It is like an electric shock; he paused, did medicine. My customers say they when she saw him standing over her: tation in recommending it in any case of

Tears of suffering may be avoided by

Agent in Chatham, -- J. D. B. J