ARBITRATION A DEAD ISSUE

Washington, March 8.—Summing up the action of the senate yesterday in stripping the proposed arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France of their vital features, government officials who followed the negotiation of the two pacts agreed today that participation by the United States in general arbitration of international difficulties was a dead issue so far as this session of congress was concerned, and probably for many years to come.

There is little thought that President Taft will submit the treaties in their mangled form to either of the powers for possible approval.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Work Wonderful Cure.

Mrs. Ed. Lloyd, Weak and Worn and Wracked with Pain Found Relief and Cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Ardbeq, Ont., Mar. 8.—(Special)—"Dodd's Kidney Pills have done wonders for me," so says Mrs. Ed. Lloyd, wife of a well-known farmer living on the line of the C. N. O. Railway near here.

"I was so weak I could hardly walk around," Mrs. Lloyd continues. "I suffered from female weakness and kidney trouble. My heart troubled me so much at times I would almost faint with the palpitations. I was treated by the doctor but he could give me no relief.

"I was sick all over when I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Rheumatism, Lumbago, and Neuralgia adding to my sufferings. But Dodd's Kidney Pills helped me almost at once. After taking eight boxes I was completely cured.

Naturally Mrs. Lloyd wants other suffering women to know how she found a cure, and Dodd's Kidney Pills will do for other sufferers just what they did for Mrs. Lloyd, make new women of them.

ASK GOVERNMENT TO ENCOURAGE FARM INDUSTRY

How To Hold Immigrants.

The Eastern provinces cannot, in my judgment, hope to compete with the free homesteads (160 acres) of the west, unless they wake up and display some goods. Many of these immigrants possess all the way from $500 to $2,000, and it is not human to see them go to the farm here, when they can get one in the west for little or nothing. Here is where our Ready Made Farm should come in. The Land Settlement Commission should have had a small number of farms, with suitable buildings for occupancy. The newcomer is not familiar with the cost of construction here, and a ready made home would be a big attraction.

If New Zeala with a population of 1,000,000 can advance $5,000,000 in one year and make a profit of over $200,000, are you going to shrink from pledging the credit of this province to the small extent I have mentioned? Five millions for New Zealand would be equivalent to $1,750,000 for New Brunswick. The sum that I have named for a beginning, viz: $150,000 is less than 10 per cent of the burden which New Zealand assumes.

Optimism Needed.

"Let us turn our backs upon the dreary past of pessimism and despair, and look to the future with confidence. Other countries may excel us in art and refinement, they may surpass us in commerce and manufactures, but most of them are cursed with the slums of great cities, with too much riches and too much poverty. Never before has there been so much bitterness between the classes, never before has there been so much unrest among the masses. I turn from this sickening spectacle to find rest. As my eyes close upon such a topsy-turvy struggle for contentment, I wonder if in this province we may find relief. I should like to see a country with few millionaires and a few paupers. I should like to see a land where there were no huge cities and no empty country. Give me a land filled with human beings, living under normal conditions for fresh air, sunshine and clear skies and deriving their sustenance mainly from cultivation of the soil, and I will show you a country where there is neither riches nor poverty, neither strikes nor unemployment, and the finest example of economic contentment which our civilization can produce. I will show you men and women, modest and serene, humbled by contact with the soil, and fit to become the chosen breed of any race.

I have a pride in the traditions of this province. Every phase of her history appeals to me. Her pioneers fought for their fathers. Upon her lakes and streams their first met success in life, and transmitted to me an example of thrift and contentment which I revere. Their bones now lie buried beneath her soil, but the memory of their struggles is with me still.

Agriculture Needs Attention.

At the conclusion of Mr. McIntyre's address, J. D. Palmer moved the following resolution:

"That the condition of our agricultural pursuits in this province required the urgent attention of our provincial and federal governments and as a necessary means of regenerating our rural life and settling the people upon the land we heartily endorse a courageous policy of state advances or agricultural loans to farmers and other persons engaged in such pursuits. We further request the provincial government to take immediate steps to raise the necessary funds upon the credit of the province, either by arrangement with the Dominion government for the use of savings bank deposits or in such other manner as may be expedient.

"As a preliminary method of carrying out this project we recommend the creation of a land settlement commission to manage the business side of the operations, to acquire, improve and sell vacant farms to natives or immigrants and otherwise assist the better settlement of people upon the land until such time as a heartier for an agricultural bank is obtained."

John B. Burchill thought it was unwise to pass such a resolution without more mature consideration.

James Porter of Andover, for the lower end of the province, pointed out that the banks would not lend money on farm property. The Canadian banking system he said, was nothing more or less than a huge trust to control the circulating medium of the country. He thought the government should provide money for the purchase of farms and should also nationalize the telephone. He was in favor of the resolution.

H. E. Armstrong of St. Andrews moved an amendment that the matter be referred to the Board of Trade throughout the province.

Mr. Armstrong's motion was voted down and the original motion carried by a vote of 16 to 16.

First of Kind.

Arthur Hawkes, Canadian immigration commissioner, who started operations by announcing that he could think more immigration in a minute than George Ham could talk in a week, said that the convention was as far as he knew the first of the kind ever held in Canada. The resolution which had been adopted marked a great step in advance of anything the provinces had yet done. He pointed out that the first thing to be considered was what to do with your immigrant after you had got him and in this connection urged that he should be used right and honestly.

He had heard Dr. Geo. H. Parkin, a distinguished New Brunswicker, say that the New Brunswick farmer was the gentle art of skinning an immigrant. If New Brunswick could capture in the next five years 5,000 clean living English immigrants, they could form a partnership with them that would make New Brunswick even greater than it is now.

The chairman announced the following committee to present the memorial to the provincial government, M. E. Agar, T. H. Estabrooks, H. C. Schofield, St. John; E. W. Ward, St. Stephen; T. C. L. Ketchum, Woodstock; R. E. Armstrong, St. Andrews; J. D. Harquail, Campbellton; J. B. O'Connor, Fredericton; M. G. Siddall, Sorel, Egin.

Premier Flemming.

Premier Flemming was the last speaker on the evening. He congratulated the province on the first convention of the kind ever held. During the last few months he had received a new vision of immigration. The Old Land can throw off 400,000 people a year and formerly four-fifths of these went to make new homes in countries where they lived under a foreign flag. More recently, however, this has changed, and now four-fifths of them to another part of the Empire. This being so, it was very important that those who come from England should come to Canada. He advised that the young people should be kept on the land and their thoughts turned more toward the beauty of the country.

He was pleased that there had been a great revival of interest in this matter and that the boards of trade were prepared to put up their own funds with the government funds to aid in the work of development. He had been told that 40 business men in Fredericton had agreed to put up $25 each as a publicity fund. This was a good example.

Mr. Porter—I hope the government will follow it.

Mr. Flemming—I can't say a word politically on this occasion, but I can tell my friend, Mr. Porter, that the government is prepared to do its full duty in the way of bringing immigrants to the province and caring for them when we get them here.

Referring to Mr. Hawk's statement that New Brunswick could get 5,000 people a year for five years, the province would not be able to take care of them. He hoped the development of the province along the lines that it could absorb the increase as it came. C. Lionel Hanington, of Dorchester moved, seconded by A. F. Barnstead, of Halifax, a vote of thanks to those who had assisted in making the convention a success.

Proceedings of the afternoon session will be found on page 15.

SAY DID NOT BREAK FAITH

Montreal, March 8.—It is denied at Grand Trunk headquarters that there has been any branch of faith in regard to a re-arrangement of rates of pay to conductors and trainmen on branch line runs which is announced to come into effect on the company's system on April 1st. This re-arrangement has resulted in reductions to men on short local runs, who, it is claimed, were receiving wages out of all proportion to the rest of the employees of the system.

When the award of the board of conciliation and arbitration came to effect this year, all the men on these local runs were given the benefit of the maximum rates allowed under this award. But this has been shown to work out unfairly, and the railway company has now exercised the right given it by the board of railway commissioners, which leaves entirely in the judgment of the operating officials of railways the right to deal with the rates of pay to men on local runs and yard engines.

The management of the Grand Trunk believes that the men will see the justice of the re-arrangement, and that the talk which emanates from here today that the possibility of another strike of trainmen is simply the work of agitators who wish to stir up strife rather than the sober opinion of the men generally.

W. G. Brown, the general transportation manager of the Grand Trunk, in his circular announcing the reductions, points out that the company reserves the right to change the rates and regulations upon giving thirty days' notice.

Getting Down to Work.

P. R. Warren, chief engineer of the Norton-Griffiths Company who has been in the city for the past few days, left last night for Montreal. His visit this time, he said, was of a private character. He expects to be back here today. Preparations will probably be commenced for starting the work at Courtenay Bay, which he expects to have under way about the first of April.

Hungarians Leave.

The Halifax express, which left the city last night, took away a party of about fifty Hungarians who arrived here yesterday on the Montezuma. They are going to Sydney, where they will be employed.

WIDESPREAD INTEREST IN NEW CONCERN

Nova Scotia Knitting Mills Attracting Much Favorable Attention Among Investing Public—Many Applications

Halifax, March 8.—The Directorate of the Nova Scotia Underwear Co. consists of a group of young business men who have been successful, and they have with them in the management of the company's affairs at the mills in Eureka, and on its commercial side men who are in the manufacture of knitted wool goods, and who are thoroughly versed in the purchasing and sales departments of the enterprise.

Asked about the offering of the Company's issue of 7 per cent. cumulative preference stock, J. E. Wood replied: "That so many merchants who have been handling the output of the Nova Scotia Underwear Co. Ltd., is gratifying. The business men who have been selling the fine quality of the product of the mills are quickly purchasing the securities."

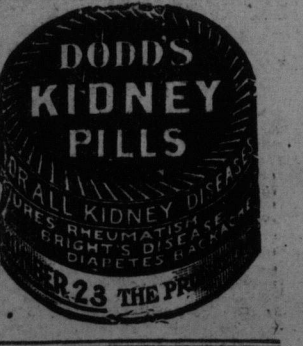

"The volume of applications from all over the Maritime Provinces shows far as we know the interest in the securities of Nova Scotia Underwear Co. Ltd., and naturally is gratifying. It is not a matter of surprise, however, but it is pleasing to see expectations so quickly realized. It was only yesterday that the prospectus appeared in the newspapers, so that investors have been losing no time in making application. There is no doubt that the securities will be readily and speedily taken by the careful investment public."

The offering is made by J. C. Macintosh & Co., and with the preference shares at par is a common stock bonus of 50 per cent.
