Gagetown

Gagetown, Dec. 31.—The Women's Institute, which has been working steadily during the past year to raise an appropriate sum to contribute to the Memorial Hall which the citizens of Gagetown last spring made plans to erect in honor of the Gagetown boys who offered their lives in the Great War, was again very successful at a pie and basket social held in the Temperance Hall on Tuesday evening.

When $70.50 was realized for this cause. While the attendance was not as large as might have been expected, those present showed by their generous support that they had not forgotten the boys whose comradeship they once valued.

The baskets with their gay Christmas decorations made a most attractive sight, and the Christmas delicacies contained therein proved equally attractive. Thomas Allingham acted as auctioneer and the committee in charge of the baskets consisted of Mrs. H. L. Bridges, Mrs. L. R. 10-4 and Mrs. Molly O'Leary. The supper hour was a jolly time for everyone. Tea and coffee were served by Mrs. J. P. Reid, Mrs. William Weston, Mrs. J. R. Dunn and Mrs. George E. McDermott. Following the supper a couple of hours dancing was enjoyed. During the evening Miss Lucile Bridges and Miss Roberta Robinson did a brisk business with a kit-bag from which "grabs" useful and comic might be secured; while a candy table with pretty Christmas decorations, in charge of Misses Edith Bridges, Geraldine Corey and Doris Robinson was also an attractive feature.

The Misses Casswell entertained at a most enjoyable bridge of seven tables on Monday evening, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Casswell, when the honors of the evening were carried off by Miss Greta Robins and J. H. Palmer, while Miss Mary Scovell and G. R. Robinson were the winners of the consolation prize. At midnight refreshments were served by the Misses Casswell, and some delightful music also added to the pleasure of the evening.

On Saturday evening a pleasant little informal dance was held by a number of the young people in the Temperance Hall, when about thirty were present. Music was provided by Victrola and piano, an impromptu "Jazz" orchestra, being pronounced the hit of the evening. Light refreshments were served by the committee in charge and the enjoyable affair broke up before midnight.

J. W. Plimcombe of Fredericton, is spending the week here, the guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Casswell.

A. B. Belyea of Fredericton, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Belyea.

Mrs. Morrison and Mrs. Chisholm, who came on from Boston to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Annie Wiggins, have returned home.

Archibald McAllister was a visitor in Fredericton this week.

Travelling by ice has not been so good in years as it has been this winter, and on the land roads are equally good, the snow being of no great depth, but packed hard and smooth, and cars are a common sight on both ice and land. The week before Christmas a car was able to go from Gagetown to Cole's island by ice, a feat never accomplished before; while on Dec. 18th, teams were able to cross the Jemseg river, which is usually still open at that date. Auto enthusiasts were interested in the trip taken from St. John to Fredericton by E. S. Carter and J. C. Berrie, who passed through Gagetown enroute.

Try "Danderine" and see!

SECTION OF STEAM HOSE SHOWING THE EFFECTS OF WIRE-WINDING UNDER PRESSURE.

SECTION OF GOODYEAR STEAM HOSE UNDER THE SAME PRESSURE.

Goodyear has made Wire-Winding on Steam Hose Unnecessary

THAT the expansion of steam in steam hose had to be controlled by wire-winding has been long taken for granted by industry. Of course, the wire became bent and the hose choked up; it became too hot to handle; it was inconvenient to cut into shorter lengths; the wire cut through the cover. But it had always been so. And wire-winding seemed essential to protect hose from rough usage and from pressure bursts.

The illustration shows what wire-winding does to steam hose. Under the heat and pressure of use, the hose expands faster than the wire. Bulges and blisters form. The tube cracks and the fabric is weakened.

Goodyear has made wire-winding on steam hose unnecessary. Goodyear has developed a hose fabric strong enough to control steam under high pressure—tough enough to insure long service without special winding or covering. Add an inner tube of special compound to resist heat and a tough cover—there you have the story of very long service and very low final cost.

The high quality of Goodyear Steam Hose—the unusual construction, developed solely to meet the severe conditions under which steam hose is used—are but samples of what you will find in all Goodyear Industrial Hose.

Goodyear has scientifically developed a hose for every industrial use. Samples of this hose, and the advice of a trained technical man, are yours for the asking—without obligation. Phone, wire or write the nearest branch.
