PIES WERE HIGH WHEN SOLD FOR SOLDIERS FUND

CATCH TO DATE

RED CROSS BRANC

Winnipeg, Sept. 14—W. Dorey, Woodstock (N. B.), and W. V. Turnba of St. John (N. B.), were elected menbers of the advisory board of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of W. Employes at the convention in this ci which ended today.

TY PREE OFFER

ALLIES CARRY ON CHASE BY TRAIN

Times Correspondent Describes the Terrible Slaughter of Germans Shot So Close to One Another That They Remain Standing-Rheims Reoccupied by French-Boers in Scrap.

London, Sept. 15—The Times' correspondent, from a point near Melun on Sunday, wired a vivid description of the retreat and rout of the Germans during a hurricane and torrents of rain, which turned the roads into rivers so that the wheels of the artillery sank deep in the mire. He describes how the horses strained and struggled, often in vain, to drag the guns away. He acontinues:

"I have just spoken with a soldier who has returned wounded from a pursuit that will go down with the terrible retreat from Moscow as one of the crowning catastrophes of the world. They fled, he declares as animals flee that crowning catastrophes of the

REMAINED STANDING AFTER DEATH

"Imagine a roadway littered with guns, knapsacks, eartridge belts, maxims and heavy cannons even. There were miles and miles of it, and piles of horses and stacks of men shot so close to one another, that they remained standing after death. The sight was terrible and horrible beyond words to describe.

"They retreat back and train load after train load of British and French are swept towards the points of the retreating host. This is the advantage of the battleground which the allies have chosen. The network of railways is like a network of a spider's web. As all railways centre upon Paris, it is possible to thrust troops upon the foe at any point with almost incredible speed, and food and munitions are within arms reach."

London, Sept. 15—The occupation of Rheims by the allied troops was announced by the official press bureau this afternoon.

That the action took place at Raman's Drift, an important strategic position.

Servians Win Again.

Nish, Servis, Sent. 19

Killed Five to One

Paris, Sept. 15—All who have witnessed the combats agree that around the Marne five Germans were killed for every one of the allies.

Boers in Scrap.

London, Sept. 15—A despatch from Capetown to Reuter's says that the Fourth South African Mounted Rifles commanded by Col. Daetson, after two night marches', surprised a German force which had occupied a drift sixty miles from Steinkopf in the Namaquland. After a sharp skirmish, the Germans were killed for every one of the northwestern frontier of Servia.

The Austrians, who were trying to invade the country at different points, were repulsed and suffered heavy casualties. It is estimated that they lost more than 10,000 men in dead or wounded. The military authorities consider the victory a decisive one.

Paris, Sept. 15—A Petrograd despatch to the Havas Agency reports that the Servians have bombarded and destroyed the Hungarian station of Orsova on the Danube, a short distance above where the river quits Hungarian territory, thus cutting communication between Hungary and Roumania. Orsova was the route by which the German sailors reached Turkey.

Nish, Servia, Sept. 11—(Delayed in ransmission) — A great battle was ought on September 8 and 9, on the whole of the northwestern frontier of

RUSSIANS HEM ENEMY BETWEEN TWO RIVERS

Petrograd, Sept. 15, via London, 5.42 p. m.—The general staff has issued

"Russian troops are progressing along the lower stretches of the San river without meeting resistance from the defeated enemy, who continue to retreat.

"After having occupied Grodek, 16 miles west of Lemberg, and reached Mosciska, 87 miles south by west of Lemberg, the Russians find themselves within single day's march of Przemysl.

"There was no fighting on Monday in Eastern Prussia.

"Emperor Nicholas has conferred the decoration of the Order of St. Ge MOVEMENTS COST GERMANS DEARLY. Paris, Sept. 15, 7.03 p. m.—The Russian official statement, issued at Petrograd, according to the Havas Agency, says:

"No fighting occurred in East Prussia today. Our troops extricated themselves from a difficult position, and are awaiting further movements.

"The preliminary engagements have cost the Germans dearly. They threatened to turn the Russian wings, but the covering troops drove them off." HEMMED IN BETWEEN TWO RIVERS.

London, Sept. 15, 4.22 p. m.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Petrograd says that after the capture of Opole and Tourobine, Russian forces have hemmed the enemy into an angle formed by the junction of the River Vistula and the River San.

GERMANS BROKEN IF ALLIES KEEP

Wounded at Battle of Charleroi

SNAPSHOT TAKEN BEHIND THE FRENCH LINES. FRENCH OFFICER WITH LEG SHATTERED BY A SHELL ATTENDED BY THE HOSPITAL CORPS.

THERE'S SOMETHING IN THE ENGLISH AFTER ALL

all;
ou may bet your life they'll carry you
beyond the zone of fire,
For there's something in the English
after all;

after all;
They may scorn the scanty numbers of
the thin red British line,
Yet they fear its lean battalions after
all;

BELGIANS FALL

Correspondent Describes Battle at Weerde on Sunday Where Germans

Tried Ruse

Pre been meditating lately that when everything is told.

There's something in the English after all;

They may be too bent on conquest, and too eager after gold.

But there's something in the English after's no panic rush for safety, where the weak are left to drown, and I won't exhaust my breath by endeavoring to tell you of them all, fet they have a sense of duty, and they'll face it to the death, So there's something in the English after all.

Though their sins and faults are many, and I won't exhaust my breath by endeavoring to tell you of them all,

So there's something in the English after all.

Though the half of English after all.

Though the half of English after all.

Though the half of English after all.

There's no panic rush for safety, where the wildering rapidity. Back through hedges and across ditches, over the roadway came the Belgian infantry, crouching, "This is no place for two innocent little American boys," remarked Thompson, shouldering his camera. By the first to leave the wreck, will.

And the captain is the last to stand upon the sinking deck,
So there's something in the English after all.

Though the half of English after all.

So there's something in the English after all.

There's no panic rush for safety, where the Belgian infantry, crouching, the began to happen with bewildering rapidity. Back through hedges and across ditches, over the roadway came the Belgian infantry, crouching. This is no place for two innocent little American boys," remarked Thompson, shouldering his camera. By the first to leave the wreck, with the Belgian infantry was more than a mile in our rear and that to reach our car we had to cross nearly a mile of open field. Bullets were whisking across it and kicking up little spurts of brown earth where they struck.

Shrappel Annoying.

f you're wounded by a savage foe and bugles sound "Retire!"

There's something in the English after all;

Tou may bet your life they'll carry you beyond the zone of fire,

For there's something in the English after after all;

Yet there's something in the English after all;

Though the half of Europe hates them, and would joy in their decline,
Yet there's something in the English after all;

They may scorn the scanty numbers of the thin red British line,
Yet they fear its lean battalions after all;

Yet they fear its lean battalions after all;

Though the half of Europe hates them, and would joy in their decline,
Yet there's something in the English after all;

They may scorn the scanty numbers of the thin red British line,
Yet they fear its lean battalions after all;

Yet they fear its lean battalions after all;

THE ON MOVE

THE ADMAND IN THE PROPERTY OF R. Administration for the property of the property

ARMOR-PLATE DEVICE. FOR CANADIAN TROOPS

Can be Used as a Shield in Battle and as a Spade in Entrenching - Experiments at Valcartier Show it to be Bullet-proof and a Great Protection to Soldiers Sprawled Behind it on Firing Line.

Valcartier Camp, Sept. 16—The Canadian troops, when they sail, may be equipped with an armor-plate protection, which it is expected would save the lives of hundreds of the men, while they are engaged with the enemy, especially when defending an entrenched position against an infantry attack.

The device is a spade, which would also be used to dig shallow trenches by the advance party during an advance. In the blade, an oval aperture is punched. After the trenches are dug, the spade would be placed on the ground, it being possible to hold it firmly with a spike, and sprawled behind it, the troops would fire through the aperture, getting a secure rest for the rife and a splendid protection from the bullets of the enemy. Experiments with the spade were carried out yesterday both with the Ross Rifle and Mark 7 ammunition and a Laird machine gun. Neither weapon punctured the plate, and only in one or two cases did the bullet force its way through far enough to crack it. They

CANADA WILL SEND TWO MORE CAVALRY REGIMENTS

Valcartier, Sept. 14—The Canadian government, after communicating with the war office, has decided to increase the first Canadian expeditionary force by adding two complete cavalry regiments of 575 men and 37 officers each.

The regiments to go will be the Strathcona House and the Royal Canadian Dragoons. Both regiments now form part of the Canadian permanent force, but at present they number only about 300 men in each regiment. They will be in addition to the two cavalry squadrons already assembled at Valcartier.

The British war office has intimated that further cavalry troops from Canada will be welcomed and the men of both regiments here are eager to go.

The decision of the government to send them means that practically the whole of the permanent force in Canada will go abroad either for service in France or Belgium, or doing temporary garrison duty in Bermuda, as in the case of the Royal Canadian Regiment which left Halifax some days ago.

MORE ARBITRATION TREATIES SIGNED

Washington, Sept. 15—Treaties between the United States and Great British, France, Spain and China were signed today by Secretary Bryan and the British, French, Spanish and the Chinese ambassedors, which the Washington government believes, "Will make armed con-