Solution, the only thing is to be grateful for the precious things which come and help to dispel
the gloom. I feel more & more that human love & fellowships are
the greatest things in life.
My father used often
to say "what we have not we long to have &
what we have forget" & I think this is true
that he fought against those you don't find your new work too
exhausting, I think
responsibility takes a
