Major M. A. MacPherson, K. C.,
Westman Chambers,
Regina, Sask.

Dear Major MacPherson:

I am enclosing to-day's leading editorial in the Toronto Telegram. You will find it very interesting, and you will note especially the quotation from the Globe and Mail report of a speech made by Mr. Coldwell in this City on February 14, 1937. You probably have heard him talk the same stuff, but just in case you have not seen this, I thought I should send it to you.

Can you tell me where this son is now? My own feeling would be that he likely is in the Army, but it would be worth my while to know the facts.

Yours very truly,

AM/E.
Encl.
