

Eskimo are still Heathen. To look after the latter and the Indians (less than a thousand belong to our Church), there are the Bishop, two English, three Canadian, one country-born, and two native clergymen and their wives, six native catechists, and several lay helpers, including ladies.

Owing to the nomadic habits of the Natives it is not easy to reach and teach them. At certain times in the year they come to the trading posts to barter their furs, which gives

GROUP OF MISSIONARIES AT HERSCHEL ISLAND.
The Rev. and Mrs. I. O. Stringer, Mr. Young, and Archdeacon McDonald.