

LATEST IRISH NEWS.

London, Sep. 24.—Parnell intends to remain in Ireland and follow up the land agitation, and will not go to America as arranged.

London, Sep. 24.—The Globe says that the rumor that the Government intends to prosecute members of the Land League for participation in the meetings, was considered at a private meeting of the Irish members at Dublin to-day.

London, Sep. 24.—Parnell is at present in England, consulting eminent lawyers on the subject of the rumored Government prosecution of members of the Land League, but will reach Ireland in time to attend the land meeting at New Ross on Sunday.

London, Sep. 27.—A land meeting was held on Sunday near a spot where Lord Mountmorris was murdered. The speakers disclaimed any connection of the Land League with the murder.

London, Sept. 27.—Parnell, in a speech at a land meeting at New Ross, yesterday, referring to the murder of Boyd some months ago, said: With reference to the sad occurrence of the shooting of a landlord in this neighborhood, I wish to point out that a recourse to such methods of procedure is entirely unnecessary, and absolutely prejudicial where there is a suitable organization among tenants.

A meeting of five hundred Orangemen at Gilford, county Down, passed resolutions calling upon the Government to suspend trial by jury in murder cases, and declaring that citizens of the United States and other foreigners abusing the hospitality of the country by denouncing the institutions of the United Kingdom, should be expelled.

Dublin, Sept. 27.—Lord Mountmorris was murdered on Saturday night at Rushmore, within a mile of Clonour, county of Galway. The scene of the assassination was a neck of land between Lough Mask and Lough Corrib. The Viscount attended a meeting of Magistrates on Saturday afternoon at the Court House of Clonour, and was seen to leave the town about eight o'clock. Half an hour afterwards his horse and carriage arrived at his residence, a mile distant, without him. This aroused suspicion among his family, and search having been made, he was found lying on the side of the road in a pool of blood, lifeless. The police were at once sent for, and the body was conveyed to Ebor Hall, the family seat. Lord Mountmorris appears to have received one bullet in the neck, and two in the body. Any one of these six would have been sufficient to cause his death. He was little known except in his own neighborhood, and throughout Mayo and Galway. He had small estates, which he farmed to some extent. He had fifteen tenants, with whom he had most unhappy relations. Quite recently he obtained ejection decrees against two of them. As a magistrate, he was unpopular, and at a meeting of justices which he had been attending a resolution was passed calling upon the government to adopt coercive measures.

OUR BUSINESS MEN.—Few persons in London have for the short time they have been with us shown more perseverance and business energy than Mr. Kilgour & Son, coming as they did, in our midst perfect strangers with a business that is difficult to work up. Undertaking goods may be exhibited, but are not like any other goods, as customers are out of the question before the sale event forces them to a necessity. One feature about the establishment is, their door is never closed, and a light burns all night for public convenience, which some members of the firm are sleeping on the premises. In conversation with these gentlemen (who must have spent considerable funds since they came here) we learn that they are very grateful for the patronage extended to them so far, and speak very highly of the London people, while we may say on the other hand those who have required their services are loud in their praise of the efforts put forth to do all that could be expected of them.

THE CANADA HEALTH JOURNAL.—We have received the September number of this really excellent and useful monthly, edited by Edward Fitzgibbon, M. D., Toronto. It should be in every household. By a careful perusal of its pages from time to time, and following the advice therein contained, many of the prevailing diseases could be prevented, and those now in delicate health would receive many useful hints which would prove very beneficial. Price, $1.50 per annum. Address: "CANADA HEALTH JOURNAL, Toronto."

DR. MCGUIGAN.—We have much pleasure in making the announcement that Dr. W. J. McGuigan has commenced practice in this city. He is a graduate of McGill University, and carried off many honors in that scholastic College which seldom falls to the lot of students. He comes to London, also, highly recommended from his former place of residence. His office is in Nitschke's Block, Dundas street, in the rooms formerly occupied by Dr. Phalen.

THE CATHOLIC FAMILY ANNUAL.—For the thirteenth time this remarkably sprightly and interesting little volume has made its appearance from the press of the Catholic Publication Society. It contains a number of illustrations of prominent personages connected with the church in the past and present, and a large amount of interesting reading matter which will be greatly appreciated in Catholic families.

GEO. P. BOWEN'S NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY.—This is undoubtedly the king of the directories in this line. It is complete and carefully edited. Thousands of our business men will find it a most valuable book for reference, while the firm which has published it will be found reliable and straightforward in all their dealings.

Every farmer visiting the Western Fair should not fail to see the Imperial Harvester. It is a wonder of perfection. It was the admiration of all who examined it at the Toronto Fair.

BATHS. ELECTROPATHIC INSTITUTE, 24 Queen's Avenue, London, Ont.

The first physiological effect of the Mollere Electric-Vapor Baths is to perfect the perspiration function of the skin, to give a healthy and healthy color, instead of the weak, dusky complexion which is the lot of the majority of people. The skin is thus fitted for imbibing the oxygen of the atmosphere, and the system almost invigorated by action. The use of these Baths remedies this state of things, giving, at the same time, beauty to the skin and health to the body. Its utility in chronic congestion of the liver and spleen, and in rheumatism, is also well known. It is common to associate perspiration with debility, and to imagine it to be weakening to the system. This is a mistake; passive means cannot weaken. Travellers in the East coast, bathing establishments for refreshment and invigoration, and the rule is to bathe in the morning, and to bathe in the evening to fresh and strength. Perspiration drains away no living tissue, but merely effects a healthy and healthy condition of the system. If you perspire well you come out of the bath in a better condition than you went in. This can be tested in three ways: its effect upon those debilitated by disease; on the endurance of the bath; and on the general exposure to it. After long and severe exertion, whether of the body or of the mind, bathing relieves, whether it be the fatigue of mental work or of long continued physical labor.
