A BRUSH WITH CAVALRY.
"Soon after we sighted another steamer and chased her till she ran ashore. We were about to board her when some cavalry came up and opened fire. We replied and dropped a few, and then dived and torpedoed the ship."

"The next day (Tuesday) our skipper decided on entering Constantinople. To make a long story short, we got into the harbor without mishap, and fired two torpedoes, one of which sank a transport loaded with troops, and the other exploded on shore somewhere. We learned afterwards that it caused some panic. The troops refused to go on another transport, the shops closed and people ran up the stairs—in fact, it caused an uproar for a time."

"The following Friday morning we saw five transports escorted by destroyers. We banged the first and biggest one, which sank in about three minutes."

"A few days later we went back to our old corner where we sank those other three, and caught a supply ship napping."

A FAREWELL SMACK.
"A few days after we torpedoed a German transport, and then we got no more blood for a time until last Monday morning. On our way back just before entering the Narrows, we sank another transport. That was our farewell smack."

"When we entered the harbor it was dark. Had it been daylight the admiral would have made us steam around the fleet. All the ships we passed as we were making for the harbor, the admiral, the Adamant, although the smallest ship of them all, gave us the best cheers. It was good to hear it, and to know that we had at last done something worthy of praise."

RECEIVED BAD NEWS.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 29—Royal G. Bird, who rowed as No. 2 in the winning Cornell Varsity crew yesterday, was notified as he stepped out of the shell at the conclusion of the race that his brother Eugene Bird was dead at the New York city. News of the death of the oarsman's brother was received here before the race was started but was withheld from the Cornell man at the request of his father until the finish from fear that it might prevent him from rowing in the race. Eugene Bird rowed in the Cornell varsity eight last year.

held by the city. Then on January 1, 1915, the next amount of $2,000 could be paid with interest which had been collected from the city's mortgage.
No one disputed the fact that the park would grow in value, as improvements were made on it. These improvements would cost about $2,000, and would include, the lighting system, repairing of buildings and a lighting system. Of this amount perhaps only $1,000 would be used this year. It was necessary to have repairs made to this amount.

Academy of Music Closing Recital Held

The first of the Academy of Music closing recitals was held in Victoria Hall Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m. The programme consisted of piano solos elementary, primary and junior grade with two vocal solos, an intermediate piano solo and a closing piano quartette by four of the associate piano teachers.
The work all through showed very careful training in the recital work, than which no part is more important, in both piano and vocal departments. The programme in full was as follows:

The second of the three closing recitals of the Academy of Music was held last evening in Victoria Hall. The piano numbers were of intermediate and senior grade and were very artistically played throughout. Especial mention should be made of the finished style, expression, and control of their work of Misses Helen McKenzie, Helen Truss, Gertrude Erb, Ena Bailey, Bertha Brigham, Ethel Dixon and Jessie Crompton.

The vocal class of Miss Nolan was represented by Miss Wheeler of Paris and Mr. Avery, junior pupils of much promise; also by Miss Morley of Norwich, whose beautiful voice showed to great advantage in the Mendelssohn number. The honors of the vocal work, however, belong to Miss Mary O'Grady and Miss Corinne Chave, not only for the beautiful quality of their voices, but also for the artistic taste of their singing. In the violin department, Miss Helen Fuller, a pupil of Miss Jones, played with good technique and gives promise of fine work in the future, the violin quartette being most satisfactory in every way. The opening piano duo and closing quartette were especially well given, being full of life and spirit, yet with restraining shading and refinement of tone.

The programme in full was as follows:
Duo, Pas Des Cymbales (Chaminade), Miss D. Drake and Miss E. Bus; (a) Shepherds All and Maidens Fair (Newin), (b) Capricante (Wachs), (a) Miss Helen McKenzie, (b) Mr. Herbert Beney; Waltz from Faust (Gounod-Wichtl) (violin) Miss Helen Fuller; (a) Souvenance (Mendelssohn) (Cama Morley), (b) Let O'Ban (Smith), (a) Miss Helen Truss, (b) Miss Charlotte Matthews; Vocal, Dardofils A-Bloving (German), Miss Beatrice Wheeler; (a) If I Were a Bird (Jensen), (b) Tarantelle (Karszenoff), (a) Miss Gertrude Erb, (b) Miss Ena Bailey; Vocal, In Distant Lands (Sanderson), Mr. L. proposition. Ald. Gress said that the Parks Board should be congratulated on the splendid agreement they had made. This park used to be one of the best in Ontario and would draw immense crowds from Toronto, Hamilton and other cities. He was pleased that the board had taken the matter up, for they were making an excellent deal in his opinion.

Mayor Spence stated that in connection with baseball at the park (meaning professional baseball) the Parks Board could settle that matter should it arise at any time. This was in answer to Ald Suddaby's question.

closed until January of next year, but in the meantime it could be used by the people, of course.

Ald. Calbeck asked why the third reading of the By-law could not be left over until the next meeting.

Ald. Ryerson stated that the majority of the Councillors had visited the Park recently with the Parks Board and they were all favorable to the deal. He did not wish to rush the thing, but the summer season was well advanced already, and if the By-law was read the 3rd time and passed, people could use the Park for picnics and recreation immediately.

Ald. Pitcher said that several members had not attended the special meeting called to consider the matter and that was why they rejected it.

Ald. Gress thought that the By-law should be passed immediately so that the Park could be used on July 1st.

Mayor Spence remarked that in connection with the $2,000, any committee the council should appoint would sanction the money before it was handed over. It would be a safe step, and no doubt. It was only as a result of his visit to the Park, with the other gentlemen, that he had decided to take the matter up. He was thoroughly convinced that all the Aldermen of the city were satisfied as it would only be a transference of assets.

Ald. Ryerson said that it was strange that only two councillors objected, and those two who had not visited the place.

Ald. Calbeck said that he had no objection to the purchase of the Park, but the people should be acquainted with the facts first. It was the first he had heard that the Parks Board had considered the matter of purchasing the property. He thought that the third reading should be left until next meeting.

The Mayor announced that as soon as the matter could be made public, he had called a meeting and all had been notified.

Ald. Suddaby thought that it should be left over.

The Mayor said that it was not bound down to time, but as there was no option, it should not be left over.

Ald. Calbeck stated that he didn't know that there was no option on the place and would change his opinion in favor of the reading and passing of the By-law.

The Mayor stated that he had notified all the members, and had entertained no intention of keeping any members in the dark.

Ald. Suddaby said that this had been the first he had heard about the matter, but now that he had heard the details, he was satisfied with the explanation.

Ald. Dowling stated that without one exception, the Aldermen who had visited the Park, favored its purchase. It was needed by the citizens as a pleasure park. As this was a time of hard circumstances, many people were out of work and had much spare time, which they could enjoy in the park if it were purchased. The Street Railway commissioners could put on a good car service to the Park.

Ald. Ryerson moved that the By-law be read a third time. The vote was:

Yeas—Aldermen Calbeck, Bragg, Woolams, Dowling, Freeborn, Jennings, Pitcher, Cuff, Gress, Mellen, Welsh and Ryerson.
Nays—Aldermen Suddaby and Second.

The By-law was then read a third time and carried.
