POLAR POSTAGE.

Special Stamps Used by Some of the Exploring Expeditions.

Many arctic and antarctic explorers have taken with them a special supply of postage stamps for special uses. When the Terra Nova left New Zealand on Nov. 20, 1910, she had on board £100 worth of New Zealand penny stamps bearing the words "Victoria Land."

Captain Scott was made postmaster of British Antarctica, an appointment first held by Sir Ernest Shackleton in 1907.

The stamps carried by the Shackleton expedition were the ordinary New Zealand stamps, marked "King Edward VII. Land." Twenty-three thousand of these stamps were issued, and though of only a penny value they are now quoted at 20 shillings each, unused.

The Australian antarctic expedition, under the leadership of Dr. Mawson, used the stamps of Tasmania, canceled with a special postmark showing in the center the figure of a penguin. The stamps used by the Terra Nova expedition were also canceled by a design noticeable for the figure of a penguin.

The German antarctic expedition of 1911 had a stamp of special manufacture showing a design of the expedition's ship, the Deutschland.—Minneapolis Journal.

LIFE IN COLLEGE.

A Few Sarcastic Pointers on How to Write a Story About It.

Anybody can write a story about college life. If he has not attended a college so much the better; his imagination is less trammelled. A few simple rules must be observed, however:

First.—All heroes are named Jack, Stanley or Dick.

Second.—All college men wear sweaters always and smoke short, fat bowled pipes.

Third.—There is always a fatty, who is a funny fellow.

Fourth.—Any four college men make up a quartet, which can sing "Mer-hilee We Ro-hull Alonng" at any time.

Fifth.—All college men are wooing a girl named Dorothy or Betty, who is "sweet and pure as an angel."

Sixth.—All college men address one another as "old hoss."

Seventh.—College men never study, but spend their time in tossing repartee back and forth.

Eighth.—All college rooms are adorned with pennants.

Ninth.—All college men call their fathers "Pater" and speak of the "honor of the dear old school" in a husky voice.—Harvard Lampoon.

Hugo and the Barber.

When Victor Hugo lived in Paris in the Place Royale he used to be shaved by a barber named Brassier. A friend of the poet asked the barber one day if he was busy. "I hardly know which way to turn," was the reply. "We have to dress the hair of thirty ladies for sores and balls." And M. Brassier showed the list to his friend. A few days after the friend returned and inquired about the thirty ladies. "Ah, monsieur," said the barber sadly, "I was not able to attend half the number, and I have lost many good customers through Mr. Victor Hugo." It appeared that the poet when about to be shaved was suddenly inspired and seized the first piece of paper he could find to write a poem. Hugo hastily left the shop with his unfinished verses, on the back of which were the names and addresses of the thirty ladies, many of whom waited in vain for their coiffeur.

Some Measures.

The length of the foot was used for distances long before it was fixed at twelve inches. A "furlong" is only a furlowling. The breadth of the hand became the standard because the easiest way of measuring the height of the horse. The length of the arm gave the length of the "ell," and from the elbow to the tip of the middle finger was the "cubit." By stretching out both arms as if on a cross man invented the measure of the "fathom." Cloth measure still decrees that two and one-half inches make a "nail," and this is the width of four fingers held together and measured across the nails. The apothecary's "dram" originally signified "only as much raw spirit as can be held in the mouth."

Not Favorably Impressed.

"Can you tell me some way to cook potatoes?" asked the young wife who was doing her first marketing.

"They are very nice just boiled in their jackets," suggested the grocer.

"And have you no other potatoes than these?" she went on doubtfully.

"These jackets do not look very stylish."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Trifle, Really.

"That was a mighty attractive costume Mrs. Puregold wore at the dance last night."

"I suppose it was—if you say so—but it didn't seem to me there was enough to make much fuss over."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Nearly Barefoot.

"I hear that Jones is on his uppers. Is it true?"

"I guess so. I met him this morning, and he said he expected to be on his feet in a few days."—Omaha Bee.

Accounting For It.

"Eyes are the windows of the soul." "That accounts for their so often having such a glassy stare."—Baltimore American.

Wise men say nothing in dangerous times.—Saiden.

Barns Near Perth Destroyed By Fire.

The barns belonging to Mr. Robt. Jackson, Bathurst township, just west of Perth, were destroyed by fire which broke out early Thursday morning. The buildings and contents are a total loss. Most of Mr. Jackson's crop was in so that the loss is a heavy one.

A spark from the engine of one of the three C.P.R. trains passing east between 4 and 5.30 a.m., is thought to have been the cause. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS

PAINTS & VARNISHES

The paint that protects the outside of a house should not be the same as the paint for a floor or a door or a wall. Different surfaces require different finishes. There should be but one thing in common—Sherwin-Williams quality—the quality that makes each paint, varnish, stain, enamel or other finish just right for its purpose.

If you know the paint and varnish you are using on your house or in your home are made by the same maker in the same sure, careful, painstaking way as the paint used on iron bridges, steel buildings, railroad cars and automobiles, we believe you will have more confidence in them.
