

Weight and Power

The CHATHAM 4 cylinder 25 H.P. Motor Car, at $2,500, is a bargain—better than the average $3,000 car of any power. We consider weight of car in relation to power of engine. Many cars are either over or under-powered, costing more to operate in one case, and breaking down frequently in the other.

THE CHATHAM (A CANADIAN CAR)

is built to last and to run economically. It is a handsome car, too. Introduce the first one in your town. It will "make good" to you, and be the admiration of your friends. It will be WORTH WHILE to write us for catalogue giving full particulars. Manufactured by THE CHATHAM MOTOR CAR CO., Limited, Chatham, Ont.

The Nordheimer Permanency of Tone

As a rule when a person buys a piano it is not with the intention of replacing it with a new one next month, next year or within five years. It is regarded as a permanent fixture in the home, and the most important feature next to the owners themselves.

It is evident that great care should be taken to select a piano which will retain its original brilliancy, power and quality of tone for years and years and years. And such a piano is the "Nordheimer."

It has a lasting, permanent tone, as you can prove for yourself if you play on one which has been in the home of a friend for ten, fifteen, twenty years or more.

The "Nordheimer" is perfectly constructed by experts from the finest grade of materials procurable. It is built with the idea of not only satisfying the most critical ear for tone-quality when new, but for retaining its original superb tone, so that it will still satisfy the critical ear in years to come.

Those who own a "Nordheimer" are the only ones who can really appreciate to the fullest sense the wonderful, pure, sweet, brilliant, yet powerful tone of the peerless "Nordheimer" piano. May we not have the pleasure of a talk with you, with the object in view of placing "Nordheimer" in your home?

Our Mr. R. V. Carter will visit Chatham frequently in our interest and will be pleased to furnish you with any information you may desire. Correspondence addressed to him in care of the Garner House will receive careful attention.

DID MONTREALERS UP.

Fakir Had Scheme to Make Illicit Whiskey—Netted $15,000.

Montreal, July 5.—One of the slickest confidence men Montreal has ever had to deal with has just disappeared after cleaning up about $15,000.

His scheme was to make illicit manufacture of liquor, and most every man he tackled said "Fine," and bit, thinking that there was a unit of money in it, but the old story—they were disappointed. There is not much danger of the fakir being prosecuted, because the ones whose money he got are so badly mixed up in the conspiracy to make illicit liquor that they are afraid to act.

His proposal to each individual, supposed to be absolutely confidential, and only made to that person, was to become partners with him in the making of the illicit stuff.

He had all the plans arranged, he claimed, to make a thousand gallons a week. The manufacture of whiskey was to be carried on under the cloak of a Canadian wine factory. The whiskey was to be made from sour wine, which, experts say, furnishes a whiskey of sixty overproof.

In letting his accomplices have a look at the machine that was to turn out their thousand gallons of whiskey a week, which was to be sold for three thousand dollars, he told them that he would have a small, inexpensive still on the premises for the revenue men to find in case they should be warned in some way or other of what was going on.

He had a subterranean chamber and passage dug in an old warehouse at the rear of the Dominion Button Works on Visitation street, and there the thousand gallon still, which cost eleven hundred dollars, and those who saw it say it was a beauty, was installed.

That night, while the arch-schemer was buying champagne for some of his victims, the big still was quietly taken apart and shipped away to no one knows where.

Later the gentleman himself also went away.

CANADIAN WINS FIGHT.

Crowd of 9,000 Saw One of Shortest Battles on Record.

Oceanview, Ringside, July 5.—Bill Squires, the mystery from Australia, lasted only a portion of a round before Tommy Burns yesterday afternoon.

A succession of right-hand blows to the jaw and the fight was over. The fact that Squires was an unknown quantity had lent interest to the fight, and an immense crowd assembled just outside San Francisco, to witness the contest.

July 9,000 people were in the arena and paid all the way from $2 to $20 to see a few seconds fighting. What fighting there was was decidedly one-sided, as Squires never landed a blow. Within ten seconds after the song had rung for the men to begin, stocky little Burns had swung his right to the Australian's jaw and he went down.

It looked then as if the fight was over, but in four seconds Squires staggered to his feet and rushed violently at Burns. They came to a clinch and Squires put his huge fist up to fight. Then he broke in the centre of the ring and Burns immediately popped over another right and Squires went down again. He got up in a second and then Burns swung a succession of rights, each one staggering the Australian, until he dropped his arms. Then Burns swung his right again with tremendous force and it was all over. The result while a surprise to many, keeps Jim Jeffries still in retirement. He had announced that if Squires won he would meet him in the ring.

Beyond demonstrating that he can hit hard and with lightning speed, Burns had no opportunity to demonstrate his class. The end was too sudden.

WHITE GIRL A SLAVE.

Has Been Detained and Forced to Work Since Childhood.

Richmond, Va., July 5.—It is almost beyond belief that in the enlightened commonwealth of Virginia a young Anglo-Saxon woman was once out of a county only an hour's ride from the City of Richmond with a startling story of abject slavery and peonage since her childhood.

The girl, who is generally known as the "white slave," answers to the name of Eleanor. Her case soon will be brought to a climax when Attorney Hawley institutes a suit in her behalf against J. J. Cawley, a dairyman, of Chesterfield County, in whose home the girl has spent the better portion of a laborious existence.

The plaintiff to the suit is now 21 years old. Her bill will show that she was sold to Cawley when a child, for whom she was forced to work without compensation until the intervention of friends secured her release. The young woman is prepossessing in appearance and timid to a degree. She has large brown eyes, and an abundance of dark hair.

Watched the Railways.

Ottawa, July 5.—The railway commission put into execution on Dominion Day a plan of inspection for which it had been quietly preparing for some time.

The complaints of overcrowding on passenger trains on holidays have been numerous of late, and the commission, without giving notice to the railways, stationed men at the principal centres to note condition. In Toronto, for example, the inspection began on Friday, and was continued through Saturday and Sunday to Monday.

At present the returns are being collated, and they are to be compared with the traffic figures submitted by the railways.

The results will not be made public for several days.

Farmer Commits Suicide.

Underwood, July 6.—George Patterson, an old and highly-respected farmer of Bruce Township, committed suicide by taking a dose of carbolic acid. He leaves a widow and family. The cause is supposed to have been ill-health.

JACK ALOFT

The sailor, mast-high and swinging at ease with the roll of the ship, is a sight less common in these days of steam propulsion than it used to be.

Mr. Bullen, in his "Log of a S. S. Wait," gives a description of his sensations when the masthead was a point of dread to him. The author was then a cabin-boy on a ship bound for Bombay, when one rough day he heard his name called, and running aft, was met by the second mate.

He put a coil of rope in my hands and told me to reeve the signal-halyards in the mizzen truck. We carried extra long royal poles or bare extensions of masts above the highest point of rigging. Ours were sixteen feet long, and the top was not much bigger than a man's wrist. They were crowned with flat pieces of wood the size of a cheese plate, on one side of which was the sheave for signal-halyards.

I started aloft boldly enough, but when I reached the base of the pole and saw to what height its bariness towered above, I faltered. My heart failed as the staggering ship lurched and the sea roared one hundred and twenty feet below me. My head swam, and all strength left me. I sat some time with my legs clutched about the pole, just clutching, without power to move. A voice from the deck called up:

Hurry up, there, with the halyards!

Although I felt that I was going to certain death, yet my fear of the mate was so potent I made another attempt. Pulling myself up, I shut my eyes and said a prayer. Trembling but fighting against the numbing weakness, I actually struggled to the top. Even now, when I think of it, a cold sweat starts out all over me. Opening my eyes, I thrust at the opening of the sheave with the end of the line. It was knotted, and would not go through.

I had tried and failed, and with a last flash of energy, I grasped the pole with both arms and slid down to the eyes of royal rigging. There I clung a few moments, violently ill; then, feeling the bitterness of death past, I descended, walked up to the mate, and said:

"I've tried, and I can't do it, sir; not if you kill me!"

The mate stared at me a moment, then turned away and gave the order to someone else.

The incident may seem trivial, but though I have faced death many times, I never felt such terror.

Discusses All-Red.

London, July 5.—(C. A. P.)—The News publishes an interview with a leading shipowner of whom it asked if the war in labor claims difficulty might not lead to the adoption of the all-red route for carrying Australian mail.

The shipowner answered in the negative. A steamship, he says, cannot live by mails alone, except at almost a prohibitive cost to the authorities, and he emphasized the trans-shipping difficulty in connection with goods and passenger traffic on account of the coaling question on the Pacific route.

H. F. BARTELS SKIPPED.

Man Held For Extradition Escapes From Sheriff's Custody.

Toronto, July 5.—Herman Bartels, a millionaire brewer of Auburn, N.Y., who has been in custody in Canada for several weeks fighting extradition proceedings, escaped from the custody of Sheriff Smith of Welland at Osgoode Hall yesterday. Bartels was appearing before Justice Riddell in argument concerning extradition.

Shortly after court resumed in the afternoon, Sheriff Smith took Bartels into the corridor and downstairs to one of the lavatories in the west side of the building. Smith stepped inside for a moment, and when he came out Bartels had disappeared. Smith gave the alarm and at once the sedate halls of the old building were alive with hurrying feet.

The city police were notified, but no sign of him was recorded late last night.

Bartels is 60 years of age, and was being extradited on a perjury charge in connection with his trial for setting fire to his brewery.

He was arrested by Chief of Provincial Police Maitland Niagara Falls, Ont., in the first week of May of this year.

He was taken before the county judge at Welland and the release to the American authorities signed, when his counsel, Hartley Dewar, K.C., moved for habeas corpus proceedings.

The hearing of the argument of the case at Osgoode Hall was completed yesterday in Bartels' absence and judgment was reserved.

Bartels was convicted at Auburn of attempted arson. He had purchased a brewery for $1,500 and then insured it for $75,000. He had it all in readiness to fire when his plans were discovered.

Upon his conviction his counsel moved for a three days' stay of proceedings before Bartels was sentenced. This was granted and he was allowed out on $15,000 bail. He came to Canada and the bail bond was compromised for $5,000.

It being impossible to extradite him for attempted arson an indictment for perjury was secured by the prosecuting attorney and it was upon this that the proceedings were based.

ANGLO-GERMAN PROPOSITION.

Discussed At Hague Conference—Want to Hasten Work.

The Hague, July 5.—The sub-committee of the peace conference on the proposed prize court, M. Bourgeois (France) presiding, met yesterday and discussed the Anglo-German propositions regarding the establishment of an international supreme prize court.

Baron Marshall von Baurstein (Germany) made a speech explaining the German project, and Sir Edward Grey (Great Britain) and several other delegates made brief statements on the subject.

General Horace Porter said the Americans wished to present their statements in writing.

Four out of the eight questions forming the set on the subject were approved.

M. Bourgeois said that the presidents of committees had agreed, with the view of hastening the work, that no new questions shall be introduced after the present week and that further modifications can only be proposed as amendments.

MISS ECKSTEIN RECEIVED.

The Hague, July 5.—President Nidloff of the peace conference yesterday received Miss Anna Eckstein of Boston, Mass., who presented a petition, signed by over two million Americans, in favor of a general arbitration treaty.

MONTCAIM ON THE ROCKS.

Government Steamer In Trouble—I. C. R. Disappointed.

North Sydney, N.S., July 5.—A blackeye was given this port Wednesday night when the Empress of Ireland sent a wireless message to the Montcalm that the Empress would not come in with mails and passengers on account of fog, but would sail on to Montserrat.

The I.C.R. officials had a train in readiness for the mails and passengers.

Among those on board the Empress were the Premiers of New Zealand and British Columbia.

When the steamer Montcalm was running in she steamed too close to shore and ran with pretty good force on bottom, just beyond the breakwater. Yesterday she was still hard and fast.
