WANDERED 35 MILES IN THE WOODS

Rough Experience of a Grand Falls Man

John Warren West of Grand Falls had a most trying experience last week. He and his two little sons started Sunday on a hunting trip on the Salmon River. Mr. West left the two boys in camp and started out alone to see what he could find in way of game, taking only a light lunch, gun and axe with him. When he did not return at night they became uneasy and the next day a rescue party began search for him. He left the camp on Tuesday and was not found until Friday noon about 35 miles from where he started. One hand and one foot were frozen but he was able to be brought home Sunday night.

His many friends and his family put in an anxious time for several days and all were very glad to know he got safely home not much the worse of his trip.

How Florenceville Celebrated

Florenceville was not slow to celebrate the grand victory of the Allied forces by ringing of bells, bonfires, etc. Late in the evening a representative gathering of people assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Wheeler for an oyster stew. Speeches were made by Rev. Mr. Manuel, A. D. McCain and others. A committee of six was appointed to meet the returned soldiers at the station and later to make arrangements for a general celebration for all the returned men from this town and surrounding country.

Miss Ada Saunders left on Thursday for Seattle, Washington, where she will visit her brother. She was formerly employed by the department of agriculture.

DETAILS OF VICTORY LOAN 1918

The following interesting tables show in detail the work of the Victory Loan committee of Carleton County. The figures are supplied by Chairman Miller and comprise the official report to canvassers. At first Mr. Miller was somewhat down cast that his effort failed to put the county over the top, but prominent business men all over the county and province consider that Carleton County did decidedly well. She was simply assessed more money than was in the county. The parish of Brighton subscribed a larger amount than the whole county of Madawaska. The epidemic in Kent and Wicklow was most severe and accounts for the low figures in those parishes. In several instances the canvassers were themselves ill and could do but little work. On the whole Carleton did splendidly and under the circumstances it would not have been humanly possible to produce higher figures.

Welcome to Pte. David Clarke

On Thursday evening, Nov. 23, a large number of the friends of Pte. David Clarke gave him a surprise party, the occasion being his safe arrival home after having spent two years in khaki. The evening was very pleasantly spent at games intermingled with music, recitations and feasting. The climax of the evening was a very dainty five course repast at which the guests seemed to forget that war conditions still existed. The dining hall was very prettily decorated in flags and bunting, the work of Mrs. R. Hall and Miss Rilla Nixon. Mrs.

O. Y. Clarke performed admirably as a waiter. The guests were Mesdames Hall and Campbell, Misses Lida Reid, Georgia Reid, Dora Robinson, Grace Brown, Lella Nevers, Rilla Nixon, Lena Nixon, Anna Murdock, Reta Murdock, Mattie MacCollum, Edna Shaw, Ruby Phillips, Mildred Jewett, Messrs R. Hall, W. Anderson, C. D. Dickson, A. S. White, B. O. Randolph, A. Campbell, D. Clarke, O. Y. Clarke and N. J. Peters. At a late hour the party broke up after singing a few songs. Everyone had a splendid time which was especially mentioned by the out of town guests.

The Standard's attack upon the Minister of Health, based on the allegation that the New Brunswick Board of Education has refused to pay teachers for time lost while the schools were closed by provincial order, is a trifle weak for three reasons. (1) Dr. Roberts did not cause the plague of influenza. (2) He has nothing to do with the Board of Education. (3) The Board of Education has not refused to pay the provincial grant to teachers who could not teach while the schools were closed by the provincial health department. The case well illustrates Standard methods.
