London, Jan. 18.—Another day polling shows the Conservatives still behind in the number of gains consider ered necessary to their victory. They, however, continue to reduce Liberal najorities and representation. Their gains today were 14 and the Liberais with the administration in any case. However, as estimated the Unionists would need thirty victories, they falling short of the needed votes in the House. Yesterday's returns, however are very meagre as yet, as several county seats, including the six Sussex seats were polled, but the results are not yet known. Of course it is in the country the Conservatives are looking for their only chance now, as the undoubted influence of the landed influences of the thrown in favor of the Unionists, while the tariff favor of the Unionists, while the tariff reformers promise of protection for he agricultural interests will probably influence the vote largely. The total known Unionist gains after three tays is 51, which however days is 51, which however, is discounted by 11 seats captured by the Laberals and 2 Laborite triumphy. Two of the Liberal triumphs are offset by the fact that the losers were friends and in all cases Laborites. The total returns are 120 Unionists, 98 Liberals ,20 Laborites and 28 Nationalists a coalition majority of 26. Unionists Had Best of It. The Unionists had decidedly the petter of the elections held today.

today's polling, however, will be in-creased by acclamation from insh, Welsh, and other seats and also not appear in the appended list but pointment which followed Monday's House of Commons, the bill would be Winnipeg Man Suicides at Montreal which are expected from belated reports of returning officers.
