

Mr. McKellar Vindicated.

The Mail and all the smaller Ministerial papers have been employing their spare time and space for the last few weeks, in trying to fasten serious charges of fraud and dishonesty on the Hon. Mr. McKellar in connection with the Elgin Association.

But if Mr. McKellar has preferred to keep a wise silence in reference to these attacks, another gentleman has come forward to vindicate his public and private character, and to the satisfaction of every man, who believes a plain, straightforward and truthful statement.

What, our readers will ask, was Mr. McKellar's share in the transaction? Simply this, that when in London he assisted Mr. King in his arrangements, but he never controlled, used or expended a single cent of the $8000 raised; moreover, Mr. King states in his letter that this money due the English gentlemen who loaned their provision to the working of the mills, the agents employed to manage them proved faithless, the scheme failed, and in addition Mr. King last $15000 of his own money.

The Hon. Mr. Blake will arrive in Toronto in the beginning of next week. We are glad to learn that he is entirely restored to health.

The Ontario Government intend to submit a Bill to Parliament at its approaching session, granting power to establish an Inebriate Asylum in the vicinity of the City of Hamilton.

At a meeting held in Toronto on Monday night, it was resolved that a grand Reform banquet be held in Toronto in the early part of November, to celebrate the recent victories in Ontario.

The St. Catharines' Times says that the Government have given notice that they intend to receive tenders for work on the new Canal in December next.
